

DR. CLARK'S INDIAN BLOOD PURIFIER

LABORATORY, 77 W. 31 ST., NEW YORK CITY.
LATH OF JERSEY CITY.

Cures Fevers and Ague.
Cures Scrofula and Skin Diseases.
Cures Rheumatism and Gout.
Cures Dropsy and Dropsy.
Cures Headache and Dizziness.
Cures Nervous Debility.

The Best Remedy Known to Man!
Dr. Clark Johnson having associated himself with Mr. Edwin Eastman, an escaped convict, long a slave to Wakamekia, the medicine man of the Comanches, is now prepared to lend his aid in the introduction of the wonderful remedy of that tribe. The experience of Mr. Eastman being similar to that of Mrs. Chas. Jones and son, of Washington Co., Iowa, an account of whose sufferings were thrillingly narrated in the New York Herald of Dec. 15th, 1878, the facts of which are so widely known, and so nearly parallel, that little mention of Mr. Eastman's experiences will be given here. They are, however, published in a neat volume of 300 pages, entitled "Seven and Nine Years Among the Comanches and Apaches," which mentions what would be made heretofore. Suffice it to say that for several years, Mr. Eastman, while a captive, was compelled to gather the roots, gums, bark, herbs and berries of which Wakamekia's medicine was made, and is still prepared to provide the same materials for the successful introduction of the medicine to the world. It is the same medicine that the remedy is the same now as when Wakamekia compelled him to make it.

Wakamekia, the Medicine Man.
Nothing has been added to the medicine and nothing has been taken away. It is without doubt the Best Purifier of the Blood and Rheumatism of the System ever known to man.
This Syrup possesses varied properties.
It acts upon the Liver.
It acts upon the Kidneys.
It regulates the Bowels.
It purifies the Blood.
It quiets the Nervous System.
It promotes Digestion.
It nourishes, Strengthens and Invigorates.
It carries off the old blood and makes new.
It opens the pores of the skin, and induces healthy Perspiration.
It neutralizes the hereditary taint, or poison in the blood, which generates Scrofula, Erysipelas, and all manner of skin diseases and internal ailments. There are no spirits employed in its manufacture, and it can be taken by the most delicate babe, or by the aged and feeble, care only being required in its administration.

Edwin Eastman in Indian Costume.
SEVEN AND NINE YEARS AMONG THE COMANCHES AND APACHES. A beautiful volume of 300 pages, being a simple statement of the horrible facts connected with the sad massacre of a helpless family and the captivity, tortures and ultimate escape of its two surviving members. For sale by your agents generally. Price, $1.00.
The incidents of the massacre, briefly narrated, are distributed by agents, free of charge.
Mr. Eastman, being almost constantly at the West, engaged in gathering and curing the materials of which the medicine is composed, the sole business management devolves upon Dr. Johnson, and the remedy has been called, and is known as Dr. Clark Johnson's INDIAN BLOOD PURIFIER.

Testimonials of Cures.
PITTSBURGH, Pa., August 25, 1878.
Dear Sir:—I was troubled with Kidney Disease and Liver complaints. I tried everything which I thought might do me good, but I did not find the right medicine until I got a 50-cent bottle of your medicine, which entirely cured me.
MRS. RANDALL.
ENTIRELY CURED.
PITTSBURGH, Pa., August 25, 1878.
Dear Sir:—I was troubled with Lung Disease and suffered from other complaints so much that I could not describe my feelings to any person. I doctored all the time, but found no relief until I took a bottle of your Indian Blood Syrup, which left me entirely free of all pain.
CAPT. SAM. A. CARGO.
RECEIVED GREAT BENEFIT FROM IT.
HOLMSBURG, 23d Ward, Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 24, 1879.
Dear Sir:—I take great pleasure in saying that I have given your valuable Indian Blood Syrup a fair trial in my family and received great benefit from it.
SAML' N. SOLLY.
LIVER COMPLAINT.
PENNSYLVANIA MILLS, Feb. 22, 1879.
Dear Sir:—I have used your Indian Blood Syrup and found it to do all you claim for it. It is a sure cure for Liver Complaint.
JOSEPH HAINES.
REMEDY FOR LIVER AND KIDNEY DISEASE.
EDINGTON, Feb. 2, 1879.
Dear Sir:—I can, from my experience, recommend your Indian Blood Syrup as a sure cure for Liver and Kidney Disease.
ELIZABETH A. SANDS.

