WEDNESDAY MORNING, JAN. 19, 1876.

[Washington dispatch to N. Y. Tribune.] Washburne and the Presidency.

The movement to make Mr. Washburne, our Minister to France, the nominee of the next Republican Naseems to be actively under way; and from recent developments it would ap-pear that the administration, in the event of the failure of the third-term scheme, has him as its first choice. A correspondence has been going on lately between Mr. Washburne and a prominent leader in the Republican ranks, who was a member of Congress contemporarily with Mr. Washburne. Mr. Washburne writes as follows to his friend:

PARIS, Nov. 8th, 1875. NY DEAR --- :-- I have duly received your letter of the 13th ultimo, and need not say how deeply I am touched by its kind and generous spirit. I must say that I have a lingering affection for all those brave men (and you were the chiefest among them) with whom I was associated, who fought that magnificent anti-Le-compton fight. Those were times which drew all loyal men together in a common sympathy, and which nerv-ed the country up to the level of that tremendous epoch which preceded the robellion. I duly received the country rebellion. I duly received the copy of the newspaper to which you refer, and I feel grateful for the kind feeling which dictated the article; but I can only repeat what I have said to others in that connection, if not to you. I am not vain enough to suppose that my name can ever figure seriously in that direction. No party would ever undertake to carry a candidate with such old-fashioned notions as I have, and whose record is loaded down in opposition to all the great interests that control political conventions. While I receive many letters of the same kind town. same kind tone as yours, I am so impressed with what I have here written, that I decline all action in the way of candidature; and; in the end, when the Convention comes off and my name is never mentioned, you and other friends will say that I have been wise. And now, my dear good friend, putting aside all idea of my becoming a candidate for the Presidency under any circumstances, and simply regarding me as your old associate and friend, believe that I shall always be, de, de, E. B. WASHBURNE.

-In the lower House a motion was made to suspend the rules of Congress, on Monday, for the purpose of offering a resolution, declaring it unwise and inexpedient, at this time, that a specific and arbitrary period should be prescribed by law at which the legal tender notes of the United States should be paid in coin, by the Secretary of the Treasury, and that therefore the act entitled "An act to provide for the resumption of specie pay ment," approved January, 14th, 1875, ought to be repealed, and instructing the Committee on Banking and Curncy at as early a period as ble to report to the House a bill for cratic brethren, would like to back that purpose. The rules were not sus. out of the whole business if he could. that purpose. The rules were not suspended; yeas 112, nays 158. Jenks. of this district voted in the affirmative.

-The aspirants in the Democratic party for the Presidency are coming to the front and presenting their best side to a discriminating public. Kerr presents himself as the only true olive branch yet held out by the Democracy to those engaged in the late unpleasant controversy between the sections. Thurman was lost in the Ohio campaign and has not yet been found. Allen-surnamed the venerable-has been laid on the shelf. Hendricks has been overshadowed by Tilden of New York, and the last named aspirant comes from a State that has furnished too many defeated candidates durding the past fifteen years. Keer may be considered at present a trifle ahead in the race.

-At the fall election, Chadwick and Startwell, the two capidates for prothonotary, of M'Kean county, received a tie vote. In order to forego the expense of a new election, they compromised by agreeing that one should act as Prothonotrry and the other as duputy. After a time Start-well, the Republican canidate, learned that owing to irregularities several of Chadwick's votes would not stand a legal test, so he instituted a contest for the certificate of election, and the same was awarded him at the late term of Court .- Clairon Republican.

-The Louisville Courier-Journal in view of the constant blunders of its party, and lack of leaders in Congress, thinks the prospects of the Republican party very rosy for the Cen-

-The Amnesty bill was finally disposed of on Friday last, and the Democrats, who raised the issue and went into the fight sure of victory, feel rather queer at their defeat and the position in which they are placed. As the case stands now, the Democrats who made loud their protestations of their desire for amnesty, are shown really and specially to have had in mind the case of Davis, and without him they cared nothing for amnesty at all. They denied this at first, but the results show that their denials were conspicuously devoid of truth. The victory achieved by Blaine is really a victory over the old spirit of the rebellion.

-The New York Times speaking of the Congressman from this District, says: "Hop. Geo. A. Jenks, chairman of the committee on Pensions, is one of the young members of the Buildo Democratic side who is destined to make his mark during the present Trains ression. session. The position to which he has been appointed is one requiring a greater amount of ability than is generally conceded to a first-term member. The confidence of the Speaker in this case is well placed. Mr. Jenks enjoys the reputation of being the leading law-yer in his section of the State, is an energetic pains taking gentleman, and will in all respects meet the require-ments fully of the responsible com-mittee of which he is the able head."

-Virginia has "gone back" on the Centennial. The House of Delegates refused to appropriate $10,000 for Centennial expenses. This back-han-ded slap from the "Mother of Presidents" is not very gracious to say the least. Better treatment should have dents" come from the old lady, whose carlier-day glories will doubtless be so generously eulogized, amid the flow of cen-tennial cloquence.

