Fatal Accident.

Information was received yesterday of the death of Mr. "Ab." Butler, well known to our citizens as a hardworking, energetic and reliable man. His death occurred under the following painful circumstances: It appears | idle. that he had taken a load of people out to the blackberry woods, in Jenks of Forest County, has the lumber busitownship, and on his return, alone, had ness been so extensively pursued in stopped alongside a spring, about five the summer as at the present time. miles northeast of Marienville, un- Ford & Lacy have constructed from hitched and proceeded to feed his their mills to the creek, a plank road, horses, and to eat his lunch. After waiting for they found Mr. Butler, dead, near the spring, with a small wound in one of his temples, presumably made by a cork of a horse-shoe, his dinner, uncovered, sitting beside the spring. A coroner's jury was summoned by Esq. Livingston, and a verdict was rendered in accordance with the facts. The deceased enjoyed the respect and confidence of all who knew him, and his the ladies or gentlemen experienced gloom over the whole circle of his acquaintance. He left a family, consist- parisons vivid. There were a few signing of a wife, a grown-up son, and, we ers, but not many from here. I might ment on that, at the head of some time, they began to suspect that the Coon Railroad, Mr. Collins has something was wrong, and going back, crected several good dwelling houses, one of which is occupied by Geo. Bluerock, formerly of Minister.

On Saturday evening last, Mr. Atwood, supported by a staff of Honoraable Judges, Divines and Legislative gentlemen, delivered a greenback speech in the old school house. The meeting was largely attended and continued until a late hour, but neither sudden and violent death has cast a any weariness, as the speaker's manner was perfectly original, and the combelieve, two small children. His home forward to another meeting, not far Tylersburg, and his age was between Justice, will reply to the arguments of Mr. Atwood.

> A number of friends gathered at Mr. Arner's, on Sunday afternoon, to witness the baptism of three of Mr. A.'s grandchildren. Rev. Elliot performed the service, after which he delivered an eloquent and practical discourse. It is a treat to listen to the Reverend gentleman, as his sermons are filled with original thought, pleasantly expressed. We understand that in the course of a few weeks there will be services held here regularly. If that be be the case, and the minister is an intelligent one, the people will be happy to attend.
