

WASHINGTON, May 5.

EDITOR.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 9, 1877.

Our Washington Letter.

Special to the REPUBLICAN.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 4, 77. While absent from the city to attend the opening of the permanent exhibition at Philadelphia, it is said the President will take time to visit New York. Unusual efforts will be made to make his reception brilliant, and no doubt the commercial metropolis will leave nothing undone to receive suitably the chosen ruler of the land. The civic authorities of New York have an experience in these matters that enables them to excel any other municipality.

If it is expected that the President's head will be turned by a reception, however brilliant, a mistake is made. Speaking from knowledge, I am safe in saying that no man in the United States is less likely to be carried away by a demonstration than President Hayes. He may have faults, but they are not such as can be worked upon and brought out by means of a grand reception. If he has any words to say when he meets the men who are accredited by New York to receive him, they will be words of truth and soberness, and not such as it may be, his hosts anticipate.

The interests involved in what the Extra Session of Congress may do, and in which his interests as well as those of his party are bound up, will not permit the President to go beyond the ordinary civilities of such occasions, and for that reason, upon his extraordinary control of himself, reliance may be placed.

The Treasury, it is said, is to be thoroughly reorganized. The rumors of changes are multitudinous. The changes so far have been few, but no one can go among officials here without learning of contemplated changes. On the whole, it may be set down as certain that if the Treasury is not thoroughly reorganized before the meeting of Congress no reliance need ever be placed in rumors again. All the reports indicate that the new appointees will be men identified distinctly with the Republican party.

The Government yesterday received from the Turkish Minister official notice that the Russian Government had declared war against Turkey. No action seems to be necessary on the part of our Government, and probably none will be taken. A proclamation of neutrality would seem to be superfluous though one such proclamation has been made by the Government.

District affairs are not of special interest to your readers, but it may be said that this is the only city of 100,000 inhabitants in the civilized world deprived entirely of the right of suffrage, and that an effort will be made at an early date to secure that right through Congressional action. We propose to ask at least for a limited suffrage and we ask for the help of the people throughout the country who are the rights of citizens at heart.

In reply to numerous criticisms on the action of Secretary Schurz in making appointments, it may be said that every promotion or original appointment made in his Department, so far as has been made either on account of efficiency or service, or by reason of excellence upon a competitive examination. No friends of the Secretary or of his subordinates, so far as is known, have been appointed.

Western opposition to Mr. Rau's re-election as Speaker is developing. As was to be expected, the delegation is reported as united in support of him. There are signs of hostility in Illinois and in Missouri. The Republican opposes him because he is advised filibustering in the House last February, and when his name was followed he ruled against the Republican says almost any man would make a better Speaker than the man who tried to be on the floor of the same question.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant, with their children, will sail for Liverpool from Philadelphia, on May 17th, in the steamer "President Hayes" and the "General" as a private citizen, and thought he could make the trip in a much shorter time.

Objections to postpone the extra session of Congress have been waived, and the following was issued this afternoon: By the President of the United States: A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas. The final adjournment of the Forty-fourth Congress without making the usual appropriations for the support of the army for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1878, presents an extraordinary occasion, requiring the President to exercise the power vested in him by the constitution to convene the Houses of Congress in anticipation of the day fixed by law for their next meeting, now, therefore, I, Rutherford B. Hayes, President of the United States, do by virtue of the power to this end in me vested by the constitution, convene both Houses of Congress to assemble at their respective chambers at twelve o'clock noon on Monday, the 14th day of October next, then and there to consider and determine such measures as in their wisdom, their duty and the welfare of the people may seem to demand. In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington this 5th day of May, in the year of our Lord, 1877, and the Independence of the United States of America, the one hundred and first.

[Signed by the President] R. B. HAYES, WM. EVARTS, Secretary of State.

FOUND.

DURING our experience of the past six months, in the GROCERY, FLOUR, FLOUR & FEED Business in Tionesta, we have found the old maxim saved is money earned, a true one, and that we have saved the people of the borough and surrounding country a considerable amount.

Having had a long experience in the wholesale business, we have peculiar facilities for buying from first hands, which enables us to offer extra inducements to Cash Buyers, and having adopted the true system of doing business for only, we can sell goods for a much less profit, in fact, competing with prices in any of the cities in the State.

In thanking the citizens for liberal patronage in the past, we announce our removal from the Fisher store, to the pleasant location known as the

ACOMB BUILDING,

(immediately south of the Company Store) where, in consideration of the continued depression in the linen, have again lowered our prices, believing that goods should not be sold at war prices, where the opportunities to make money are so much less.

In future our store will be kept open until 9 P. M., for the mutual benefit of the general public and ourselves. J. H. DERICKSON & CO.

$177 is not easily earned in these times but it can be made in three months by any one of either sex, in any part of the country who is willing to work steadily at the employment that we furnish. $66 per week in your own town. Red Hot! Spicy! Newsy! Oil City Daily Derrick, For 1877. Better Than Ever! More and Fresher News, and More Reading Matter than any other Daily Paper in North-Western Pennsylvania!

The OIL CITY DAILY DERICK will begin the new year with a larger circulation than ever attained by any daily newspaper in Pennsylvania outside of the large cities. It has gained this by giving all the freshest news, and sparing no expense in obtaining items. It has correspondents in every portion of the Oil Region, besides several reporters who are constantly traveling. The proprietors, editors and reporter staff, are all young and energetic men, whose aim is to make the Derrick the leading newspaper of Western Pennsylvania.

The Derrick will be better than ever for 1877. It will have special reporters at Washington and Harrisburg, who will send daily specials of all important events. Its readers will be kept posted on all the political news of the day, as reported from an independent standpoint, while a large reporter force will keep them informed on local matters. It will also, as it does now, take the lead in discussing questions of importance to oilmen, and work faithfully for the interest of the Oil Region. It will maintain its position as authority in oil statistics, and its market quotations will always be found reliable.

If you want spicy reading, fresh news, information concerning the Oil Region, and a red-hot paper, subscribe for the OIL CITY DAILY DERICK. Terms, $10 per year; six months $5; $1 a month in advance. W. H. LONGWELL & CO., 39-41 Publishers, Oil City, Pa.
