LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

—By reference to our announcements, it will be seen that S. D. Irwin, Esq., is a candidate for District Attorney, subject to Republican usages.

—Decoration day falls on Tuesday next. Is Tionesta going to decorate? We think it should.

—A parcel was recently left at Freeman & Corbet's store. The owner can have it by calling at that place.

—Mr. E. E. Clapp has purchased of Mr. Rowland Cobb, the house now occupied by Rev. Elliot, situated on Helen St.

—Mr. Einstein started for Philadelphia yesterday morning. Besides taking in the Centennial, he will bring on his usual stock of goods.

—C. F. Gillespie has lumber on the ground preparatory to fencing his lot on Vivo St., whereon his barn is situated. It is his intention, some time in the near future, to erect on the property a fine residence.

—The Philharmonic Society of Meadville, will give the opera of the Bohemian Girl, commencing this evening, and continuing three evenings. This is one of the best musical societies extant, and has been drilled under competent instructors for several years. Prof. Boynton has the directorship of the opera. Mrs. Hull, and several other celebrated vocalists take part in the opera.

—Owing to the new bridge in course of erection over Council Run, that part of the highway is obstructed, and teamsters will be compelled to drive up on to Vine St., and around by Sam'l Clark's residence, and down again by way of Highland St. It will probably be a month ere this inconvenience can be remedied.

—Peter's Household Melodies for May has reached us, and as usual is replete with brilliant collections of songs, choruses, ballads, and vocal music in general. Published by J. L. Peters, 843 Broadway N. Y., at $4 per annum.

—Fresh arrivals at Robinson & Bonner's,—wooden churns, dried apples, and shoulders.

—Feeling called upon to serenade his dear gazelle he borrowed an accordion and, after getting so that he could squeeze a few doleful noises out of it, he posted himself under her window one night and began plaintively howling. "Oh, whisper what thou feelest!" She poked her head out of the window at the third line and said, "Oh, it's you, is it? I thought it was cats. And you want me to whisper what I feelest, hey? Well, I feel-est tired, that's what. Been working a hard running sewing machine all day. Get me a 'Light-Running Domestic' and then I'll know you mean business."

FOR SALE.
 The valuable and beautiful home-stead formerly owned by Hon. Joseph G. Dale, and in which he now resides, is in my hands for sale at very low figures. Terms—one-third purchase money down, and the balance in one and two years. MILES W. TATE.

—White lead, linseed oil and putty at Robinson & Bonner's.

—The residence of Jacob Kepler, of this place, was entered by burglars, on Saturday evening last, by means of a cellar window, which was carefully removed. From the cellar the burglars went up through the house, even to the third story, where they entered a room occupied by Miss S. A. Dale, took therefrom her dress, and from the pocket thereof did willfully and maliciously, fish a pocket-book, containing a $5 bill, a three-cent piece, and some papers. No one in the house was awakened during the time. From thence, the burglars went down to the residence of Senator Thomas, and tried all the doors. The Senator, who sleeps with one eye open, heard them before they tried the doors, and arose with alacrity, seized his old musket with energy, and watched his premises with vigilance. The burglars must have suspected that he was on the watch, for they did not try to effect a forcible entrance. On Sunday, after church, the Senator discovered Miss Dale's pocket-book, somewhere on his premises, with the papers intact, but the currency and coin missing. It is evident that the thieves are not experts, and hence, it would seem that we must look for the thieves among the people who inhabit our place. This is humiliating to the place, but if the thieves are caught, the humiliation and confusion of face will belong to them, and they can depend upon receiving the full penalty of the law in such cases made a provided.

—In the case of Mary Henry vs. the Borough of Tionesta, for damages, by reason of injuries received while sleigh riding on January 1st, 1874, on which occasion, the sleigh was upset, and Mrs. Henry sustained a fracture of her left arm, claiming that the accident was due to the unsafe condition of the road, a verdict of $60 in favor of the claimant was rendered. The damages claimed were $450. Lathy, Agnew and Irwin, attorneys for plaintiff, and Tate for defendant. It appears that at the place the "spill" occurred,—near the river bridge,—there was a rut, the depth of which was estimated by witnesses to be from four to eight inches. While passing this place the sleigh was caught in the aforesaid rut and upset, injuring Mrs. Henry as above stated. The result of this case will probably awake the Town Council to a necessity which has long been felt, i. e. to repair River St., or abandon it entirely, and thus save future trouble.

—The Philharmonic Society of Meadville, will give the opera of the Bohemian Girl, commencing this evening, and continuing three evenings. This is one of the best musical societies extant, and has been drilled under competent instructors for several years. Prof. Boynton has the directorship of the opera. Mrs. Hull, and several other celebrated vocalists take part in the opera.

—Owing to the new bridge in course of erection over Council Run, that part of the highway is obstructed, and teamsters will be compelled to drive up on to Vine St., and around by Sam'l Clark's residence, and down again by way of Highland St. It will probably be a month ere this inconvenience can be remedied.

