THE BEST REMEDY KNOWN TO MAN!

Dr. Clark Johnson having associated himself with Mr. Edwin Eastman, an escaped captive, long a slave to Wakamitka, the medicine man of the Comanches, is now prepared to send his aid in the introduction of the wonderful remedy of that tribe. The experience of Mr. Eastman being similar to that of Mrs. Chas. Jones and son, of Washington Co., Iowa, an account of whose sufferings were thrillingly narrated in the New York Herald of Dec. 13th, 1878, the facts of which are so widely known, and so nearly parallel, that but little mention of Mr. Eastman's experiences will be given here. They are, however, published in a neat volume of 300 pages, entitled, "Seven and Nine Years Among the Comanches and Apaches," of which mention will be made hereafter. Suffice it to say that for several years, Mr. Eastman, while a captive, was compelled to eat roots, gums, bark, herbs and berries of which Wakamitka's medicine was made, and is still prepared to provide the same materials for the successful introduction of the medicine to the world; and assures the public that the remedy is the same now as when Wakamitka compelled him to make it.

FOR THE YOUNG FOLKS.

Do Right, Speak Truth.
Children who read my book,
This much I have to say:
Each day and every day,
Do what is right;
Right things in great and small,
Then, though the sky should fall,
Sun, moon and stars, and all,
You shall have light,
This further I would say;
Be tempted as you may,
Each day and every day,
Speak what is true;
Then, though the sky should fall,
Sun, moon and stars, and all,
Heaven would show through.

The Arithmetic of Gingerbread.
"R-U-D-I-M-E-N-T-S, rudiments," spelled Katy. "Believe I'll find out what that means this minute; it's better'n these horrid fractions," and she started to look for the word in the worn old Webster's "Unabridged." She had banished from his handsome shelves to the children's room upstairs.

The family ate them hot for supper that night, despite Dr. Dio Lewis and all the laws of health, and pronounced them very fine cakes indeed. What they lacked in ginger (you see Katy, in her perplexity over hot water, forgot to double the ginger) papa made up in praise, and, as mamma's headache was gone, they all were happy.

Katy was early at school the next morning, and, shying up to the teacher's desk, said:
"Miss Johnson, you looked as if you thought I was either crazy or stupid the other day, when I said I didn't believe rudiments were 'in anything in the world.' You see, I meant 'in anything' we do or make. But I've come to tell you that I've changed my mind. Last night I had to make gingerbread for tea, and the first thing I know, I got right into fractions—two-thirds of things—and all the rules."—Mary B. Willard in S. Nicholas.

The Blessing of Strong Nerves
Is recoverable, not by the use of mineral salts, but by a recourse to effective tonic treatment. Opium and the like should only be used as auxiliaries, and then as sparingly as possible. Vigorous nerves are quiet ones, and the most direct way to render them so is to reinforce the vital energies. That steeling ingredient, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, will be found all-sufficient for this purpose, since it entirely removes impediments to thorough digestion and assimilation of the food, so that the body is insured its due amount of nourishment, and consequently of stamina. Rheumatic tendencies and affections of the kidneys and bladder are also counteracted by the Bitters, which is besides a pleasant medicinal stimulant, infinitely purer than the raw excitants of commerce, which react injuriously upon the nervous system.

If you are Interested

In the inquiry—Which is the best Liniment for Man and Beast?—this is the answer, attested by two generations: THE MEXICAN MEXICAN LINIMENT. The reason is simple. It penetrates every sore, wound, or lumbago, to the very bone, and drives out all inflammatory and morbid matter. It goes to the root of the trouble, and never fails to cure in double quick time.

Wakamitka, the Medicine Man

Nothing has been added to the medicine and nothing has been taken away. It is without doubt the Best Purifier of the Blood and Restorer of the System ever known to man. This Syrup possesses varied properties. It acts upon the Liver. It acts upon the Kidneys. It regulates the Stomach. It purifies the Blood. It quiets the Nervous System. It promotes Digestion. It nourishes, Strengthen, and invigorates. It carries off the old blood and makes new. It opens the pores of the skin, and induces healthy Perspiration. It neutralizes the hereditary taint, or poison in the blood, which generates Scrofula, Erysipelas, and all manner of skin diseases and internal humors. It removes humors and impurities from its manufacture. It is the most perfect medicine ever known to man. It is the only one that is not only safe, but also being required in the smallest quantities.

A CORRECT LIKENESS OF MR. EDWIN EASTMAN BY THE INDIANS IN 1860

Wonderful Mirages in Arizona.
An imaginative correspondent, writing from Arizona, says: "It was only a few weeks ago, between Gila Bend and Maricopa, that I witnessed a most marvelous and exquisite series of transformations reflected by the phenomenon of mirage. The Sierra de las Estrella mountain had entirely disappeared, and in its place was a walled city upon the margin of a beautiful lake. All at once the city disappeared; a castellated mountain rose in the middle of the lake and turned into a palace, which, after balancing itself in the air, toppled over and sank into the bosom of the tranquil waters. Then arose a multi-rapidly assumed the character of fairy castles, with lakelets within their domes, and refracting powers of the adjacent strata of air, the islets became transformed into castles, cathedrals, buttresses, cubes, fortifications and other rock systems of architecture, which only survived, however, to vanish on perfect completion. Again rose an object which resembled a magnificent opera house or cathedral, with the requisite description of gothic windows and domes, balustrades, imposing arches and doorways and many colored lamps. This last picture gave way to an immense island, which seemed to be suspended in the air, until shivered into almost infinitesimal fragments, each of which assumed a variety of shapes, with serrated borders, and soon vanished or became truncated below the horizon. Then arose an immense island, in shape not unlike Gibraltar; again, it closely resembled Alcázar, lifted in the air, all the while presenting an aspect as threatening as either of the strongholds above named. Then came the pyramids, and anon, the Casa Grande, precisely as it exists fifty miles away. Presently a broad white scarf seemed to have been thrown over the last named elevation, yet permitting a formation like the picture of the "Rock of Ages."

The Camera Obscura.
One of the wonders of New York is Central Park, and the wonder of Central Park is the camera obscura "Octagonal." It is a little eight-sided building, surmounted by a small turret furnished with a movable lens. Directly under the turret is a table about five feet in diameter, with a highly polished surface, and on it the scenery of the park and surrounding country is reflected from the lens with marvelous distinctness. Even the country on Long Island, across the East river, is plainly visible, as if one were looking at it through a telescope.

The room will accommodate about a dozen people at a time. It is darkened, and the only light admitted enters through the lens and is thrown on the table. It is a most marvelous sight. One may see his friends in any part of the park. The slightest ripple on the lake, or the movement of the leaves on distant trees, is vividly shown on the table, and all the varied and beautiful colors are preserved in the moving, miniature picture. Detectives repair to the "Octagonal" when suspected parties are supposed to be in the park. A man or woman sitting or walking half a mile away cannot escape the eye of science. Among the many objects to be seen are, Masonic Temple, the Catholic Cathedral, the churches of upper New York, and the Palisades of the Hudson, each appearing in turn as the turret revolves. When one wishes to examine a particular portion of the park, the superintendent gives the machine a turn, and the spot appears on the table, while the bewildered spectator thinks of Aaddin and his lamp, and wonders why, if the days of enchantment have really come, the magician does not transform the dingy room into a palace worthy of such splendid scenes.
