LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

LOST,

On Friday last, a blue ostrich tip. The finder will confer a favor by leaving it at this office.

-Rev. Elliot will preach in the Presbyterian Church, on Sunday next morning and evening. Sabbath School at 3 o'clock P. M.

-Republicans, remember the Pri maries next Saturday.

-The Glorious Fourth will arrive one week from to-day.

-Mr. G. W. Robinson is at Pittsburgh on business this week.

-Those who took in the Oil City excursion to Irvineton from here, say they had a good time.

-The two Sunday Schools of this place will combine and have a basket picnic on the Fourth.

-James Hulings, who went to Louisville, Ky., on a raft, some time in April returned home yesterday.

-Te nuns passed through town on Monday, on route, we believe for St. Mary's. A rather unusual sight for Tionesta.

-To-day and to morrow Supt. Brockway will examine school teachers whe are applicants for professional certificates.

Death of Hon. John A. Dale.

Hon. John A. Dale died at his residence, in this borough, on Monday, June 25, 1877, nged 68 years, menths, and 11 days.

It seems difficult to those who were familiar, daily, with the deceased to realize that the above record is true. The life of Judge Dale is intimately blended with the history of our county, and the northwestern part of our State ; perhaps no man in it was so widely and favorally known. Born in 1808, near Bellefonte, in the County of Centre, he was only seven years old, when his mother became a widow by the death of her husband Joseph Dale, in Nov., 1815. In February following she started for the then Western wilderness, coming to Oldtown Flats, to her father, Henry Gates, with her four children, (the subject of this, memoir being the eldest) the family consisting of three boys and one daughter, two of whom only survive, Hon. Jeseph G. Dale and Mrs. Susan Mc-Clatchey.

Judge D. was eminently a self-made man, with only the early advantages peculiar to our early settlement, by his own untiring industry and perseverence became, notwithstanding disadvantages, a good English scholar, which laid the foundation of his future useful life.

It might be mentioned that he took a deep interest to Horticulture and Arboroculture, which he fully understood, and in which he was deeply interested. His own garden and arbors constitute a scene "which a Shenstone might have envied." The variety he collected is wonderful. He has, by his knowledge of the art, made and trimmed up some of our common hemlocks and pines in cones and shapes that surpass and out-rival the arbor vitces and imported evergreens of the nurserymen, and are to-day standing monuments of his skill. In 1825 he was a teacher. Teach ing his first school in Clearfield Co. he continued teaching for several successive seasons throughout the winter, in summer pursuing other avocations. In 1827 he began the study of medicine with Dr. Mavin Webster, a physician who shortly afterwards removed to Tionesta. He continued reading medicine about two years, but not liking the profession of medicine, he abandoned it and engaged in mercanthat of cirrhosis of the liver, an incurable affection. It occasioned dropsy of the stomach to such an extent that on Inst Saturday his physicians tapped | A cordial invitation is extended to all. him, drawing off considerable water, Eminent speakers will address the aureliaving him very much. His vital dience.

powers gave way, finally, and he died from exhaustion.

Judge D. was American in his ideas in every sense of the word. He loved American principles. His religion consisted in good works, mainly. His kindness of heart was a feature well known. He was a friend to the poor,-in him they have lost a kindhearted adviser. He had his ups and downs in the world like every son of Adam, and any sketch that read differently would not be the true life of any man. He has left his impress in this community for good. He was conscientious man-benevolent to a fault. He died as he lived,-peaceful and happy, and in the language of Dr. Adam Smith, "I think he was as perfect a man as the nature of human frailty will permit."

The funeral took place yesterday at 4 o'clock p. m. attended by the Free Mason fraternity, and a large concourse of friends.

Lacytown Correspondence.

LACYTOWN, June 25, 1877. ED. REPUBLICAN :-

Dear Sir :- Not withstanding the very changeable weather we have had for the past two weeks, business has been progressing finely. Lewis Arper and James Gil fillen have built a handsome and substantial slash-bridge across the dam it is one that will be appreciated by many parties interested in the lumbering business.

Rev. McMichael, of Lickingville, preached to a small but attentive audience, last Sunday afternoon, in this place.

Mike Burket wants to know why 'Forest county does not have a baby show, as they do in our neighboring counties." He thinks his vonng daughter of two weeks is very handsome, and improving every day.

John Metzgar has built an addition to his house, which adds very much to its appearance, and also to the convenience of his family.

The railroad being built for the purpose of conveying logs from the forest a few miles back, to the creek, is progressing rapidly under the man-

-There will be a rousing Murphy meeting, -probably at the Court House -on Tuesday evening, July 3d, 1877.

-The survivors of the 83d Pa. Vols and 44th N. Y. Vols., (Butterfield's Twins) will hold a joint reunion at Jamestowp, N. Y., Aug. 21st 1877. Also, the 31st Congressional N. Y. reunion of Veterans will be held Aug. 22d at Jamestown, N. Y. Everybody invited to attend.

-Sheriff A. P. Pew, of Mercer county, who became involved in serions financial embarrassment a few days ago, and whose office was taken in charge by the county Coroner, according to law, has succeeded in adjusting affairs satisfactorily, and has re-assumed the duties of his office .-Venango Citizia.

-While at work sawing staves on the Guthrie mill, at Strattanville, Clarion county, on Thursday of last week, Mr. Ben. Robinson had the second finger of his right hand sawed off at the first joint, and the consequence is he carries it in a sling now. This is the mill in which J. T. Dale Esq., of this place is interested.

-The execution of eleven Mollie Maguires took place at Wilkesbarre, Mauch Chunck, and Pottsville, on Thursday last. The telegraphic account of these excutions are hourible to read. It is to be hoped that this whosesale sacrifice of human life will have the effect to put an end to the infamous outrages of this band of murderers.

-Our attention has been called to some new and useful cooking utensils recently invented. One of which is known as the Centennial Cake and Baking Pan, made of Russia iron, and is so constructed that after your cake is baked, you can instantly remove it from the pan without injuring it; and having a raised bottom the cake can not possibly burn. It is also provided with a slide on the bettom, so that when you remove the tube, you can close the hole, making a pan with plain bottom for baking jelly or plain cakes, bread, etc. Another-the Kitchen Gem- is also a very useful and long-needed household necessity. It is a plated wire boiler or steamer to hang inside of an ordinary iron pot, for boiling or steaming vegetables, which,

-The North ward has put a subsuantial stone crossing in the street just north of the Presbyterian church. A long meeded convenience for that place.

-Mr. O. W. Proper has returned from a three months absence to Cincinnati. He succeeded in disposing of all of their lumber, about a million feet, at that place.

-Fryburg, Walnut Bend, and Tidtioute will each celebrate the coming Fourth in the grand old fashioned style. Tionesta, we hear it said, will colebrate with a basket picnic.

-The Clarion Democrat says that "oil will soon go to $2.00 a day." 'Come now, that's pretty hard to swallow, considering the price at present is only $1.78. tile pursuits. In 1837 he was married to Jane E.

Richardson, residing at Tionesta uutil 1847, when he was elected Sheriff of --Thos. J; Bowman of East Hick- the County of Venango, and after serving out his term he returned to his home here, and resumed mechandizing. Soon after his return his home was made sad by the death of his wife, followed closely by the death of a beloved daughter. He was left with a large family of small children.

In 1852 he married Elizabeth Watson, who survives him. In 1853 he was again called to public duty by his appointment as Prothonotary and Clerk of the several Courts of Venango Co., to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the lamented Wm. Elliot.

Returning to Tionesta he again resumed his basiness as merchant, which business he continued until 1865, when he engaged in the oil business. In 1868, he was appointed Associate Judge of Forest County, to fill a vacancy left by the death of Hon. S. S. Hulings, Subsequently he became interested in Railroading, for a sketch of which period of his life we are indebted to A. H. Steele Esq., which is as follows :

Early in 1870 Judge Dale became connected with the interests of the A. & G. W. R. R., and labored zealously for the re-organization of that Company and of the Pithols Valley Ry. Co., then controlled by James McHenry, of London. Upon the re-organization of the Pithole Road he was elected its Treasurer and Trustee, and upon the organization of Pithole Valley Extension Co. he was elected President. After the organization of The Pennsylvania Petroleum Railroad Co. he was elected one of the Directors, and a member of its Executive Committee, and thenceforth devoted all his time and influence to the completion of that system of roads through ed to over $53.00.
