

Republican State Convention.

HEADQUARTERS REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE, HARRISBURG, Feb. 1, 1876.

In pursuance of a resolution of the Republican State Committee, adopted at a meeting held in Harrisburg this day, a Republican State Convention, to be composed of delegates from each Senatorial and Representative district, is entitled in the Legislature, is hereby called to meet in the city of Harrisburg, at twelve o'clock, noon, on Wednesday, March 29, 1876, for the purpose of nominating an Electoral ticket and of electing Senatorial and Representative delegates to represent the State in the Republican National Convention, to be held at Cincinnati, on the 14th day of June, 1876.

By order of the Committee, HENRY M. HOYT, Chairman. A. WILSON NORRIS, Secretary.

NOTICE.

There will be a meeting of the Republican County Committee on Tuesday, Feb. 29, 1876, for the purpose of selecting Senatorial and Representative delegates to the Republican State Convention to be held at Harrisburg, March 29, 1876. A full attendance of the Committee is desired.

J. T. DALE, Chairman.

Our Washington Letter.

Special to the Republican.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 12, '76. The startling performances of those eccentric reformers, Wm. M. Tweed and his associate thieves, so abashed the brazen impudence of the democratic party, and so clearly revealed the punctilious sense of honor animating its head center, Tammany, in handling public funds, that for some years after its exposure the mouthings of its speakers, relative to reform, were cautiously indulged in because of the contemptuous reception that awaited all such hypocritical pretensions from that source; but the seeming change of political allegiance, indicated by the "tidal wave" of 1874, revived that almost worship party, and its press and orators took up the refrain where it was so frequently laid down by the "Boss" and his abettors. A recapitulation of what the majority in the House have accomplished, and attempted to accomplish, will not weary the mind by its length, and will make manifest their diligence during the ten weeks they have been together, in lifting the burdens of an oppressed people. Their mission was fitly inaugurated immediately after organizing by the summary dismissal of all subordinate officials that they could reach—competent but not democratic—and then replaced them in many instances by incompetent ex-rebels, thus giving practical force to their professed desire for a non-partisan civil service reform, and testifying in a very unique way their abhorrence for their late undisguised treason. Their next reform measure was universal amnesty for all traitors, including Jefferson Davis, late president C. S. A.

This was defeated because of Republican unity, they appearing willing to assume all the odium attached to a solid vote in the negative. These comprise all the strictly reformatory measures thus far attempted, unless we include the cutting down of a few salaries of West Point officers and the allowances of cadets there.

The contemplated abolition of the Bureau of Education is doubtless regarded by democrats as a reformatory movement, but the present attempt by that merry Andrew, S. S. Cox, is directly in the interests of his party and indirectly to advance the interests of his party's friends, the jesuits.

The list may appear rather meagre and out of proportion with their boasts of minds gagged by radical hate; but as they are now just laying their plans for making ready to begin to commence to show up the deplorable condition of the country, hanging, as it were, over the black abyss of Caesarism, eager in its infatuation to take the fatal plunge should they inadvertently relax their vigilance or turn away for one moment their restraining orbes, we ought not to be censorious or hypocritical relative to the methods they adopt to restrain us from committing harri kari.

The devotion of Mr. Blaine to principle, during the amnesty debate, in deliberately hazarding his own personal interest that the fruits of a long year should not be imperiled by his silence, is becoming more obvious to, and more heartily appreciated by, the loyal citizens of the republic as the incantations of the press and leaders of the rebel-democracy make more patent to all observers the malignant character of their sentiments toward the country's defenders and their dissatisfaction with the Union as it exists, freed from the paralyzing influences of human slavery. By drawing their fire as he did he knew full well that the misrepresentations and suggestions of rebel hate would be without scruple to affect his destruction; but undismayed he made his attack and by forcing them to prematurely reveal their sentiments of undying hate to all who opposed them in their pericidal attempts against the Government he averted, single-handed, a grave disaster to the country. Nothing more is needed at any time than a bare allusion to their atrocious treatment of disarmed patriots to convert their normal state of moroseness into one of frenzy.

That gentleman's speech, last Thursday, to a crowded House, showing the mischievous tendencies of inflation, and that our safety and prosperity was by the path of a gradual approximation to a specie basis until it shall have been reached, its methods being so adjusted as to harmonize with business interests, thus avoiding any violent disturbances in any direction, will command wide-spread attention and increase his prestige as a patriot and statesman.

The attention of all sincere workers in the temperance movement is invited to the sentiments evolved during the Senate discussions of the proposition to appoint a commission to investigate and report upon the liquor traffic. The deductions therefrom are to the effect that the democratic party will strenuously resist any interference with this evil which furnishes our penitentiaries, jails and insane asylums with nearly, if not quite, nine-tenths of their occupants, and the galleys with more than a majority of all its victims, not taking into account other moral and hygienic interests so unfavorably affected where the un-restrained traffic has full sway. Jeff Davis' recent letter is another nail driven into the coffin of democratic hope. Messrs. Tombs, Tucker, and Hill had well nigh completed that gloomy spectacle, but this manifesto of that mendacious old marplot was needed to finish the dismal structure.

