FERVENT WORDS.

A GOOD WOMAN'S TESTIMONY.
 Under date of February 22d, 1878, Miss Sara T. Smith writes from Ldwood, Delaware county, Pa., to Col. Dunbar, of Waukesha, Wis. The letter is before us. It bears the unmistakable evidences of culture and refinement, besides being pervaded with the writer's religious feelings and full belief that a Divine hand led her to try Bethesda water for her affliction, "Bright's disease." We make some extracts. After detailing her intense sufferings, Miss Smith tells of the arrival of the first gallon of Bethesda water:
 "It came, and I followed the directions, stopping all other medicine. In less than four hours the pain was gone. I slept well that night, and the next day left my room for the first time for four weeks."
 The supply of water (1 gallon) then gave out, and it was five days before the sufferer received a 10 gallon keg. Meanwhile, "the pain had returned and all the old misery. On Wednesday night (February 13), I suffered so that I was given 1/2 of a grain of morphia (the most I ever took at one time) without effect. On Thursday I commenced drinking the water at 8 A. M., and before noon was perfectly free from pain, and had no return of it."
 The writer, in conclusion, says: "There is something peculiarly happy in the thought of being thus benefited directly by the hand of God."