 [Our thanks are due Prothonotary Clark for the above proceedings.—Ed.]

As the returns of the Grand Jury are always a matter of interest, both to the tax-payer and the officer, we have examined, pro bono publico, and report what that body has to say. They "go for" the roads in this style:

1. The Maple Creek road, lying in Harquet township, is reported as being in a deplorable condition, and cannot be safely traveled either by man or beast.
2. That part of the road, in Earnett twp., that leads from Clarrington to Tybersburg, being about one mile or more hemmed in on both sides by heavy timber, makes a complete mud hole the year around. Said road should be widened from Chas. Campbell's to the widow Kuhns farm.
3. That road in Kingsley twp., running from Bob's Creek to Brush Camp, in bad condition—unsafe to travel on,—break-neck road.
4. The road from Nebraska Mills to the Lacy, or Big Coon road, in a bad fix. Bridge is out of repair and dangerous.
5. The road on the west side of river in Tionesta twp., beginning at bridge and running thence up to Jamieson's, obstructed by the Rail Road, and almost forgotten as a highway, and recommend Railroad Co. to put same in a passable condition, and if not so done to bring suit at once.
6. The Tionesta and Tybersburg road, from the bridge across Tionesta to Clarion county line,—extensively traveled,—and the condition of the road is a disgrace to the country.
7. The road leading from Neilltown to Fagundus, called the Gorman road, in a very bad condition.
8. Road from Tubbs Run to Geo. Sibbald's, to line of Hickory and Tionesta twps., in a very bad condition. To stir up the Road Commissioners would bring about the desired result.
9. That we learn with regret that the road tax on unseated land is not in all places properly applied; while regretting this fact, would call the attention of the Court to the remedy.
10. Road leading from Morgan's mills towards Red Brush, in bad condition, unsafe and dangerous and needs doctoring.
11. Road leading from Jug Handle to Overlander's is too narrow at certain points, and difficult to pass with teams,—bad in other respects.
12. The public school houses are in "apple-pie order;" increasing and flourishing. One drawback on our educational system is that school-mans, competent for the business, marry off so fast without giving due notice, although they have first-class certificates.
13. The County Jail is regarded as

"iron-clad," as well as clean, neat and comfortable to prisoners who may be confined therein. It is recommended as a first-class resort during the Centennial year for all desirous of comfort, and all those young men "whose pious behavior and example will be considered a just recompense for their board." The Sheriff deserves credit for the way in which the jail is kept. The Court House still stands where it used to, and the report is not true that it has settled on the northwest corner.

14. We also find that the dam of G. W. Dithridge & Co., at the mouth of Tionesta Creek, is an obstruction to rafts, and has resulted in damages to owners of rafts. This, however, could be remedied by compelling said parties or Company to put in a schute.

[NOTE.—We think this grievance could be cured by running the rafts to, say the bridge, and then ship the lumber on the cars for points southward, &c.; and we recommend all true, good-hearted lumbermen not to bother with the confounded dam at all.]

In conclusion, would recommend, if it could be done, that the Court hereafter be called on Tuesday instead of Monday, so as to give all parties a chance, living on or near the line of Railroad, to come or arrive on or before the convening of the Court, as there are no trains running on the Sabbath day.

[NOTE.—This is a nice change, and "for the sake of argument," we can hereafter consider the Tuesday following the Monday of Court the first day of the Court, nemo contra dicente.]

We are indebted to S. D. Irwin, District Attorney, for the above notes of the sayings and doings of the Grand Jury.

—In Scribner for June Mrs. Rebecca Harding Davis's description of some "Old Landmarks in Philadelphia" is accompanied by over thirty illustrations. "How America was Named" is another illustrated historical paper, in which is shown the origin of the false claims put forth in behalf of Vespucci. Clarence Cook's fifth paper on furniture and decoration is illustrated with pictures of dining-tables, the "last sweet thing in corners," chairs, candleabras, etc., etc. Charles Barnard describes a number of recent "Experiments in Co-operation," chiefly manufactures and stores. "Union College" is the one selected from the educational series this month, Harvard being announced for July. The serials are continued, and there is a story by G. P. Lathrop, entitled "The Love of a Hundred Years;" "Pilgrims and Puritans," by Tryon Edwards, "Two Poems of Collins," by E. S. Nadal, and "Charlotte Cushman," by John D. Stockton, complete the list of prose. There are poetical contributions from Kate Putnam Osgood, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, H. H., and several others. In the Editorial Departments, Dr. Holland writes of "Advertising Shame," "The Literary Class" and "A New Departure;" "The Old Cabinet" deals with "Reading and Writing" and the "Academy Exhibition;" "Home and Society" contains some suggestions to strangers about "How to See New York," and Mr. Quinn's timely "Rural Topics;" and "Bric-a-brac" has among other attractions some clever dialect by Irwin Russell entitled "Nebuchadnezzar."
