LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

—Rev. Elliot will occupy the pulpit of the Presbyterian Church next Sunday, morning and evening. M. E. Sunday School at 10 o'clock a. m., and Presbyterian Sunday School at 3 o'clock p. m.

—Our borough schools close on the 20th of May. —Representative Wheeler was home on a short visit last week.

—A flock of about 500 pigeons flew over this place last Friday.

—Alex. Henage has returned. Tionesta now boasts three painters.

—Mr. A. O. Donovan has moved his family into Mr. Agnew's house.

—A few sea-gulls have been flitting along the shores of the Allegheny for a day or two past.

—How about getting a barrel or two of glass balls and having a little fun at the trap, sports?

—A cow belonging to Mr. L. Agnew was drowned in the creek below the dam one day last week.

—A ten thousand dollar piece of incendiarism took place at Edensburg on last Friday morning.

—By reference to the proper place it will be seen that the list of borough officers has been corrected.

—A silk handkerchief was recently picked up on the street, which the owner can have by calling at this office.

—Miss May Butterfield, who spent the winter in Tionesta, returned to her home in Clarrington, this county, last week.

—Mr. Einstein has gone East to lay in his usual Spring stock of goods. Look out for something grand when he returns.

—Strattanville, Clarion county, got a severe scorching recently. Loss is estimated between twenty-five and thirty thousand dollars.

—Rev. Barnhart, Free Methodist minister from Oil City, preached to a good congregation at the M. E. Church on Saturday evening last.

—As will be seen by reference to notice Prof. Brockway will soon make a tour of the county, holding public examinations of teachers.

—Mr. N. S. Foreman is soon to commence the erection of several buildings for Mr. Lacy, at the Ford & Lacy Mills, above Nebraska.

—Ex-President Grant is expected to arrive in this country sometime in July. He is to be escorted from California by a large excursion party.

—We notice a number of our citizens burning wood in their coal stoves. From this we judge a few loads of coal might find ready sale here.

—Three loads of flitting passed through town yesterday, en route for Fryburg, Pa. The goods, we understand belonged to Rev. J. K. Bricker.

—Charlie Bonner was out suckering last Friday, and succeeded in catching a salt mackerel which some one had put to soak in the back-channel. It was a nice one.

—The Allegheny Riot Bill was indefinitely postponed on Wednesday last by a vote of 103 yeas to 96 nays. It is thought that this will settle the bill for the present session.

—Reports come to us that ducks are quite plenty in the river above town. If they persist in hanging around here much longer, we'll shoulder our Parker and scatter some of them.

—In a letter from Mr. Sam. Bonner, of St. Louis, he tells us he expects to make a break for Leadville soon. When you get out there, Sam., and have enough left to mail a letter let us hear from you.

—One of Harry Mabie's valuable horses, "Dandy," died last week. The horse was dissected and it was found that a large tumor had grown next to his heart, which is supposed to have been the cause of his death.

—Since the "coffin" war Doc. Coburn's cough syrup is quoted at thirty cents per barrel with no fluctuation.

—Sunday Derrick. And Coburn's character for truth and veracity has passed entirely out of the market.

—The Free Methodist brethren of this district have decided to hold their camp meeting in Tionesta this year, and have set July 9th as the time it will commence. The grounds selected for the meetings, we believe, is the beautiful grove immediately back of the Court House. We hope nothing will interfere to prevent their coming this time.

—What a change of expression comes over the individual, about this time year, when he lazily backs up against the door-jam and discovers a paper tacked up on the opposite side with the caution, "Look out for Paint!"

—Now that the new council has been inaugurated, we would suggest that immediate steps be taken looking to the improvement of some of our sidewalks, many of which are in a most dilapidated condition, and should be replaced by new ones where fixing is impracticable.

—Messrs. Hood & Dale coupled up and run to the lower market on Monday last, a timber raft which measured 423 feet in length, and 73 feet in width. It was piloted by Wm. Gibson, and is said, by old lumbermen, to have been the largest Allegheny fleet that ever pulled out of Tionesta creek.