My agent can also furnish inquiries with many names and addresses of others who have experienced the good effects of the justly celebrated Indian Blood Syrup, and we would request all in need of a Blood Purifier or Liver Regulator to call and get a pamphlet, and make such inquiries as they may wish.

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

Household Hints.
Always water plants with a sponge. Get the large, coarse kind and you will save yourself much annoyance and splattered walls.
When the hams are taken down they should be dampened all over with thick starch; then receive a complete coat of black pepper; rub it on till they are black with it and every crevice filled up. Then hung up in a dark smoke-house nothing will ever molest them.
The Parisian method of cleaning black silk is to brush and wipe it thoroughly, lay it on a flat table, with the side up which is intended to show, and sponge with hot coffee strained through muslin. Allow it to become partially dry, then iron.
The prudent housewife who, on account of "hard times," has decided not to re-paper the sitting-room, as desirable, will find the old paper very much improved in appearance by simply rubbing it well with a fannel cloth dipped in oatmeal.
Never carpet the kitchen floor. It catches all the dirt, grease and odors of cooking. Stain or paint the floor, then spread down pieces of carpet in front of the lounge, table and wherever necessary. These should be bound like a rug. They can easily be taken up, shaken and aired.
Fruit spots are removed from white and fast-colored cottons by the use of chloride of soda. Commence by cold-soaping the article, then touch the spot with a hair-pencil or a feather dipped in the chloride, dipping it immediately into cold water to prevent the texture of the article being injured.
To remove grease from silk, take a lump of magnesia, and rub it wet over the spot; let it dry, then brush the powder off, and the spot will disappear; or take a visiting card, separate it, and rub the spot with the soft internal part, and it will disappear without taking the gloss off the silk.
A moth-destroying tincture is made as follows: One ounce of gum camphor and one ounce powdered shell of red pepper are macerated in eight ounces of strong alcohol for seven days and then strained. With this tincture the furs or cloths are sprinkled over and rolled up in sheets. This remedy is used in Russia under the name of "Chinese tincture for moths," and is found very effective.
Planting Grapevines.
One would suppose that so simple a thing as planting a grapevine would not need writing about; and yet the number of people inquiring "How shall we plant?" is so great that a few words to those who think they already know enough about the matter. The rule is to plant the roots shallow. If they are long when we have transplanted them, instead of setting them deep we lay them along to extend four or five inches beneath the surface. It is of course very necessary to press the soil very hard and firm over the roots; that is if the earth is tolerably dry, though in truth no vine should be planted except the earth is in this good condition.
It is very useful in planting a grapevine to cut it closely in. Unless the last year's growth be very vigorous it may be almost all cut away. This is the way to get a good strong cane for bearing next year, which is the most that one ought to expect a vine to do. "Immediate bearing" is a delusion and a snare. Many a person spends a dollar and a half extra on a vine which he is told by the seller will "bear this year," when for that amount of money he could buy three or four vines which would bear in the next year.
A German writer tells us that a number of excellent dyes can be obtained from the berries of common plants, by boiling them in water so as to produce a strong decoction. The whortleberry and the blueberry, when boiled down, with an addition of a little alum and copperas, will make a fine shade of dark blue. The same treatment, with a solution of nut galls added to it, will make a handsome brown; while, by adding alum, several shades of bright purple and red can be obtained. The juice of elderberries boiled in water with a little alum will also produce a shade of blue. The berries of the privet, when over-ripe, will yield, by a mixture of a little salt, a scarlet red, and the seeds of the burning bush, when treated with sal ammoniac, make a beautiful reddish-purple. The juice of the currant, with a little alum, will dye a bright shade of red; and the bark of the bush, treated in the same way, makes a good brown. Yellow can be obtained from the bark of the elm, the poplar, the ash and the apple tree, boiled down strong and mixed with alum water. The tassels of broom corn, treated in the same way, produce a good shade of green.
Raising Geese.
Why is the interest in raising geese so small? How can a poultry yard be complete without them? I raised three broods of goslings from one goose last year. The same goose has laid thirty-two eggs this year. Her time for hatching the second setting is up now. The first setting was destroyed by a new man on my farm, who shook the eggs, thinking they were added, not knowing that they need four days longer than usual in December and January. Goslings raised last July are hatching now. Every hatch of four geese should have one gander with them. I find that when there is only one gander to six geese there are too many infertile eggs. I've had only two eggs of that sort that failed to be detected by testing, since I began keeping geese. My geese are of a pure breed—grayish brown, knuckle-billed Chinese birds, with large bodies. I consider them a profitable addition to the poultry-yard. Unlike the Toulouse and white geese, they are not rompers.—Rural New Yorker.
That times are bad is the cry from all quarters, and economy is the order of the day. Consequently it is not surprising that a movement is on foot to abolish feather-beds, and to sleep on tick only. If this is not hard, one would like to know what is.

