THE SITUATION.

We have read the papers of both political persuasions, and we have also patiently conned the columns of the so-called "independent press," and up to this time we are unable to form an opinion as to who is to be our next | the land President. If we take the word of the Democratic Press, Mr. Tilden is elected. If the Republican Press is believed Hayes is the man. We clip the following in regard to the question from one of the ablest Republican papers in the State, the Pittsburgh Gazette:

We recognize the fact that the most intense anxiety is felt relative to the political situation, and we will do our best to afford such light as the the news, received up to the present, will admit. Both political parties lay claim to three States-Florida, South Carolina and Louisiana. If the Republicans have all three of these States they elect their candidates; if the Democrats have one of them they are successful. Both are struggling with the energy of desperation to control the count, and on the count made the result will undoubtedly depend. The Democracy claim that the ballots shall be counted just as they come in, the returns to be accepted as prima facie evidence of the election as it ochope that the count will be in their favor. Whether it will or not is, as yet, an undetermined point. Kellogg appears very confident that even with the ballots as they are, Louisiana is Republican, although he asserts that when undoubted and provable intimi-dation and fraud are rectified by the Returning Board, our majority will be decisive. In South Carolina, the Democracy are very positive in claiming a majority of from 1,000 to 2,000 —on exactly the same principle as they claim Louisiana, -that no notice shall be taken of intimidation and fraud, and the ballots shall be counted exactly as they are. Rut in that State, the same charges are made by Republicans, of terrorism and fraud, and these are rendered plausible by the known violence that has prevailed in that State since July last. In Florida, the Democracy claim the State by from 250 to 500 majority, with the same conditions attached as in the other two States mentioned. This is the situation on that side. On the other hand, the Republicans claim Florida by from 3,000 to 5,000 on an honest vote, -or on the vote as that they have destroyed or attempted to destroy, the returns from the strongest Republican district in Florida, ent: 1. That wherever there has been an unintimidated vote, the Republicans have gained, as compared with Carolina. 3. That this large majority has not been overcome by honest means, and has not legally been overome at all. That the colored people, where not intimidated, remained unwerving in their loyalty to the Repub-ican party, is susceptible of the clearst proof. And 4. That the State is he Republicans by Governor Kellogg, n the vote as it stands. Yet he subits specific statements of frauds and atimidations that must be investigat-I as part of the count. For example, is simply impossible that where ere was a large Republican majority parishes two years ago, there ould be no Republican votes now, natever. Those parishes must be rown out of the count, though witht that he diaims the State. Thus proper Republican authorities im the three States mentioned. The grave feature of the situation however, in the fact that we are e to face with the question whether lence, fraud, and murder shall ninate, in the election of the Presiit of the United States. This issue now as clearly defined, in its rela-1 to the States mentioned as though pplied to every State in the Union. desperation of the Democracy neitates the most positive and earnspirit on the part of Republicans. are face to face with a crisis. would have our friends do nothing would be in the least unfair, but would have them stand firm as tite in the emergency.
