A new and amusing cure for love has lately been found effective in a fashionable Parisian faubourg. The son of a wealthy nobleman became enamored of his father's conciorge, (door porter), and determined to marry. The aristocratic papa opposed, but moved at last by the despair of his son, gave his consent, with the proviso that the smitten youth should go to sea for twelve months before the marriage. Shortly after his departure, the father, who had previously observed an embonpoint in the young intended, took her under his especial charge, gave her the most nourishing and succulent food and wines, forbade her to take exercise as unbecoming in his future daughter, and in fact, stallfed her to such an extent that when the engaged swain returned from his year's voyage, he was horrified to find, instead of the slender, elegant girl he left, an immensely fat woman, as big as two Albions rolled into one. course the ruse was successful, and the been pensioned off.

Macready was one of those stage geniuses who regarded it as a special mark of genius to so thoroughly "iden-tify himself with his part" as to lose his own identity, and not only tear a passion to tatters, but the clothes of those who were the victims of his mimic rage. But he found his match once in an actor who played Claudius to "Macready's Virginius." The first night Macready tore the actor's ballet shirt into shreds. The second night the actor filled his shirt with pins, and then calmly let the power of genius manifest itself. Macready began as usual to lose his identity, but about the time a dozen pins had penetrated his cuticle as Virginius he began to rage in real carnest as Macready, and those who heard him, say his remarks were totally unlike those which Knowles put into the mouth of Vir-ginius. He never lost his identity with that actor again.

In one week of last month a firm near New York received orders for 445 miles of pencils. To make these only 83,000 feet of cedar lumber are required, and after they are made they will load six freight cars. This im-mense consumption of lead pencils is doubtless caused by the attempts of women to sharpen them with a pair of scissors or a dull case-knife.

"What are you after, my dear?" said a grandmother to a little boy who was sliding along a room and casting furtive glances at a gentleman who was paying a visit. "I am trying, grandma, to steal papa's hat out of the room without letting the gentle-man see it, he wants him to think he's out.

There is a village in New Hampshire which has produced twenty-six editors, and it was in allosion to this circumstance that a pious old deacon there remarked: "Yes, there are twen ty-six on 'em, but as they've all left town, I reckon the Lord won't lay it ADMISSION TICKETS, up agin us."

The fallacy of the statement that animals prefer green food was abund-antly shown at Chicago when a hungry horse bit a large section out of the Panama bat of a succulent young man who was sitting on the taffrail of a street car and did not barm a bair of the wearers' head.

Go to strangers for charity, to acquaintances for advice, and to relatives for nothing-and you will have a supply. Every man has his weak side, and it is very often the case that this weak side is the best part of the man.

When a man goes to a quilting par-ty about tea time, and sits down on a ball of wicking with a darning nee-dle in it, he will think of more things connected with darning in a minute than he can mention in two hours.

An exchange says "the Sandwich Islanders believe that Beelzebub walks the earth in the form of a woman." And now and then you find a man in this country who believes so too, and that he has married the woman.

A young manufacturer of our acquaintance is making money fast on this motto, parodied from "Poor Richard:" "Early to bed, and early to rise; never get tight and advertise."

"I would advise you to put your head into a dye tub, it's rather red," said a joker to a sandy haired girl. "I would advise you to put yours into an oven, it is rather soft," said Nancy.

"This is not gain," said a witty Worcester girl who found a valuable silk hair net hanging to the fringe of her shawl upon her return home from an evening lecture.

Mrs. Keen, of Springfield, declined to allow her daughters to take part in a spelling match because she heard somebody say that knotty words would be given out.

When freedom from her mountain height unfurled her standard to the air, her skirts, pinned back so very tight, made her appear exceeding spare.

They tried to set up the scientific name of potato bug in Delaware, the other day, and it pied the whole form.

OUR MOTTO IS AND HAS BEEN

QUICK SALES AND SMALL PROFITS.

Our business is exclusively PIANOS and ORGANS, which enables us to give our whole time and attention to this exclusive trade. Thus where other dealers sell from five to ten instruments a week, our sales very often exceed these numbers in a single day, so that we can better afford to sell at 10 per cent, profit on cost, than they can at 20 and 25 per cent.

Every Instrument we sell is as good as an agent for us, as they invariably introduce us favorably to all who see them. We have sold and in use in and about Pittsburgh alone. They are not some new Organ, the growth of a few months, but are old reliable makes, that are constantly adding every meritorious improvement. The really Grand Simmons & Clough's Combination Organs have been manufactured for Twenty-five years, while the Celebrated Taylor & Farley Celestes Organs have been manufactured over Twenty years. And now for the purpose of introducing them more thoroughly throughout all the country towns of the State, we have made new and very heavy contracts for large numbers of them, which we propose to sell on their merits, and without the sssistance of AGENTS OR MIDDLE MEN, giving the purchaser the benefit of commissions and wholesale discounts, we are thus enabled to offer these Organs at the following prices, at which we shall sell for a short time.

AN ORCHESTRA IN THE PARIOS.—The orchestral organ is the name of a new reed organ recently announced by Herace Waters & Son. The instrument takes this name from its recently invented orchestral step. The voicing of this is peculiar, producing the effect of a full sweet contrality voice. Its finest effect is produced when the stops are drawn, so that an orchestral effect is given, The case is unique and makes a handsome article of formiture."—N. Y. Suz.

"Waters' Concerto Parlor Organ possesses a beautiful and peculiarly soft tone. The Concerto Step is, without doubt, the best ever placed in any organ.
