

TO YOUNG MEN.

If he believes in "measures, not men," he will embark in the tailoring business.

If the one great object of his life is to make money, he should get a position in the United States Mint.

If he is a punctual sort of a chap, and anxious to be "on time," he should put his hands to watchmaking.

If he believes in the chief end of man to have his business largely "felt," why of course he will become a hatter.

If he wants to "get at the root of a thing," he will become a dentist—although if he does he will often be found "looking down in the mouth."

If a man is a bungler at his best, he should become a physician—and then he will have none of his work thrown upon his hands. It is generally buried out of sight, you know.

Should he incline into high living, but prefer plain board, then the carpenter trade will suit him. He can plane board enough at that.

If he is needy and well-bred, he will be right at home as a baker. He shouldn't become a cigar maker. All his work will end in smoke.

The young man who enjoys plenty of company, and who is ready to scrape acquaintances, will find the barber business a congenial pursuit.

The quickest way for him to ascend the top round of his call, is to become a hod-carrier.

A very "grave" young man might flourish as an undertaker.

Don't learn chair making, for no matter how well you please your customers, they will sooner or later get down on your work.

And don't become an umbrella maker for their business is "used up."

If he would have his work touch the heads of the nation, we know of no way he could sooner accomplish such an object than to make combs.

The young man who would have the fruits of his labor brought before the eyes of the people, will become an optician. The work being easily seen through, cannot be difficult to learn.

A man always makes a scent in the perfume business.

If a young man is a paragon of honor, truthfulness, sobriety, and never sworn a profane word, and has twenty thousand dollars that he has no use for—then he should immediately start a newspaper.

A professor asking his class: "What is an aurora?" A student scratching his head, replied: "Well, professor, I did know, but I have forgotten."

"Well, that is sad, very sad," rejoined the professor; "the only man in the world that ever knew has forgotten it."

A pleasant looking gentleman stepped out on the platform, and, inhaling the fresh air, enthusiastically observed to the brakeman, "Isn't this invigorating?" "No, sir; it is Huntington," said the conscientious employee. The pleasant-looking gentleman retired.

"Will you please insert this obituary notice?" asked an old gentleman of a country editor. "I make bold to ask it because I know the deceased had a great many friends about here who'd be glad to hear of his death."

"You say," said a judge to a witness, "that the plaintiff resorted to an ingenious use of circumstantial evidence; state just exactly what you mean by that?" "Well," said the witness, "my exact meaning is that he lied."

"Brethrin," said a good Baptist in Indiana, while giving his experience, "I've been a tryin' this nigh onto forty years to serve the Lord and get rich, both at once; and I tell yer all I find it's mighty hard sled ding."

"Pa, I guess our man Ralph is a good Christian." "How so, my boy?" "Why, pa, I read in the Bible that the wicked shall not live out half his days; and Ralph says he has lived out ever since he was a little boy."

Footie once asked a man without a sense of tune in him, "Why are you forever humming that tune?" Because it haunts me," was the reply. "No wonder," answered Footie; "you are forever murdering it."

"Is he anything, anyhow?" said one young lady to another, as they promenaded Larmie street, and discussed a nice young man. "Oh, yes," replied the other, "he's something; he is an awful big fool."

Hard, horny hands embrowned by the sun raged by labor, are more honorable than white ones that never reached out to help a fellow creature, or added a dollar to the world's wealth.

"Och," says a love-sick Hibernian, "what a recreation it is to be dying in love! It sets the heart aching so delicately, there's no taking a wink of sleep from the pleasure of the pain!"

A drunken Dutchman by the name of Cain, staggering through the streets one day, was asked if he was the man that slew his brother. "No," said he; "I was the one that got 'sloved."

Mrs. Smith, of Kansas, said she'd like like to see a court which could make her reply to any question she didn't want to, and she went to jail for fourteen days rather than answer.

A merchant who has a class in Sunday school asked, "What is solitude?" and was visibly disturbed when a miserable boy answered: "The store that don't advertise."

OUR MOTTO IS AND HAS BEEN QUICK SALES AND SMALL PROFITS.

Our business is exclusively PIANOS and ORGANS, which enables us to give our whole time and attention to this exclusive trade. Thus where other dealers, oh from five to ten instruments a week, our sales vary often exceed those numbers in a single day, so that we can better afford to sell at 10 per cent profit on cost, than they can at 20 and 25 per cent.

Every instrument we sell is as good as an agent for us, as they invariably introduce us favorably to all who see them. We have sold and in use in and about Pittsburgh alone. They are not some new Organ, the growth of a few months, but are old reliable makes, that are constantly adding every meritorious improvement. The really Grand Simmonds & Church's Combination Organs have been manufactured for Twenty-five years, and now for the purpose of introducing them more thoroughly throughout all the sunny lanes of the State, we have made new and very heavy contracts for large numbers of them, which we propose to sell on their merits, and without the assistance of AGENTS OR MIDDLE MEN, giving the purchaser the benefit of commissions and wholesale discounts. We are thus enabled to offer these Organs at the following prices, at which we shall sell, a short time.

2,000 OF THESE ORGANS

CLOTHING!

Best Cloth? Best Make? Best Fits!

The question in these hard times is not only "What shall we do for grub to eat?" but

"WHERE'WETHAL SHALL WE BE CLOTHED?"

It is a notorious fact that in most towns and cities round about us, clothing made to order is not sold in accordance to the appreciation of other necessities of life. There is, however, an honorable exception to this rule in the person of

N. WISE, Merchant Tailor, TIDIOUFE, PA.

Who makes clothing at the very best kind, its guaranteed, from 25 to 30 Per Cent. Below the prices of other dealers in this part of the country.

WHY IS THIS THUS? Because 1st, Mr. Wise pays no large figures for rent, as he owns the building he occupies. 2d, he doesn't pay a cutter $2.00 to $3.00 a year, but does his own cutting, and is not exalted in this line in Western Pennsylvania. 3d, he buys cloth for cash, thus getting a reduction of ordinary rates. 4th, he sells for cash, and thus has no bad debts to make up.

The fact is, from this place to Tidoufe, and at the present time, you can get up in the morning and look at 300, having three hours in Tidoufe to select your goods and leave your orders. Give him a trial, and you will not only save money, but will get perfect fits, and my style or quality of cloth you want.

Remember the name and place.

N. WISE, Tidoufe, Pa.

WATERS' CONCERTO and ORCHESTRAL ORGANS. The most beautiful style - perfect in tone.

WATERS' NEW SCAL PIANOS. The great power of a fine singing tone. The Concerto and Organ. The best ever placed in any organ. It is produced by an extra set of reeds, peculiarly voiced, from which the organ is produced charming and its initial in the human voice is superb. For sweetness of tone and orchestral effects it has no equal. N. Y. Times.

THE CONCERTO PARLOR ORGAN is something entirely new; it is a beautiful parlor instrument, possesses a sweet and powerful tone, is a most economical division and holds a high place in public favor. - N. Y. Evening Post.

AN ORCHESTRA IN THE PARLOR. The orchestral organ is the name of a new kind organ recently announced by George Waters & Son. The instrument takes this name from its recently invented orchestral stop, the voicing of it is peculiar, producing the effect of a full, sweet, confident voice. Its finest effect is produced when the stops are drawn, so that an orchestral effect is given. The essential quality makes a handsome article of furniture. - N. Y. Sun.

The Waters' Pianos are known as among the very best. We are enabled to speak of these instruments with confidence, from personal knowledge. - N. Y. Evangelist. 2-14
