- The young fellows of our town, among whom we noticed S. H. Haslet, Isane Hyde and A. H. Partridge, somewhow got mixed on dates, and thought last night was the Fourth of July. Mr. Haslet grasped his fife, Harvey Foreman took a firm hold of the snare drum, and Frank Mabie staggered under the weight of the big bass drum. He also furnished guns from Einstein's armory. Then the crowd was formed in line, the band struck up, Capt. Tom. Potter gave the command "march"! and the trouble commenced. The first halt was made at the Lawrence House the band- giving Lawrence a first class screnade. Then the line of march was taken up for the Central, where Capt. Flancagan, of Fagundus, was called upon, and delivered a short speech which was received with cheers by the army. Sam. Varner suffered the next invasion, which he received with characteristic philosophy. The line was then marched to the armory, where Capt. Flannagan introduced Hon. J. B. Agnew, who made a few remarks and was given three cheers, when the Tiouesta Terribles broke ranks and hied away to their tents. The next difficulty of this kind will probably take place on the 2d, 3d or 5th of July.

-Some of our citizens have contracted a habit which is "more honored in the breach than in the observance," to-wit: They borrow implements, tools, or whatever else they may want without asking the owner for his permission, or even telling him they are going to take it; the consequence is, that when a man goes after his wheelbarrow, or his corn-plow, or his johnboat, where he has left them, he doesn't find them, and in some instances spends hours of valuable time hunting them up. Now if you want to borrow from your neighbor, ask him for the article, and bring it back promptly when you are through with it. We have heard a good deal of loud talk on this subject recently, hence we

The outcome is, the acceptance of work at exactly the rates that were offered months ago. Thus all the bad blood, suffering of families, debt and the privations it must occasion in the future were productive of no results beneficial to the miners. LONE ROCK, RICHLAND Co., Wis., June 18, 1875. ED. REPUBLICAN:-

We have been blessed of late with large quantaties of rain, consequently the ground is very wet. A wind storm visited this vicinity on the 2d inst., doing some damage. Crops look well here, yet the prospect is, that the chinch bugs will injure our wheat, as they have put in an appearance in large quantigrain fields with marked results.

An idea has become prevalent in the Eastern States that there is no timber in the West, yet this is a mistake. We have as nice bodies of timber here as can be found anywhere, such as white, black and burr oak, ash, hickory, cottonwood, hackberry, walnut, etc. I've seen larger timber in this State than I ever saw in Pa.

Water is plenty and, on the prairies, good water can be found by digging not over twenty feet, and we have a process of sinking water tubes by driving, that plenty of water can be procured in one-half day's labor.

Work has again commenced on the Wisconsin and Fox River Improvement. Petitions were sent to Congress from Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri and Wisconsin, last winter concerning a canal from Prairie du Chien to Portage, a distance of 115 miles, as the Government had failed to make the Wisconsin River navigable after three year's labor. One-half million dollars were appropriated last winter to carry on the work, and the Department put the matter in the hands of engineers, but in place of beginning the canal, wing dams, as heretofore, appear to be the order of affairs, and every rise battle of Bunker Hill, was observed in the river sweeps the wing dams in Boston on Thursday last, and as away. Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the na-tive herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of Califor-nia, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked. "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove TERS?
