Republican Doctrine.

Sound money, good wages for a day's work, the prosecution of public improvements wherever needed, keeping faith to the nation's creditors, equal justice to all, high and low, rich and poor, white and black; liberal pensions and bounties to the soldiers of the late war, and to their widows and orphans; protection to American citizens everywhere, free education to the masses, an army large enough to protect the frontier and preserve the peace, the unity of States, and the administration of the Government by honest, capable and loyal officers. If this platform is not sound enough for the average citizen to stand upon, he had better look for some lone rock in the sea, upon which to carry out a better one.

HARD TIMES.

The following article appeared in the Meadville Republican of the 2d Inst. It is from the pen of Col. Reisinger, and appears to us to embrace the whole subject. It will do none of our readers hurt to read the Colonel's views, therefore we reproduce the article:

"Hard times is an unpleasant condition of things to everybody, and it is a mistake to say that rich men prefer it. Nobody makes as much money in hard times as in easy times, and one of the causes of hard times among poor men is financial embarrassment to rich men. During the war, the rich made their fortunes greater much more frequently than the poor became wealthy, and no other class has suffered as much as the rich, by the shrinkage of values. If we could force business to the standard of 1864-5 by legislation, that legislation would be in the special interest of the rich. The prevalent idea that the present depression in business is on account of a scarcity of currency is a very erroneous. There never was a time within the memory of a living man, when the currency of the country was greater, in comparison to the value of the property of the country, than it now is. In 1860 the entire bank circulation of the country was two hundred and seven million dollars. It increased until 1865, when the State bank circulation, National bank circulation, demand notes, legal tender notes, one and two year notes of 1863, and interest notes and fractional currency, all combined, aggregated the sum of $983,318,685.76. Of this nearly two hundred millions were in compound interest notes much of which was hoarded and not in circulation in a proper sense. To-day, the paper currency of the country aggregates $688,597,275.25, or about thirty per cent. less than the greatest inflation of the war period. Will any man of sense assert that the prosperous times of 1865 were due to the $300,000,000 additional currency, or that the contraction of that amount has produced the present hard times? It is safe to estimate the shrinkage in values since 1865 at not less than two-thirds. Take all the property of the country, real and personal, and it was worth not less than three times its present value. The Greenback orators put it even higher than this, but we have been careful to speak within bounds. Now if times were flush, money plenty, and in abundance to do the business of the country, when we had only $983,000,000, is it consistent with facts to say that seven-tenths of that amount is insufficient to do the business of the country when values have shrunk to one-third the standard of 1865? And yet the Greenback newspapers are howling for more currency as the only antidote to the financial sufferings of the country.

The truth is, we have enough money. It is industry and economy, and personal honesty which need increasing; it is business integrity, and a determination on the part of all classes to buy only what can be paid for, and to put in a full day's work for a full day's pay. If a million of our farmers and mechanics were put into the army and the Government forced to buy the guns, and ammunition, and horses, and clothing, and rations, and the thousand other things required by men engaged in butchering each other, good times for those at home would soon come again, high prices for labor and produce would rule again, and money would be plenty, even if the aggregate amount of the currency remained at its present figure. This the Greenbacker does not seem to understand. When he comes to understand it he will not be a Greenbacker. One of the first things necessary to discover in a physical disease is the cause, and so of the affections of the body politic, and unless the leaders of the Greenback movement can discover the cause of hard times we shall have little hopes of their ability to treat the disease."

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French, or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. 14-eow-ly

"I Must Lie Down and Die."

The following is an extract from a letter dated July 21, 1877, to the discoverer of Bethesda Water. The writer is the Rev. T. B. Fuller, D. D., D. C. L., Rector of St. Gregory's Church, Toronto, Archdeacon of Niagara, etc., etc. The writer, at the age of 60 years was a victim of Siccharine Diabetes. His physician said (to use Dr. Fuller's words) "he could do no more for me than he had done; that my disease was incurable, and that I must lie down and die." We should state here, in parenthesis, that our townsman, Joseph Fleming, Esq., is the sole and only authorized agent for this wonderful water for this State, as well as for Ohio and West Virginia. To return to Dr. Fuller: "In four days," he writes, "after taking the Water, I obtained relief, and since that time I have taken no medicine, consulted no medical man, and presume, if I could give myself reasonable rest, I would be quite well."

Such testimony, from such a source, should indeed have convincing weight. Sole agent for Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia. JOSEPH FLEMING, 84 Market street, Pittsburgh, Pa.
