LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

—Rev. A. O. Stone will preach in the M. E. Church next Sunday evening. M. E. Sunday School at 10 o'clock a. m., and Presbyterian Sunday School at 3 o'clock p. m. —Be sure you are Registered before Sept. 4. —Argument Court will be held here next Friday, 29th.

—Mrs. S. D. Irwin spent last week at Chautauqua, returning on Saturday. —Ferd. Wenk has the foundation laid for a new house on his Dutch Hill farm. —Are you registered? If not, see to it at once that your name is on the list. Sept. 4th is the last day.

—Miss Eva Bowman, of Coopers-town, Venango Co., is here on a visit to her cousin, Miss Flora Haslet. —Mrs. E. M. Wood has returned to Tionesta looking well. She expects to make her home here for a while.

—A very pleasant dancing party took place at the Central House dining room last Wednesday evening. —A new Lutheran Church is being built at Newmansville, Clarion Co., near the old one whose corner stone was robbed a week or two ago.

—Mr. H. W. Roberts has our thanks for copies of the daily Assembly Herald published at Fair Point, during the session of the S. S. Assembly. —Mr. J. Bonner of Stoneboro, Pa., accompanied by his two daughters, Mrs. Hines, and Miss Bertie, were here on a visit to Mr. Robinson's family during the past week.

—W. B. Osgood, who lives near Ross Run, killed a rattlesnake which had sixteen rattles. In point of rattles this will compare favorably with any of your big snake stories. —The orchards on Dutch Hill have all got on a big load, and there'll be cider enough to keep the stomach-works of the body politic in a ferment until the bloom is once more on the dandelion.

—Miss Painter's school, at Ross Run, gave an exhibition last Friday evening. All who took part are said to have acquitted themselves handsomely, and the exhibition was a success.

—A. A. Graham Esq., of Clearfield, paid our sanctum a visit last week. Mr. G. is one of the legal lights of Clearfield County, and a very pleasant gentleman. We believe he was the guest of Esq. Tate while in town.

—A fierce war is raging between the Venango Water company and the railroad men over the possession of the water supply in the hills around Franklin. If worst comes to worst, they might fall back on beer.

—Dr. S. J. Fisher, Dentist, of Warren, Pa., is at the Lawrence House, at present, and will remain the balance of the week. All in need of his services will do well to call early.

—Mr. Hobart H. Stow and wife have been visiting in town for a few days, and are guests of H. H. May, Esq. Time makes no change in "Hobe" Stow, and a warm welcome always awaits him here among the friends and neighbors of former days.

—Mr. Henry Shoemaker starts to-day for Atchison, Kansas, with a view to settling in that country. His family will remain here until he has a location looked up, when he will send for them. He expects to work at the carpenter trade. Good luck, Henry.

—All three of our borough schools open next Monday morning. The directors have had the building calcimined and cleaned and put in good comfortable shape for the teachers and pupils, and from present indications it would seem that the attendance will be large.

—The camp meeting at Lickingville was not so well attended this year, it is said, as on former occasions. Quite a number were out from this place on Sunday, but by no means as many as usual. Hard times have a tendency to detract from a camp meeting crowd as well as anything else.

—Mr. H. M. Irwin departed yesterday, after a week's sojourn among friends here. May is a whole crowd of fellows in one. He left many good stories with "the boys" which will never do them a particle of good because they can't make a nose at re-telling them. Come again.

War in the Camp.

An incident at the Lickingville camp meeting on Saturday evening illustrated the truth of Byron's famous line, that "Hell has no fury like a woman scorned" when it suits her convenience to get up on her ear. The lady in this instance happened to be one who is well known in our town, having for a considerable spell been an inmate in the household of one of our prominent lawyers. Teaching, however, is her natural gait, and for several seasons she has wielded the birch with vigor and effect under our matchless common school system. There was one who made frequent court to her with more than a pupil's love. He was a man, and not a pupil. It would seem from the sequel that into the unworthy receptacle of this fickle man's chest she had socked some portion of her affections.

