-Mr. Chas. Brooks, formerly of this place, now of Edenburg, has been visiting in and about town for a few days. He is looking and feeling well.

-The new part of the Central House had eaves and spouting put up on it yesterday. The house when completed will be a substantial, large and convenient one.

-Chas. McCray has vacated the Tionesta House, and T. C. Jeckson, an old lumberman on the creek and river, takes his place. Mr. Jackson has a fair reputation as a landlord.

-Staves from the Clarion Co. mills are coming in every day by the thousand. Not less than a dozen teams, drawing large loads of staves, come in every day. Our home mill is still

-The "Dog and Sheep Law," passed last winter, a sort of local option affair, is published to-day for the information and instruction of the voters of Forest Co., and will be put to a test at the general election on the 5th of November.

-Just at present we are in receipt of numerous communications intended for publication, for which we have no room. As soon as election is ever we will have plenty of space, and will be pleased to hear from all our correspondents. Give us news and we will be glad to give it to our readers.

-Rev. A. O. Stone, the new M. E Minister of this circuit, conducted ser vices in town last Sabbath evening and made an appointment for preaching a week from Sunday evening in this place. We understand that be contemplates moving to town providing he can get a suitable house.

-Mr. Geo. Morgan is erecting a good-sized, substantial house on Vine St., opposite the Clark house, now occupied by Boyard. This is one thing to the credit of Tionesta : no matter how close the times are, there are always improvements going on. Mr. Morgan will probably get his house in 39-1y shape for occupation before winter.

Nothing but faithful work from now until election is needed to give our whole ticket at least its usual majority in November.

- On Thursday last John Guyton, of Bear Creek, came into town with the carcass of a bear in the box of his wagon. He had caught it in a trap the day before, and was taking it to Titusville, to dispose of it. Bears are said to be quite numerous this year, and it would not surprise us to see several bear hunts take place before severe weather compels these animals to go into winter quarters.