—As will be seen by notice published elsewhere in this issue, the lady of whom we spoke last week as having the typhoid fever at Stewart's Run has died. It is undoubtedly the same disease that prevailed so fatally near Bradford last summer. There are no new cases up to the present, we believe.

—We see that the Odd Fellows of Titusville propose celebrating the 25th of this month, the date of the foundation of American Lodges, by Thomas Wilkey an English blacksmith, and a man of great power and enterprise. Why should not Tionesta Lodge institute a similar celebration of the event?

—The jobbers for Messrs. May & Kelly, are busily engaged driving the logs which have been put in during the winter. The boom is already pretty well filled up, and when all the logs are safely boomed there will be enough to keep the mill which will start up soon, running until late in the summer.

—Doctor Blaine, we understand, has purchased the Powell house opposite the Lawrence House, and will soon commence improving the property in good shape. He will move it back, and put up a large building, using the present one for a kitchen and back part. When finished the Doctor will have a pleasant home.

—Mr. S. H. Haslet has put a very neat paling fence around his domicile, which adds much beauty to the property. When he gets things fixed up to suit him he will have one of the most pleasant homes in town. Situated as it is upon high ground it commands an excellent view of the entire town, besides a mile or two up and down the beautiful Allegheny.

—In his issue of April 3, Coburn said, "We have as yet found no positive proof who did the dirty work." In his last he tells how he charged the boys "in particular to put the marks only on old and useless buildings!" And further on he says: "Although the plan was deeply laid to catch us in a lie, it has not been done." We think further comment unnecessary.

—Quite a number of new business signs are noticeable in town. Mr. Dithridge has had a very handsome and attractive one painted; Mr. Reck has had the front of his boot and shoe store lettered; the Lawrence House sign has undergone a change for the better, and Mr. Bovard has had his store windows handsomely embellished with fancy lettering, and several other places of business in town are to receive similar attractions.

—Speaking of trout stories, Nelt. Cole tells the following: On Salmon creek two years ago, he shot a trout that was in the act of swallowing another. After he had captured him, he took the trout which was being swallowed out of the mouth of his captor, and upon measuring it found it to be two inches longer than the one which was doing the swallowing. While we don't for a moment doubt the truth of Nelt's story, it's pretty hard to "swallow."

—Our lumbermen have been blessed with another flood, by which they have been able to get about all their lumber to market. The creek, from Sheffield to the mouth, with the exception of two or three pieces of the Buck Mills lumber which was stuck, is clear; all having had a most successful run. It has been many years since the lumbermen of Tionesta have had such good success with their lumber, and if they have as good success in disposing of it at fair prices, their happiness will be complete, and they will have no cause for complaint. The mills will now probably all start up for the summer's run.

—Last Thursday, while the stave mill was running at full speed, the pulley of the stave saw broke, throwing the pieces in all directions with terrific force. Fortunately no one was injured, but how they escaped was a miracle; one piece missed Doc. Stewart's head by about an inch, which, had it hit him, would have ended his career in this vale of tears. In consequence of the accident the mill was shut down for several days.

—Attention is called to the new advertisement in to-day's paper of the Reid Institute, Reidsburg, Clarion Co., Pa. This institution, with which quite a number of our citizens are acquainted, is highly spoken of as a place of learning. Prof. Jno. B. Solomon, who has recently taken charge of the school, is a thorough instructor and is using his utmost endeavors to make Reid Institute the best in the land. Send to him for particulars.

—Morris Einstein who has gone East, requests us to state that he will visit New York and Philadelphia, and while there will make it his business to buy his stock of goods for the spring trade. He says he has the cash to pay for goods and for this reason expects to get a large discount, and will give his customers the benefit of the immense bargains which he proposes to get. He invites the public to call and examine his stock when he returns, which will be in about a week.

—The Derrick flares out last Tuesday, digs up a dead man at Triumph, finds he was buried alive, kills one woman and kicks up a sensation generally, over the digging up of a man named Burket who died in Fagundas two or three weeks ago. This man died Thursday, was buried Sunday, but the grave was opened Monday on account of reports of his being liable to trances. Dr. McKay, and all who saw the remains, knew the man was dead, and he was quickly reinterred. —Tidoute News.