On Saturday she repaired to the Feast of Tabernacles at Lickingville. The man, whom we will call Scott McCracken, because that is not his name, was there. They met by chance, but not the usual way. Hanging to his arm, and snuggled up against his vest pattern, was another of the fair and fascinating sex. The love of the out-rivalled woman turned to gall, and her rage at once culminated in the shot-gun policy. Drawing forth a revolver, she rushed at the doomed deceiver, with the full intention of letting the light of Lickingville through the earthly tabernacle of McCracken.

But Providence had other uses in reserve for the man. Friendly hands laid hold upon the furious avenger, and restrained her from opening up the preposed bombardment of the McCracken works. This, however, was not accomplished without a Kilkenny struggle, in which the lady's camp meeting outfit was torn and shredded until she had scarcely clothing enough left to make a flying jib for a wheelbarrow. The general opinion is that it is of the Lord's mercies that the doctors ain't naining for lead on McCracken's premises. He at once entered on an active hunt for solitude, and says he won't resume the courting business until he has completed his sheet-iron shirt and bomb-proof breeches.

—We understand the Tylersburg base ballists took offense at our report of the recent game played with our club. We are very sorry for this, as nothing was farther from our intentions than to be impartial or give any offense. We complimented our boys on one play they made, because we considered it worthy of special mention; we also stated that two men were substituted who had had very little practice, and that the entire club was rusty, having had very little practice since their last game with Tylersburg, which is true. We didn't think the Tylersburg boys needed any compliments, because if our boys played well and were beaten, certainly the Tylersburgers must have played better, which was a compliment on the face of it. The boys cannot find fault at the treatment they have always received at the hands of our club, and for our part, if we had any compliments to bestow Tylersburg has always received her share of them. We hope the boys won't be so sensitive in the future.

—We had a pleasant call from Dr. Shamburg on Wednesday of last week. The Doctor speaks very encouragingly of Forest county as the future oil territory. His operations are all, or nearly all, confined to this county at present, he having a large lease of territory along West Hickory creek, and has several wells drilling. He has recently let a contract for the drilling of six wells in that vicinity, and thinks by the time these are finished he will know pretty well where and in what direction the belt lays. When such successful operators as Dr. Shamburg begin to look with favor on Forest county, we feel safe to predict for her a rapid and thorough development. We shall before long try and gather some interesting facts concerning his operations.

—Last Saturday Sheriff Randall put the ball and chain to the two prisoners who have recently shown such strong desire to get out and breathe the free air of heaven. They didn't appreciate it, and so picked up the balls and mashed the chains, whereupon the Sheriff introduced the shackles, which they now wear with becoming grace.

—We take pleasure in returning thanks to those gentlemen who have lately come up and subscribed for the REPUBLICAN, and paid us the cash in advance. Our list has steadily increased since we took charge of the paper, and if it keeps on increasing in the future as it has in the past six months it will have nearly doubled by the time the first year is up. It is also a gratifying fact that very many of our old subscribers have come up promptly and squared up their subscriptions for a year in advance. Again we say, thank you, gentlemen; we hope to give you your money's worth.

—Messrs. Jamieson & Copeland, who have for the past year been manufacturing staves near Little Tionesta creek, recently purchased the white-oak timber on J. A. Propper's farm, Dutch Hill, and will, as soon as they have finished the run at their present location, move their mill to Tionesta. They expect to buy up other timber tracts in this vicinity, and will no doubt have enough to keep their mill running a year or two, when once in operation. This will make four mills in Tionesta,—two lumber mills, and two stave mills. The more the merrier.

—Miss Clara Roberts, of Cincinnati, who has been visiting at the May mansion, shipped her Saratoga on Friday and started to Lyons, N. Y., to spread her conquests further. She made many friends and admirers during her brief stay, and, consequently, the snapping of heart-strings in this section sounds like a fire in a cane-brake. Miss Georgia Stow, who accompanied Miss Roberts, departs to-day, bearing with her the good wishes of many new friends in Tionesta.

