The Excursion.

The excursion to Fair Point, Chautaugua Lake, from this and other towns along this road, came off on Satfrom this place was not so large as the one last year, owing, perhaps, to the novelty of the thing having worn off with last summer's excursion, and somewhat to the impracticability of realizing on future expectations. Thirty-eight, we believe, was the number that got on the train at Tionesta statien. At Hickory mineteen more excursionists got on with smiling faces and well-filled baskets. At Trunkeyville quite a number were taken in, and at Tidioute it looked as if the whole town and surrounding country were at the depot. Several more were taken on between that point and Youngsville, which was the last place the train stopped for excursionists. Altogether, we believe there were some three hundred who took in the trip. The train made good time, and with the exception of a stop at Corry, for the purpose of turning the locomotive, and getting the train on the Cross-Cut Road, the train steamed along at a lively gait, until we reached Mayville, ed for a Knox township farmer, our exactly on time. The audience was dismissed for ainner.

Lunch baskets were then brought forth, and the result of an early breakfast and a good half day of healthy excitement was made apparent in the marvelous rapidity with which the funches disappeared.

At two o'clock, at which time the programme said that Francis Murphy would speak, the auditorium was crowded. It was then announced that Mr. Murphy's address would be postponed until half-past three o'clock, to accommodate a large excursion which was due at about that time.

Mr. Eccles Robinson, of Pittsburgh, a young man who had been reformed through the efforts of Mr. Murphy, was introduced, and gave some of his experience. Part, perhaps half, of the excursionists took the boat at 12 o'clock for an excursion up to Jamestown. They were accompanied by McCray's string band, and mirth and dancing was the order of the day. The same boat, with these excursionists on, met us at the wharf, and a short time brought us again to Mayville, where we again took the cars for home, arriving at Tionesta at 9:45, thirty minutes ahead

Everybody was well pleased, and the excursion was a success in every sense of the word.
