Accept the views of Mr. Jennings, London correspondent of the New York World, all departments of American industry are destined to share in the coming prosperity. He says: "The longer the war lasts the more certainly must the United States become the great emporium of the world. O course, such an advantage is merely temporary, and it would not do to depend too much upon it. Still a tempory advantage is not to be despised in hard times. Grain, iron, even coal, will yet be required in vast quantities. Where is it to come from Europe? I ron we could supply, but as for grain and coal, we have not enough to "go round" at home. Everybody sees all that, and if it had hot been for the recent strikes and riots American railroad stocks and bonds would have had a great rise in the markets here." It is evident that we have reached the limit of our business depression, if we are ready to take manly advantage of the opportunities before us. In place of strikes and controversies, let capital and labor harmonize, and prosperity will come to both .- Commercial-

LACYTOWN, Aug. 28, 1877. ED. REFUBLICAN:-

Henry Norris met with a slight accident a few days ago a log rolled on one of his legs and bruised it quite badly. But for the timely assistance of some of the men it might have proved serious.

Among the numerous visitors in the past week, we noticed Mrs. T. D. Colins and son, and Mr. C. W. Taylor of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Henry Ledebur, presented her husband with a very handsome daughter a few days ago. Henry is as happy as a clam, and should any one happen to call on him soon, we believe he would grind a grist free of toll.
