

pages of the diary with a tender touch. "Dear shabby old thing!" she murmured. "Yet it brought us together!" "And to think how I searched for you in all the shops of the city!" "Shops? Oh, I didn't go to the shop, you know. Aunt Marion died the very week after I wrote that, and left me two hundred dollars because I was named for her. I felt so rich as to be able to take Alice to the sea shore. How little we grew when you came, and we grew to friends, that all that time you had my old diary in your pocket!" "And how little I guessed that the 'Flossy' I had hunted for and dreamed about was close at hand! You'll make me Tom's pudding, some day, won't you although 'apples are expensive?'" Marion raised the little green book to her lips and kissed it. Then she kissed John.

Apropos of the case of Carruth and Shute, who are now successfully carrying bullets in their brains, the Irwin-ton (Ga.) Southerner relates the following parallel experience: In the battle of Hatcher's Run in 1864, Green Pittman, of Wilkinson county, received a wound in the face, the ball entering the upper portion of the nose on the left side. The wound was probed and dressed by an army surgeon, and finally healed up, and although the surgeon stated that the ball was still in the head, Mr. Pittman had almost forgotten it, never having experienced the least pain or inconvenience from it. In 1869, one morning in February, five years after receiving the wound, as Mr. Pittman was making his toilet to attend church, it fell out into his mouth. Mr. Pittman was combing his hair at the time, standing perfectly erect and came near swallowing the ball after it fell into his mouth. Strange to say, no hemorrhage followed its exit, nor was there any pain felt. The ball weighed one ounce and two pennyweights. It is now in possession of Mr. Pittman, who was a member of the 3d Georgia Regiment during the late war.

The Boston Herald tells this: The day following the Centennial festivities, the following incident occurred in a South End saloon: A friend had invited one of the South Carolina soldiers into the saloon to put another turf on the buried hatchet. While standing at the bar a stranger came in. The Carolinian suddenly dropped his glass and closely eyed the stranger. His gaze was so steady and peculiar that his friend began to be alarmed and to fear that the hatchet was about to be dug up again. Directly the Carolinian asked the stranger if he knew him. There was no recognition, whereupon the Carolinian asked him if he was not in the late war. "Yes," was the reply. "And you were once stationed at such a place?" "Yes." "And took part in such a skirmish?" "Yes." "Well, I thought so," replied the Carolinian, and raising his hat showed a large scar on his forehead, saying, "There's your saber mark, my boy; come up and take a drink."

At a school examination in Connecticut the other day a girl of sixteen stepped forward and began to read her "composition." It was headed "The Beecher Trial," and she was going on to say: "Adam and Eve partook of the forbidden fruit—" when the lady principal rushed forward and led the astonished pupil to a seat, thus depriving the world of what, no doubt, would have been a valuable addition to the scandal.

It's all very well for a party of eminent citizens to go down to Lyme to see a seine drawn for shad, but when they come back and give you a big fish and you have it nicely cooked and then you find it is stuffed full of sinkers and old iron, and pieces of flannel drawers and old leather and things—why, then, you begin to think that if the world isn't hollow, it's whittled out pretty thin.

Under the ruins of the old castle of King Dagobert the Abbe Denis found a hen's nest full of eggs. They had been hidden there 1,200 years, hidden from air and light and the changes of temperature, and the hen herself had, perhaps, barely escaped when the falling walls sealed her eggs hermetically for future times. Abbe Denis put the eggs under a hen, and they were hatched.

It is astonishing to see how the Southern people are pitching into General Sherman, nowadays. Hardly a newspaper that doesn't contain some little attack on him, his military career, recalled by his memoirs, and what the Southerners are pleased to call his hatred for them being the special subjects of remark.

That was a sharp reply of Mrs. Beecher, that other day, when she answered some questions as to how she had managed to endure all the anxieties and fatigues of the trial, in this way: "To be mad all through is a good tonic." Beecher himself couldn't have improved on that.

Quills are things that are sometimes taken from the pinions of one goose to spread the opinions of another.

No man can become thoroughly acquainted with his family history without rousing for office.

The rival railroads will soon be issuing chronos.

Immense Reduction to Suit the Times!!

At the Wholesale and Retail Piano and Organ Emporium of

S. HAMILTON & CO., 77 5TH AVE., PITTSBURGH, PA

OUR MOTTO IS AND HAS BEEN

QUICK SALES AND SMALL PROFITS.

