OUR NOMINEES.

According to previous announcement, the National Republican Convention met in Cincinnati on Wednesday last, and, on Friday, on the seventh ballot, Rutherford B. Hayes, of Ohio was nominated for the office of President of the United States. William A. Wheeler, of New York, was nominated for Vice President on the first ballot.

ganization. Has served several years in the Legislature of his State, and is now serving his seventh year in Con-gress. He is a man well qualified for the Vice Presidency and will serve the people well in that capacity. His ganization. Has served several years the people well in that capacity. His record is also pure. The following is the platform upon which these along men with the party stand. No better was ever made, nor any that will be more strictly observed: When, in the economy of Providence, this laud was to be purged of of Congress to fully investigate the human slavery, and when the strength effect of the emmigration and imporof the Government of the people, by the people was to be demonstrated the Republican party came into power. Its deeds have passed into history, and we look back to them with pride. Incited by their memories and high aims for the good of our country and mankind, and looking to the future with outaltering courage, hope and purpose, we the representatives of the party in National Convention assembled make the following declaration of principles : First-The United States of Ameri-respective constitutions; the rights of respectful consideration. every citizen are secured at home and protected abroad and the common welfare promoted.

Second-The Republican party has birth, and they are now embodiments of the great truths spoken at its cradle, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, among which are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness ; for the attainments of these ends governments have been instituted among men deriving their just powers from the conscut of governed until these truths are cheerfully obeyed, or if needed to be, vigorously enforced; the work of the Republican party is unfinished.

Third-The permament pacification of the Southern section of the Union the enforcement of the principles embodied in the recent constitutional amendments is vested by those amend-ments in the Congress of the United States, and we declare it to be the vigorous exercise all their constitutioual powers for removing any just causes of discontent on the part of any class, and secoring every American citizen complete liberty and exact equality in the exercise of all civil, political and public rights; to this end we imperatively demand a Con-gress and Chief Executive whose cour-

Fourth—In the first act of Congress signed by President Grant in the National Government assumed to remove any doubts of purpose to discharge all The sentiment in this section, and just obligations to public creditors, and solemnly pledged its faith to make house of Congress utterly incompetent we may say, throughout the State was provision at the earliest practicable to administer the government; we in favor of Blains for President and period for the redemption of the waru the country against trusting a United States notes in coin ; commercial prosperity, public morals and na-tional credit demand that this promise be fulfilled by continuous and steady progress to specie payment. Fifth-Under the Constitution the President and heads of departments are to make nominations for office, the Senate is to advise and consent to the appointments, and the House of Representatives is to accuse and prosecute faithless officers; the best interests of public service demand that these distinctions be respected, that Senators he has been nominated, and will un- and Representatives who may be judges doubtedly make as good a President and accusers should not dictate ap pointments to office, the invariable rule for appointments should have ref-erence to the honesty, fidelity and capacity of appointces, giving to the party in power those places where harmony and vigor of administration require its policy to be represented, but permitting all others to be filled by persons selected with sole referthree most prominent Democrats in ence to the efficiency of public service and the right of citizens to share in the honor of rendering faithful service to the country. Sixth-We rejoice in the quickened conscience of the people concerning the political affairs which will hold all public officers to a rigid responsibility and engage that the prosecution and punishment of all who betray official trusts shall be speedy, thorough and unsparing. Seventh-The public school system of the several States is the Bulwark of the American republic, and with a view to its security and permanence we recommend an amendment to the Constitution of the United State for Constitution of the United States forbidding the application of any public funds or property for the benefit of any schools or institution under sectafavor of Blaine for President, and the Pennsylvania delegation has the credit of securing his defeat, by weakly allowing themselves to be handled by Don Cameron. Those who thus went against public sentiment will be remembered in the future.

Governor Hayes, although his nomination was the result of a combination gotten up for the express purpose of defeating Blaine, is a man in every way fitted for the position for which as over occupied the chair. His record is spotless, and cannot be successfully assailed. As a lawyer, as a soldier, as a statesman his career has been successful and honorable. His popularity at home is attested in the fact that he has beaten successively the in his State for Governor, viz: Pendleton, Thurman and Allen.

Mr. Hayes is about fifty-four years of age; graduated at the Harvard Law School, and was a successful lawyer until the break out. He entered the army as Major, and for bravery on the field, was promoted step by step until for gallant and meritorious service at Winchester, Fisher Hill and Cedar Creek, he was commissioned Brig.-General. He served two terms in Congress, with credit to himselfand was noted for sound judgment and consistent action. In 1867 he defeated Thurman for Governor; in 1869 he "got away" with Pendleton, and last fall sont William Allen up Salt rian control. River, each for the same office. He has never been defeated, and the probabilities are that he never will be.

and incapable. Sixteenth-The National administration merits commendation for its honorable working and management of domestic and foreign affairs, and President Grant deserves the contin-ued and hearty gratitude of the Amer-ican people for his patriotism and his immense service in war and in peace.

Our Washington Letter.

Special to the REPUBLICAN.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June. 16, '76. The excitement attending the reading of the telegrams as received at the different telegraph offices is more intense than I have ever before observed in this city save on a few race occasions during the war, at the time of Lee's surrender and when President Lincoln's death first became publicly known. The business in the executive departments has been left to discharge itself, and the thousauds of clerks are gathered in knots of various sizes, each growing confident or despondent as the vote by States is announced. Old men and young men and men of middle age are all crowdiug and elbowing their way to the latest dispatch on the bulletin boards, and the names of Blaine, Morton, Bristow, Conkling, Hays, Hartranft and Washburn are doubled and twisted together in one inextricable mass. with the contagion and discuss the merits of the several candidates with a sense of as much importance as their elders.
