was interrupted by the entrance a man who came in with a shuffling $600 for $280. incasy step, and with his hat in his hand. He halted and leaned against the railing. Nobody took the slightest notice of him, however. At last he took courage and spoke : "Is the Judge in ?"

The clerk immediately awoke his Hanor.

"Well, what do you want ?"

"I'm looking for a job, your Honor. I've been looking for work for over a month."

"There's nothing for you here." "I thought ye occasionally gave jurymen a job. I don't read newspapers any, and bein' a stranger in town, I haven't got any prejudices agin anybody. A pard of mine wrote down to me at Reno, last week, and said that the jury business up here was brisk an' it would pay to come up. As I'm a stranger to you and a little hard up, I'll start in an' serve for a case or two for half price till ye kin see what I kin do.

"What are your main qualifications ?"

"My strong suit is makin' a jury agree. No juries ever get hung if I'm on 'em. I just lay low till they take the first ballot, and then jine the majority and argue the rest into it. I can discount any lawyer talking. I cin show 'em up points they never tumbled to before. Sometimes I have to use force, but seldom. Once down at Truckee, in a murder case, there were a couple of fellers standiu' out agin hanging, and after arguing with 'em jority and argue the rest into it. I can hanging, and after arguing with 'em as smooth and gentlemanly as I could for over a quarter of an hour, I went for 'em with chairs, and by the time I for em with chairs, and by the time I had busted half a dozen pieces of fur-niture over 'em they were glad to come in with a verdict of 'Murder in the first degree,' and the feller was hung not long afterwards. In these Justice Courts I can always get on with the jury, an' if you'll just give me the wink as to how you want the case to configuration to feller be in the case to configurate to form the case to configurate to the configurate to form the case to configurate to the c go, I'll guaranty to fetch in the verdict you want, or not take a cent."

The man was told to drop round in a day or so, and they would try and make a vacancy for him. In order to do it, however, some regular juryman will probably be discharged.— Virginia City Chronicle.

About Babies.

The following paragraph will be read with pleasure by all who own and HARD love babies. It is no less admirable as a description of a baby than as an example of a keen sense of the proper place at which to put a full stop :

"Did you ever watch a dear little baby waking up from its morning nap? It is one of the prettiest sights in the world. There is the crib with its small proportions and snow-white drapery that covers something, outlined, round and plump. There is nothing