Our business is exclusively PIANOS and ORGANS, which enables us to give our whole time and attention to this exclusive trade. Thus where other dealers sell from five to ten instruments a week, our sales very often exceed these numbers in a single day, so that we can better afford to sell at 10 per cent. profit on cost, than they can at 20 and 25 per cent.

Every Instrument we sell is as good as an agent for us, as they invariably introduce us favorably to all who see them. We have sold and in use in and about Pittsburgh alone. They are not some new Organ, the growth of a few months, but are old reliable makes, that are constantly adding every meritorious improvement. The really Grand Simmons & Clough's Combination Organs have been manufactured for Twenty-five years, while the Celebrated Taylor & Farley Celestes have been manufactured over Twenty years. And now for the purpose of introducing them more thoroughly throughout all the country towns of the State, we have made new and very heavy contracts for large numbers of them, which we propose to sell on their merits, and without the assistance of AGENTS OR MIDDLE MEN, giving the purchaser the benefit of commissions and wholesale discounts, we are thus enabled to offer these Organs at the following prices, at which we shall sell for a short time.

2,000 OF THESE ORGANS

CABINET CASES.
Double Reed, 4 Stop Organs, Regular Price, $145.00 at $ 85.00

THE BRADBURY & DECKER PIANOS
WILL BE SOLD AT THE SAME RATES OF DISCOUNT.

The above are strictly cash prices, but if desired by the purchaser, either quarterly or semi-annual payments will be taken at an advance of 10 per cent. per annum on the above prices. Persons ordering by letter can depend on the most careful selection being made. If the cash price be sent with the order, the instrument will be shipped by freight, if not accompanied with the cash, the Organ will be shipped by Express, C. O. D. CLOTHING!

Best Cloths! Best Make! Best Fits!

The question in these hard times is not only "What shall we do for grub to eat?" but

"WHEREWITHAL SHALL WE BE CLOTHED?"

It is a notorious fact that in most towns and cities round about us, clothing made to order is not sold in accordance to the depreciation of other necessaries of life. There is, however, an honorable exception to this rule in the person of

N. WISE, Merchant Tailor, TIDIOUTE, PA.

Who makes clothing of the very best kind, his guaranteed, from

25 to 30 Per Cent. Below
the prices of other dealers in this part of the country.

WHY IS THIS THUS?

Because 1st, Mr. Wise pays no large figures for rent, as he owns the building he occupies. 2d, he doesn't pay a cutter $250 to $300 a year, but does his own cutting, and is not excelled in this line in Western Pennsylvania. 3d, he buys cloths for cash, thus getting a reduction on ordinary rates. 4th he sells for cash, and thus has no bad debts to make up.

The fare is 50c. from this place to Tidioute, and at the present time, you can go up in the morning and back at 3:30, having three hours in Tidioute to select your goods and leave your orders. Give him a trial, and you will not only save money, but will get perfect fits, and any style or quality of cloth you want.

Remember the name and place.

WATERS' NEW SCALE PIANOS.
are great power and a fine singing tone. They are the best ever made, and are sold at a very low price.

Testimonials of Waters' Pianos and Organs.
"Waters' Concerto Parlor Organ possesses a beautiful and peculiarly soft tone. The Concerto Parlor Organ, without doubt, the best ever placed in any organ. It is produced by an extra set of reeds, peculiarly voiced, from which the effect is most charming, and its imitation of the human voice is superb. For sweetness of tone and orchestral effects it has no equal."
—N. Y. Times.

"The Concerto Parlor Organ" is something entirely new; it is a beautiful parlor ornament, possesses a sweet and powerful tone is a most commendable invention and holds a high place in public favor."
—N. Y. Evening Post.

An ORCHESTRA IN THE PARLOR.—The orchestral organ is the name of a new reed organ recently announced by Horace Waters & Son. The instrument takes this name from its recently invented orchestral step. The coloring of this is peculiar, producing the effect of a full swell contralto voice. Its finest effect is produced when the stops are drawn, so that an orchestral effect is given. The case is unique and makes a handsome article of furniture."
—N. Y. Sun.

The Waters Pianos are known as among the very best. We are enabled to speak of these instruments with confidence, from personal knowledge. —N. Y. Ensignist, 2-ly