—One of our visiting sportsmen slipped off quietly the other afternoon and tried his luck for bass. He reported a catch of seven, but remarked at the same time that the run of this year's bass is unusually small in size. It appears that he used an overgrown horny chub for bait. After hauling out that chub a few dozen times he observed that it was growing ungracefully corpulent, and on opening it he found the seven bass which his sportive bait had picked up.

—Morris the Tailor of Oil City, has just returned from New York with a large and complete line of Fall goods which he will make up at remarkably low figures. He has also added a full line of Gents Furnishing Goods to his business. Any one in need of anything in Mr. Morris' line can not do better than to give him a call. A perfect fit and entire satisfaction guaranteed in every instance. It.

—The river road from Tubb's Run to the Hickory Twp., line is undergoing needed repairs. The trees and brush are being trimmed out, giving the sun more chance to strike the road and keep it dried up. This always has been the worst piece of road in this section, and it is hoped when this job is finished it will be much improved, and safe to travel.

—The grass in the river bottom is now ripe for the equine sportsman, and bites keenly. Mr. H. M. Irwin and Dr. Coburn took a rattling troll on Saturday, and caught enough grass on their hooks to stuff a boarding house pillow. This grass may be called Greenback game—fiat fish, as it were. All flesh is grass, and so's all fish.

—Last Thursday Mrs. Robb, who lives two miles up the creek, was overcome by the heat, while in the garden gathering some vegetables. She was assisted into the house and Dr. Blaine was summoned, who found her in a very critical condition. He administered the usual remedies in such cases, and she is now able to be out again.

—The articles of lost property advertised in our paper of last week, viz: an expense book; a valuable shirt stud; and J. T. Dale's dog, were all found and returned to their proper owners, in a short time after the paper was out. This readily shows the efficacy of the REPUBLICAN as an advertising medium.

—Squirrels are coming in somewhat, it seems. Pat Black says he saw five black ones last week—three one day and two another—near the mouth of Little Tionesta. We also hear of others having been seen in the neighborhood. Next Monday is the day, so rub up your fowling pieces, ye sports.

—Genesee Valley Clawson Seed Wheat for sale at Oiltown. Samples of this wheat can be seen at the Bank, Tionesta, Pa. 23 3f.

"Hickory Buds."

EAST HICKORY, PA., Aug. 21, '79. We, of this section are all living as best we can, enjoying as much of the good things of this world as are by us gettable.

The farmers are mostly done harvesting, and are busy preparing their fallows. Present appearances indicate a bountiful yield of buckwheat. Potatoes promise more than an average crop, and corn will repay for labor should jack frost not be over premature in the bestowal of his tender regards.

Henry W. Miller of Beaver, who, on Friday the 15th inst., had his arm broken is doing finely, and we hope, may before long be able to attend his work as usual.

The new road up Beaver Creek is being pushed to completion with rapidity. When finished we expect to have the boss road.

The even tenor of our thoughts are at this moment somewhat interrupted by the gay voices of two loads of Hickoryites, enroute for Bobs' Creek, where we understand blackberries abound in profusion.

Mr. T. J. Bowman has bought the lot in Hickory village previously owned by Major Anderson, on which was a good substantial frame house, which he has removed to the lot opposite his store. He intends to remodel and otherwise improve the house, when it will then be to let,—of course, to the highest bidder. It will make a very pleasant residence.

We had the pleasure of listening to an able and pointed sermon from Rev. Elihu McMichael, of Tylersburg. We hope we may have the honor and pleasure of listening to more of his discourses in the near future.

Important to Hunters.

Now that the hunting season has fairly opened, the following information, compiled from the game laws, will be found to be of interest. In order to avoid trouble, gunners should cut this out for ready reference during the shooting season:
