Report of Tionesta Union School LONE ROCK, RICHLAND Co., Wis., Nov. 1, 1875.

ED. REPUBLICAN: Hoping you will not think your correspondent of the Badger State tardy, I once more drop a few lines to the REPUBLICAN.

Times are medium here, as far as business is concerned, but political excitement runs high, and before this reaches you we will have fought a political battle at the ballot-box. The reform party of this State is putting forth every effort to gain the day, but the prospect is that Wisconsin will follow in the footsteps of her sister States, Iowa, Ohio, and others. The Republicans of this State had become dilitory and failed to attend the elections of the last three years, but now we will attend to the duties that are required of us.

Old Winter is not far distant; we have already had a small winter and at present the weather is quite cool. The farmers are very backward with their work; the corn crop is not, as yet, half gathered, and it will require at least four weeks more to crib the whole crop.

Lone Rock has of late become a Literary town, we having at length established a local newspaper, celled the Lone Rock Pilot, devoted to the Markets are good at present : Wheat, winter; $1.05 per bushel; wheat, spring, 90 cts per bushel; Oats 25 ets; Potatoes 20 ets, and corn 30 ets per bushel.

Grading on the Pine River Valley Railroad is progressing slowly on account of not having the necessary in this paper last week, the sidewalks help to carry on the work, Good wages are being offered for men and who have not attended to their own teams to complete the southern twenty miles of the Road before winter comes

Hunters are making it interesting for the game here. Deer are quite plenty and numbers have been killed. Bears are also to be found this fall more plentiful than usual. Our corn fields are visited by wild geese at this season of the year in large numbers; they remain until cold weather drives them south. Prairie chickens are plenty and it is fine sport hunting them; they are generally taken on the wing. Occasionally I hear the Java Coffee wolves howling as they make a raid on some farmer's sheep; consequently sheep have to be housed for protection from the Gray and Prairie wolf, Lynx, &c.
