-Dr. Blaine has moved his office and residence to the house formerly occupied by the late Dr. Winans. His patients will henceforth find him at

-Last week some of the boys were skating "on the margin of the river, but their enjoyment was short-lived, for mild weather came, and the ice disappeared.

-J. M. McKay has again assumed control of the Post Office, and has removed the same into Robinson & Bonner's store building. D. F. Robinson has been sworn in as Deputy.

-A good crossing should be put in between the Presbyterian Church and the Central House, if the borough council won't do it, perhaps it would be well for the trustees of the church to take some steps ic this matter.

-A new time table went into effect on the O. C. & A. R. Ry., and the A. V. R. R. on Monday last. The time of trains at this station will be found James and Robert Haslet, Jas. Pease. at the head of the first local column. Perry Roberts, Floyd Proper, Harlem The regular time table will be changed next week.

-The President's Message having only been published this morning in the daily papers, it is impossible for us to give even a synopsis of it in this issue. Perhaps we will give our read-Avs a few extracts next week. The ,message is longer than usual.

-A terrible story was affoat in town on Monday, to the effect that one Chas. Albaugh had been kitled and partly eaten by a bear, on Queen's on Saturday last. Yesterday morning, a gentleman who had taken pains to ascertain the facts in the case, assured us that there was nothing of it whatever. Glad of it.

-A young man named Henry Manross, of President, received a bad flesh wound while working on the Tom's when he slipped, and his left arm caught on the edger, resulting in a strip of flesh about two inches in width, being torn from just below the bone. His wound was promptly where he is now doing well.

J. WEAVER & CO.

In the Forest Press of the 27th ult., appears a communication from J. Weaver & Co., Advertising Agents, Pittsburgh, Pa., characterizing our charges against their firm as "lying and slanderous," and a "cowardly attack" on their reputation(?) ending no with an invitation to sue, if we have "the documents" we claim to have, and not "trumped up" charges.

The reasons we do not at present sue, are these. In all human probability we would have to make at least two trips to Pittsburgh. The fare would amount to about $20. Suppose we pay a lawyer $10 to prosecute our claim. That would leave us $8 for hotel bills, &c., and where would our profits come in? You understand what you are saying when you tell us to sue, and we understand what we are doing when we make you fair proposition, with no loophole to creep out Now Messrs. Weaver & Co., we have a proposition to make to you, and if you want to sustain that blessed "reputation" of yours, you will close in with our offer at once, and not perjure yourselves more by writing false communications to papers in this section. Our proposition is this: We will submit the "documents" to three publishers, who are at present doing business for you, and if we do not prove, by your own letters that you are in the wrong, and have endeavored to swindle us, and that our bill is just, we will pay the expenses of the arbitrators, your traveling expenses, and give you a receipt in full. If, on the contrary, we prove the justness of our bill and accusations, you shall pay the bill, the expenses of the arbitrators, H. Whittaker, Esq, of the Venango Esq., of the Emlenton Times. We will meet you at Kittaning, and there present our case to the arbitrators. Before the meeting, however, you will deposit in the First National Bank of Kittaning $100, in favor of the arbitrators, to be paid out by them for expenses, our bill, &c., should their decision be against you. We will deposit $75 under the same conditions.

Now, Messrs. Weaver & Co., put up, or shut up. Meet this proposition like men, or go forth to the puband swindlers.
