On Saturday last a grand squirrel hunt, for the suppers, took place between sides chosen by Mesars. J. E. Wenk and H. Foreman. The woods for miles around resounded with musketry from the first gray dawn until it was too late to see a squirrel at ten puces. The count took place at the Tionesta House, where supper was also served. Wenk's side was victorious, as will be seen from the following scora: WENK 20 | FOREMAN Hilanda Setley & Agnew 3 J. SCATTERING SHOTS.

Jim Hulings had the largest count his game was all red-squirrels but one. A red-squirrel counted one.

John Wyant hunted with an.old 1812 musket, which was plowed up on Ford, Wenk's farm last summer. He attributes to this gun the honor of winning the hunt for his side.

Treasurer Setley, with his wooden leg, traveled over more ground during the day than any man in the hunt, and came in at night as fresh as a daisy, with a good appctite.

Pete Conver was on hands at supper time ; if he can't hunt he can eat.

Jake Smearbaugh, being on the losing side, proposed paying for our supper. He reported afterward that the landlord charged him a half-dollar extra for what we ate.

Dan Agnew went out on horseback ; he only brought in a count of three, but then he said he didn't get tired. About four hundred red squirrels bit the dust on Saturday. Nearly every man in the hunt was on Oldtown Flats during the day. Kelly's corn will be comparatively safe this fall and winter.

Not an accident happened, and the best of feeling prevailed during the day and evening.

There were eleven old army muskets carried by those who participated surrended to Col. Carlis at Standing in the hunt. The smooth-bores make excellent shot-guns.

Sam. Haslet shot the only owl which was brought in. Taylor Dale lugged home the only Miss Ida Arner leaves to-day for Allegheny College.

J. B. Haggerty has taken up his residence in Elk City, where we believe he intends to try his fortune in the greasy stuff.

L. Arner, while coming down the hill by Butler's bar, met a large rattlesnake; he was too near to reach for a club, so very neatly shot its head off. It measured five feet and had ten rattles.

Rotten bridges should be looked to. Cal. Arner narrowly escaped with his own and his horses' lives while crossing the bridge at the mouth of Piney, re cently, with a load of iron. Both sills gave way at once, letting horses, wagon and driver down about twelve feet. Fortunately they escaped with a few bruises.

Our young folks met a few evenings ago at the house of one of the neigh bors, where they enjoyed excellent music furnished by Geo. Harrington, on a three-stringed fiddle.

Owing to the dampness of the weather, the Nebraska Sunday School has closed for the season.

The epidemic has passed us by, so far, and we hope it will continue to. Quite the fashion to wear a necklace composed of a string and asafeetiln sewed up in a rag.

Mr. Ledabur informs us that the P. O. has not undergone a change of name, as stated by the Press a few weeks ago.

I DE CLARE.

-From a communication received from the Secretary of the Hayes and Wheeler Club, of Fagundas, we have the following particulars of that organization :

The Republicans of Fagundas met at their hall on Tuesday evening, Sept. 12, 1876, and organized a Hayes and Wheeler Club. The meeting was called to order by Peter Berry, and the following officers were chosen : President, Royal E. Scott; Vice Presidents, Isaac Jones, J. S. Ramsey; Secretary, Henry Wilkins; Corresponding Sec'y, C. C. Moriau; Treasurer, H. T. Mo-

-The Derrick of Monday had a sensation in the form of a piece of paper, purposing to have been written by Albert H. somebody, who stated that he had been pushed off a raft in April by his rival in love, and stating that he had relatives in Tionesta, and requesting the finder to address E. L. Davis, Esq., at this place. We attempted to interview Davis, but he wanted a retainer, and being a little short, we deferred the interview. The letter is a fraud, a delusion and a snare.

-We acknowledge the receipt of a complimentary ticket to the Connenutville Fair, from J. E. Rupert, Corresponding Secretary of the Society. The fair is to be held at Conneautville on the 4th, 5th and 6th of October. This me please take notice. Society has the reputation of holding the best agricultural fairs in the State. Also a similar favor from W. M. Henderson, Secretary, to the Fair of the Oil Creek Agricultural Association, to be held at Titusville, Sept. 26, 27, 28 and 29, 1876.

-The Hayes and Wheeler Club was addressed on last Saturday evening by E. L. Davis, Eeq., whose remarks were to the point, and were frequently applauded by those present. Hon. J. B. Agnew also made a few remarks, which were well received. Another moeting next Saturday evening, which will be enlivened by speeches from members of the club and others who may happen to be present. Turn out. -Scribner's Monthly, for October, is to hand, and fully sustains its reputation as a first-class magazine of choice literature. Among other attractions, the October number contains the first of a series of articles on sporting, beginning with "Salmon-Fishing," to be followed by articles on trout-fishing, grouse, duck-shooting, etc., which will be especially interesting to our young sportsmen. -Since our last issue we have four as follows: Harry, son of Kirt. Johnson, a son of Mr. Young, of Oldtown, and a son and daughter of Daniel Black, of Little Tionesta. All were from ten to twelve years of age, or thereabouts. The disease, or epidemic, is subsiding somewhat, and we are in hopes that we shall be called upon to chronicle no more deaths for many wouths to come.

-Court convenes on Mon lay next. Besides the sessions of Court, there will be a number of attractions in the evenings of said week. On Monday evening, Rev. Harvey, assisted by the S. S. Scholars will give a concert. The Republican County Committee also meets on that evening in the Arbitration Room of the Court House, On Tuesday evening there will be a Republican Mass Meeting at the Court House, which will be addressed by Gen. Harry White and Hon. J. H. Osmer. On Wednesday evening there will be a Democratic Mass Meeting in the Court House, which will be addressed by Hon. G. A. Jenks. On deaths to chronicle, all from diptheria, Prof. Boynton and class will give a grand concert in the Court House. We have heard of nothing unusual for Friday and Saturday evenings but the Odd Fellows' Lodge meets on Friday evening, and the Hayes and Wheeler Club on Saturday evening.

TEAMS WANTED .- For bark haul ing at Brookston Tannery. G. BROOKS & CO 18.31.

At the time of writing the above, on Wednesday last, there were forty-six members enrolled, and the number is probably largely increased by this time. A Hayes and Wheeler pole, one hundred feet high, was raised at Fagundas yesterday, and a Republican meeting, to be addressed by Gen. H. Allen, and W. M. Lindsey, Esq., of Warren, Chas. W. Mackey, Esq., of Franklin, R. C. Beach, Esq., of Tidioute, and others. We go to press too early to give a report of this meeting, but have no doubt that it was a success in every particular.

-The rains of the past few days raised the river sufficiently so that quite an amount of lumber was run out, and a few Alleghenies have gone down the river from here and some from above. A number of Derickson & Co.'s stave bolts were run down the creek, and the mill will start up soon. A few cords were lost, but not near as many as was first feared. One of Dithridge's pieces went afloat, from ner. some carelessness in tying it. We presume it was caught below. The money that comes back from this rise will not cause a resumption of the flush times known here when lumber sold at good figures.

-The Associated Press dispatches of yesterday tell of another riot, this time in South Carolina, in which, as usual, the negroes were the aggressors. The Associated Press agent, however, gives the list of killed and wounded, which is as follows: Six negroes kill-Thursday evening, it is probable that ed and one white man wounded. The white man probably bumped his head against a tree while running after an aggressive negro.