-The story in Chicago to explain Mr. Morrison's deficiency as a speak-er, that he was shot through the lungs in one of the battles in Tennessee, is a sheer fabrication, and is denied by express authority. He was slightly wounded, but in a part of the body least likely to affect his power of speech, and he never sufferd disability from that cause after a few days .- N. Y. Sun.

-The New York Times wants an early nomination for the Presidency by the Republican party, May or June, and preferes New York or Saratoga as the place for holding it. Others think that Philadelphia should be the place, as it is the Centerial of the Content of the Con tenial year, and there will be inspira tion and fitness in meeting under the shadow of old Independence Hall.

-The eulogies pronounced over Andrew Johnson, in Congress, on Tuesday of last week, are printed in full in the Record. They are, in the main free from grandiloquent gush, and are just estimates of the character of the deceased, and sincere tributes to the memory of one who, with all his faults, was in many respects a remarkable man.

—Ben. Hill has been caught again. His speech, as "revised" for the Congressional Record, has been so changed that even its best friends do not recognize it. Benjamin sees his mistake now, and, like all his Demonot recognize it. Benjamin sees his mistake now, and, like all his Demo-

Scribners' Monthly for 1876

The publishers invite attention to the following list of some of the attractive articles secured for Scribners' Monthly, for the coming year. In the field of fiction, besides numerous novelettes and shorter stories, there will be TWO BEMARKABLE SERIAL STORIES, By AMERICAN WRITERS.

The first of these, now complere in our "GABRIEL CONEOX"
By BRET. HARTE,

Begins in the November number, and will run for twelve months. This is Mr. Harto's first extended work. The scenes and characters, which the author has chosen from his favorite field, California, are painted with characteristic vividness and power; and the work is without doubt the most graphic record of carly California life that has yet appeared.

We shall also begin in the January number.

PHILIP NOLAN'S FRIENDS,

Or Show Your Passports," By EDWARD EVERETT HALE. The scene of this story is laid in the Southwestern territory, now forming the States of Louisians and Texas, at the time of Aaron Burr's treasen. The characters livedin a section which was now American, now French and now Spanish, and this record of their adventurous lives makes a story of intense and unflagging interest throughout.

'A SECOND FARMER'S VACATION' By Col. GEO. E. WARING, Jr.

Col. Waring is now in Europe, visiting, in a row-boat ride of two hundred and fifty miles, one of the most fertile and interesting of the vine-growing valleys of Europe. This second series of papers promises to be even more interesting than those with which our readers are already familiar.

CENTENNIAL LETTERS.

Edited by John Vance Chener. A rare collection of Revolutionary Let-Tare concentration of Revolutionary Let-ters, mainly from storgs in the hands of the descendants of Col. Joseph Ward. They are full of interest, and will be read with a rare relish in connection with the Contennial celebration of the year.

Brilliantly Illustrated Articles on AMERICAN COLLEGES,

Written respectively by their friends, will appear during the year. The revived interest in college life makes these papers especially timely, and will secure for them unusual attention.

THE SUN.

DAILY AND WEEKLY FOR 1876. The approach of the Presidential elec-tion gives unusual importance to the events and developments of 1876. We shall endeavor to describe them fully, faithfully, and fearlessly.

THE WEEK LY SUN has now attained a circulation of over cichts thousand a circulation of over eighty thousand copies, its readers are found in every State and Territory, and its quality is well known to the public. We shall not only endeavor to keep it fully up to the old standard, but to improve and add to its variety and power.

and power.

THE WEEKLY SUN will continue to be a thorough newspaper. All the news of the day will be found in it, condensed when unimportant, at full length when of motionit, and always, we trust, treated in a clear, interesting and instructive manner.

It is our aim to make the Weekly Sun

It is our aim to make the Weekly Sun the best family newspaper in the world. It will be full of entertaining and appropriate reading of every sort, but will print nothing to offend the most scrupulous and delicate taste. It will always contain the most interesting stories and romances of the day, carefully selected and legibly printed.

The Agricultr ral Department is a prominent feature in the Weekly Sun, and its articles will always be found fresh and useful to the farmer.

The number of men independent in politics is increasing, and the Weekly Sun is their paper especially. It belongs to no party, and obeys no dictation, contending for principle and for the election of the best men. It exposes the corruption that disgraces the country and threatens the overthrow of republican institutions. It has no fear of knaves, and seeks no favors from their supporters.

The markets of every kind and the fishions are recombally created.

The markets of every kind and the fish-

The markets of every kind and the fishlons are regularly reported.

The price of the Weckly Sun is one dollar a year for a sheet of eight pages, and fifty-six coldmus. As this barely pays the expenses of paper and printing, we are not able to make any discount or allow any premium to friends who may make special, efforts to extend its circulation.
Under the new law, which requires payment of postage in advance, one dollar a year, with twenty cents the cost of prepaid postage added, is the rate of subscription. It is not necessary to get up a club in order to have the Weckly Sun at this rate. Anyone who sends one dollar and twenty cents will get the paper, post-paid, for a year.