A Curious Remedy for Throat and Lung Diseases.

A stranger would imagine that a hospital for consumptives had been established at the Belmont Oil Works, when passing there on a fine day. Sickly-looking men, more shadow than substance; sparsely-built females, and mothers with delicate little ones may be seen passing up and down in front of the works, their mouths continually open, as though they desired to inhale all the by-no-means fragrant vapors which proceed from the stills. Such in fact is the reason for their presence in the neighborhood. It is the theory that the vapor gas from the boiling oil is a sure cure for throat and lung diseases, and numbers flock to the spot day after day. The employees of the works are among the strongest advocates of the theory. About fifty men are engaged at the refinery, and although they are subjected to all the vicissitudes of the weather, and work in the open air the winter through, pulmonary complaints are unknown among them. This is true also of the four hundred employed at the Standard works at Point Breeze, the people residing in the vicinity of both works also enjoy remarkably good health. It is stated on good authority that some years ago, when the small-pox was raging in the city, the neighborhood adjacent to the refinery, which was then situated at Hestonville, was exempt from the contagion, and that no signs of it appeared along the streets under which were the drains through which the refuse of the stills passed.
Crude oil is also stated to be a good remedy for pulmonary complaints. Formerly large numbers of consumptives were in the habit of obtaining supplies from the refineries, and some wonderful stories are told of individuals on the brink of the grave who have been brought back to the vigor of manhood by a close application of the greasy, coffee-colored liquid.—Philadelphia Record.

Extraordinary Drive of Logs.
Last week there was started from the headwaters of the Connecticut river, New Hampshire, by far the largest drive of spruce logs belonging to one party ever set afloat upon the Connecticut river or even any river in the United States. Four-fifths of the drive is the property of the Connecticut River Lumber Company of this city. It contains about 50,000,000 feet. Ten millions out of the 50,000,000 a.e. sold and will be delivered to various paper mills along the river line, to be made into pulp. Three millions of feet will be rafted from this city to the New Haven steam sawmill. The balance will be distributed between the three mills owned and operated by the above company at Mount Tom, Holyoke and Hartford. This company was organized in February, 1878. They are the owners of 120 acres of lumber land in New Hampshire, including the lands that were formerly in dispute between the English and American governments, and were finally accorded to the United States by the Ashburton treaty. During the fall and winter months (the company cut and haul their logs to various landings, employing 1,000 horses. On the break up of spring, the logs are driven down on the Connecticut river, and so on down an operation which requires two or three months. This company supplies a large extent of the entire New England lumber market, and also introduces large quantities of lumber to New York.—Hartford Times.

Traveling in Extra Hazardous.

If the tourist is unprovided with some medicinal resource. Changes of temperature, food and water of an unaccustomed or unwholesome quality, and a route that lies in the tropics or other regions where malaria exists, are enough to bring with it danger to one who has been improvident enough to neglect a remedial safeguard. The concurrent testimony of many voyagers by land and sea establishes the fact that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters enables those who use it to encounter hazards of the nature referred to with impunity; and that as a medicinal adapted to the action of the Bitters promptly and completely.

THE GOSPEL OF JOY.

The Gospel of Joy
Is a new Singing Book of unusual beauty for Gospel Meetings, Camp Meetings, Devotional Meetings and Sunday-schools.
By Rev. SAMUEL ALWAN and S. H. SPENCE. It contains a large number of new and very superior Hymns and Tunes. The general style is very cheerful and bright, as befits a collection that has so much to say and sing about "Glad Tidings of Great Joy."

Both words and music are of an elevated character, commensurate themselves to persons of refined taste, and the "gospel measure" so prevalent in many recent compositions has been carefully avoided.
Price 25 cts., for which specimen copies will be mailed to any address.
See Decoration Day Music in the Musical Record, 8 cts.

GOOD NEWS!
(35 cts.) the recent Sunday-school Song Book, has thousands of friends. Do not fail to examine and try it. There are 750 songs in the composition of students and which great taste and ability has been displayed. Re-examine also "Shining River," and "The River of Life," two standard books of great beauty.
