So rapid were the movements of the maranders for them inhabitants thought there were three separate bands. Cavalry started in pureation them from different points, upon which they separated, and twenty of the band crossed into them from different points, upon which they separated, and twenty of the band crossed into them from different points, upon which they separated, and twenty of the band crossed into them from different points, upon which they separated, and twenty of the band crossed into the band crossed into the band crossed into the structive to their interests. Unfortunately, while representing them he differed from them in opinion, and, differing in opinion, he must follow his own convictions, however much he regretted that difference. He desired to have the test. If he were wrong, he should regret the act more than any act of his life. Like

Luther, he could not do otherwise, God help him ! Differing from them he would not dare to follow his own convictions were it not that he knew that they as laboring men, in comp with other laboring men, could not by any pos-sibility be any worse off than they were now, and any change would be for their benefit He also presented the memorial of the Norfolk conference of Unitarian and other Christian churches at Walpole, Mass., declaring that honesty was the vital part of religion, and pro-tosting against the passage of the Bland silver bill. The petitions were referred and Mr. But-ler condinued : " Mr. Speaker, will you be kind enough to send me the Bible from your desk?" After searching for the passage he desired, amid great laughter, Mr. Butler sent to the amid great laughter, Mr. Butler sent to the o'erk's desk and had read the passage from the second chapter of St. John, which describes Christ driving the money changer's from the tamp's and saying to them : "Make not my Father s house a house of merchandise." Mr. Father s house a house of merchandise." Mr. Butler— 'After that reproof, I have no fur-ther word to say."... The bull granting an American register to a foreign tuilt ship for the purposes of the Woodruff scientific expe-dition was passed, and the House adjourned. The House in committee of the whole, dis-cussed the bill extending the time for the with-drawal of distilled spirits now in bond until July 1, 1878, and at the close of the deba'e Mr. Butler's amendment, providing that when the spirits are withdrawn the tax shall be collected at the rate required by law at the time of its entry into bond, was adopted. Mr Foster's substitute for the original proposition, declar-ing that a radiction of the two methods in its ing that a reduction of the tax on whisky is in-expedient, was adopted by a vote of 134 to 95. The House Wistained the action of the com-mi tee by a vote of -yeas, 146 ; nays, 112. Adionrned.

Mt. Vesuvios. Should an cruption occur in this volcano and cause the destruction of o e-half of the in habitants who live in the vicinity, the romatic der, who barely escape with their I ves, imme-diately move back upon the half cooled lava, and there live in constant fear of another cruption, foolishly faneying that the only tenant-able portion of the earth rests within the shadow of the great volcano. This fairly illus-trates the force of habit, and the persistency with which people cling to epinions when once formed. For example Dr. Fierce's Go'den Medical Discovery cures incident consumption, coughs, colds, and all affections of the liver and blood, yet some still depend upon physi-cians and remedies that have nought but repeated failures to which they can refer. And although Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is sold under a positive guarantee to cure those weaknesses peculiar to women, and notwith-standing that thousands of women bear testi mony to its efflosey, and the truth of all state-ments made o meering it, many yet submit to the use of caustic and the knife. Again, Dr the nee of caustic and the knife. Again, Dr Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets, no larger that mustard seeds, will positively cure con-stipation, where it is dependent upon dyspepsia or torpid liver ; yet some still depend for relief upon the "blue pill " or huge doses of drastic cathartic medicine. In the face of such facts, can you wonder at the blindness of the poor Italiana? Italiane

MESSES, SETH W. FOWLE & Sons: Gentlemen-Last spring my little daughter, aged five became very much emaciated with loss of appetite, and great prostration of strength, so much so that we were obliged to take har out of school. This continued through the summer and caused us much anxiety. After trying various remedies without deriv-ing any benefit, our family physician recom-mended the use of Peruvian Syrup. After mended the use of Peruvian Syrup. MESSAS, SETH W. FOWLE & SONS using it one week we saw a marked improvement in the child's condition, and in a month she was rapidly gaining in health and strength, her sppetite being excellent. At this date she is perfectly well, with round, plomp cheeks, and healthy color, and is again attending school regularly. I consider her restoration to health entirely due to the Peruvian Syrup, and feel that I cannot too highly recommend it as a tonic.

What the Billous Regatre. Since torpidity of the liver is the chiof cause of its disorders, it is evident that what the bilious require is an alterative sumulant which will arouse it to activity, and effect that is followed by the disappearance of the various symptoms indicative o its derangement. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters invariably achieve the primary result mentioned, besides removing the constipation, flatulence, heart-burn, yel-lowness of the skin and whites of the eyapain in the right side and under the right shoulder, nauses, vertigo and sick headache, to which bilious invalids are peculiarly subject. As a remedy for chronic indigestion, mental despondency, and nervousness, the Bitters are equally efficacious, and as a removant of lost vigor, a means of arresting premature decay, and a source of relief from the infirmities to which the gentler sex is peculiarly subject, they may be thoroughly relied upon.

Besieged Twenty-Three Times.

Constantinople has undergone more sieges than any other city in the world. It has been besieged twenty-three times; twice by the ancient Greeks; thrice by the Roman emperors; once by the Latins, the Persians, the Avares, the Sclaves and by one of its dethroned sovereigns, Michael Paleologus; twice by the Bulgarians; once by the Byzantine seent to Washington in the interests of rebels; seven times by the Arabs, and deu and Nicholls, after the Presidential electhree times by the Turks. It was taken but six: by Alcibiades, the Roman emperors Septimus, Severus and Constantine, the Doge Dandolo and Count Baldwin, the Emperor Michael Paleologus and Mohammed II.

In 672, under Constantine II., it was besieged for seven years by the Arabs. They made the surrounding country a desert, uprooting trees, levelling villages and habitations, and converting the flourishing environs into a waste. Then came the Crusaders in 1204. The devastation committed by the French and Venetian champions of the cross exceeded even that of the Arabs. They burned the richest and largest quarter of the city, and inflicted such a blow on it that it never recovered its former wealth and prosperity. They profaned the Cathe-dral of St. Sophia, broke into the tombs of the Byzantine emperors, dragged out their skeletons, and scattered their bones in the streets. They fired the public fibraries, ridiculed the Greek religion by decking their horses with the vestments of the clergy, and their heads with the pontifical tiaras.

Were it not for the incomparable eanty and advantages of its situation, Constantinople could never have risen again from its ashes and survived such terrible calamities,