Queen Victoria has opened Parliament. She failed to definitely say whether Beatrice was to be married or not; but her reticence on this point will not, it is believed, unfavorably influence the interests of the North American Republic.

The "sick man" lying dangerously ill at his headquarters on the Bosphorus is no better. In fact close observers aver that the Hippocratic aspect of his countenance precludes any hope of his convalescence. His emaciated body will hardly furnish a square meal for a Russian bear.

If Spanish reports can be relied upon Alonzo has sent the Knightly Don Carlos to grass. The only encouraging feature of this Spanish business is found in the fact that notwithstanding the vigorous protests from the Vatican, Alonzo has been obliged, by the force of public opinion in other quarters of the globe, to make some concessions to the spirit of religious intolerance, which has infected to some extent that bigoted people. There is no special change relative to Cuban affairs.

THE SUN.

DAILY AND WEEKLY FOR 1876.

The approach of the Presidential election gives unusual importance to the events and developments of 1876. We shall endeavor to describe them fully, faithfully, and fearlessly.

THE WEEKLY SUN has now attained a circulation of over eighty thousand copies. Its readers are found in every State and Territory, and its quality is well known to the public. We shall not only endeavor to keep it fully up to the old standard, but to improve and add to its variety and power.

THE WEEKLY SUN will continue to be a thorough newspaper. All the news of the day will be found in it, condensed when important, at full length when of moment, and always, we trust, treated in a clear, interesting and instructive manner.

It is our aim to make the Weekly Sun the best family newspaper in the world. It will be full of entertaining and appropriate reading of every sort, but will print nothing to offend the most scrupulous and delicate taste. It will always contain the most interesting stories and romances of the day, carefully selected and legibly printed.

The Agricultural Department is a prominent feature in the Weekly Sun, and its articles will always be found fresh and useful to the farmer.

The number of men independent in politics is increasing, and the Weekly Sun is their paper especially. It belongs to no party, and obeys no dictation, contending for principle and for the election of the best men. It exposes the corruption that disgraces the country and threatens the overthrow of republican institutions. It has no fear of knaves, and seeks no favors from their supporters.

The markets of every kind and the fashions are regularly reported. The price of the Weekly Sun is one dollar a year for a sheet of eight pages, and fifty-six columns. As this barely pays the expenses of paper and printing, we are not able to make any discount or allow any premium to friends who may make special efforts to extend its circulation.

Under the new law, which requires payment of postage in advance, one dollar a year, with twenty cents the cost of prepaid postage added, in the rate of subscription. It is not necessary to get up a club in order to have the Weekly Sun at this rate. Anyone who sends one dollar and twenty cents will get the paper, post-paid, for a year.

We have no traveling agents. THE WEEKLY SUN.—Eight pages, fifty-six columns, July $1.25 a year, postage prepaid. No discounts from this rate.

THE DAILY SUN.—A large four-page newspaper of twenty-eight columns. Daily circulation over 120,000. All the news for 26 cts. Subscription, postage prepaid, five cents a month, or $5.00 a year. To clubs at "or over, a discount of 20 per cent.

FOR 1876. APPLETON'S JOURNAL, A Household Weekly Magazine,

Devoted to POPULAR LITERATURE, AND ALL MATTERS OF TASTE AND CULTURE.

Appleton's Journal appears in new type and with other mechanical improvements, making it the handsomest weekly literary journal in the country. Appleton's Journal aims to be comprehensive, including in its plan all branches of literature, and treating all subjects of interest to intelligent readers; it designs to be elevated in taste and pure in tone; it gives in quantity fully twenty-five per cent. more than the largest of the Monthly Magazines, while in quality its literature is of the highest class. Price, $4 per annum; 18 cts. per number.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT. The undersigned have procured, exclusively for subscribers to Appleton's Journal, a splendid steel engraving of "CHARLES DICKENS IN JUDGMENT," which is offered, under special terms, to every subscriber—in advance—to Journal for 1876.

This steel engraving is in line and stipple. It is not a fancy picture, but an actual representation of Charles Dickens's study at Gashill, while the portrait of the distinguished author is strikingly faithful.

The size of the plate is 20x14, printed on heavy plate paper 21x30, making a large and handsome engraving for the parlor or library wall. The execution of the plate is of a superior order.

The ordinary price of a steel engraving of this character in the print-shop would not be less than five, and perhaps six dollars. It is offered exclusively to subscribers, in addition to the Journal for one year, for $3.00—that is, for $1.00 additional, each yearly advance subscriber to the Journal for 1876 may receive a superb engraving worth fully five times the amount.

This engraving is entirely new. It has never been for sale in the print shops, and cannot be obtained except in connection with Appleton's Journal upon the terms and conditions given above. It will be mailed to subscribers, postage prepaid.