—The leading illustrated article of the May number of Ballou's Magazine is about the monkey-men of New Guinea, told by the author of "A Whaleman's Adventures," and very well told the yarn is, although we think our friend had to leave the island to suddenly to pay much attention to the strange beings he has attempted to describe. Then we find several nice stories, and a number of poems, adventures, and sea yarns, all going to make up the contents of a first-class magazine. Published by Thomas & Talbot, 23 Hawley Street, Boston, at $1.50 a year post-paid, and for sale at all the periodical depots in the country for 15 cents a copy.

Cyclopedia of Literature.

A list of the celebrated authors whose lives and writings are represented in volume 3 of the new Acme edition of Chamber's Cyclopedia of English Literature, just received, is certainly very attractive to any person of fine literary taste. Fox, Penn, Baxter, Bunyan, Locke, Newton, Browne, Hals, Walton, Dryden, Temple, Evelyn, Pepys, Butler, Addison, Swift, Pope, Ramsay, Cibber, Steele, Berkeley, Defoe, and Bolingbroke, are a few of the brilliant stars which brighten the 416 pages. "It will bring gladness to many a scholar's heart," says the Times of Philadelphia, "to find that this truly admirable work has been brought within the range of shallow pockets." Eight such volumes, beautifully printed, and elegantly bound in cloth, for only $2.50, or by the single volume for 43 cents, post-paid, is certainly a marvel of cheapness, and should establish an enviable reputation for the publishers, if it can not make their fortune. Already they report a sale of nearly 60,000 volumes. It ought to be in every library and home in the land. Specimen pages and full particulars as to various styles of binding, terms to clubs, etc., will be sent free on request by the publishers, the American Book Exchange, 55 Beekman street, New York. The work is sold only to subscribers direct, and the present wonderfully low rates are offered only to early purchasers.

Modern Socialism.

It is not generally known that the late John Stuart Mill, perhaps the ablest of modern writers on political and social science, commenced in the year 1869 a book on Socialism, which, if it had been completed, would probably have been recognized as the greatest of his works. Manuscript chapters of the incomplete work have recently been brought to light, and are found so nearly complete in themselves, and so ably to discuss questions now most prominent in the public thought, that a London Review, and also The Library, Magazine of New York are publishing them. They are announced to appear in book form on April 25th, published by the American Book Exchange, New York. The price, post-paid, in cloth, will be 50 cents. It is a work which all students of political and social topics, and all enlightened citizens, will be glad to read.

—If you want a handsome Photograph call on Frank Robbins when in Oil City. He does fine work at reasonable figures. It.

DIED.

HOTCHKISS.—At her father's residence, Stewart's Run, Forest County, Pa., Saturday morning, April 12, 1879, Mrs. R. J. Hotchkiss, aged 29 years, 1 month and 4 days; of typhoid fever.

We watched her breathing thro' the night— Her breathing soft and low, As in her breast the wave of life Kept heaving to and fro.

So silently we seemed to speak— So slowly moved about, As we had lent her half our powers To eke her living out.

Our very hopes belied our fears— Our fears our hopes belied; We thought her dying when she slept, And sleeping when she died.

For when the morn came dim and sad, And chill with early showers, Her quiet eyelids closed,—she had Another morn than ours.

A FRIEND. HELISEL.—At the residence of James A. Scott Esq., Jenks Township Forest County, Pa., April 9th, 1879, Mr. Adam Hessel, in his sixty-ninth year, of disease of the kidneys.

Mr. Hessel was born in the year 1810, and was a citizen of Cherry Grove township, Warren County, Pa. He had been stopping at the house of Wm. Nugent, Jenks twp, this county, for several weeks. He became very ill, and was taken in charge by the Overseers of the Poor; he was in their care, and the ninth day thereafter died, wholly among strangers.

Mr. Hessel said he had three sons and a daughter living, and that he was formerly of Bedford County, Pa.
