All pet children are tyrants, and a pet deakon wants ne much watchin as a pet coon duz. Pet ideas are quite risky, and pet opinyuns, like second-hand clothing, are worth just what you kan git fur them. A pet wife soon gets to be cap-tain, and a pet baby rules the whole household. A pet horse learns to be frisky, and a pet servant bekums cunning at the expense of his honesty. Pet friends are the hardest to keep, and when yu do lose them they turn from hunany to gaul, and pets of all kinds are fastidious. A pet crow can't tell what his next mischief will be, and ev all pets none are more nas-ty and cross than a pet parrot. Noth-ing in this world was made to be pet-ted, for nothing waz made to require it. Pet hobbys are plenty and eazy to mount, but are hard to stick to, and the ditches, all along life's turnpike, are filled with the riders. A pet lam alwuss makes a kross ram, and what has been once petted can never be and when yu do lose them they turn and then ruin-i have even seen gar-din sass petted so mutch that it all ran to top and to vines. Pet kats are. fast, an insult to the kat, and, next, are and insult to the party that pets them; and there is no more excuse for bearding a pet poodle and lugging them around, than thare is for boarding and toteing a bedbug .-- [Josh Billings.

Is Your Note Good ?

A Boston lawyer, on School street, was called upon a short time ago by a boy, who inquired if he had any waste paper to sell. The lawyer has a crisp, keen way of asking questions, and is moreover, a very methodical man. So pulling out the drawer, he exhibited his stock of waste paper, laid smooth-ly in, sheet after sheet, a solid mass. "Will you give me twenty-five cents for that ?"

The boy looked at the paper doubt-fully a moment, and offered fifteen. "Done," said the lawyer, and the "Done," said the lawyer, and the paper was quickly transferred to the bag by the boy, whose eyes sparkled as he "hefted" the weighty mass. Net till it was safely stowed away did he announce that he had no mon-

THE AMERICAN CYCLOPÆDIA.

Within the last ten years the progress of discovery in every department of knowl-edge has made a new work of reference an mperative want.

The movement of polifical affairs has kept pace with the discoveries of science, and their fruitful application to the infusand their frame application to use future trial and useful arts and the convenience and refinement of social life. Great wars and consequent revolutions have occurred, involving national changes of peculiar moment. The civil war of our own country, which was at its height when the last volume of the old work appeared, has happilly been ended, and a new course of com-mercial and industrial activity has been commenced. Large accessions to our plorers of Africa. The great political revolutions of the last decade, with the natural result of the lapse of time, have brought into public view a multitude of new men, whose names are in every one's mouth, and of whose lives overy one is curious to knew the particulars. Great lattles have been fought and important sizges maintained, of which the details are as yet preserved only in the newspapers or in the transisnt publications of the day, but which ought now to take their place in

PERMANENT AND AUTHENTIC HISTORY.

In preparing the present edition for the press, it has accordingly been the sim of the editors to bring down the information to the latest possible dates, and to furnish an accurate account of the most recent discoveries in science, of every fresh produc-tion in literature, and of the new stinven-tions in the practical arts, as well as to give a succinct and original record of the progress of

POLITICAL AND HISTORICAL EVENTS.

The work has been begun after long and careful preliminary labor, and with the most ample resources for carrying it on to a successful termination.

None of the original stereotype plates have been used, but overy page has been
