

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET

FOR STATE TREASURER, HON. SAMUEL BUTLER, of Chester County.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY TICKET.

FOR ASSOCIATE JUDGE, LEWIS ARNER. FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY, S. D. IRWIN, ESQ. FOR COUNTY SURVEYOR, JACOB COOK, FOR CORONER, JOHN HUNTER.

VOTE FOR BUTLER, ARNER, IRWIN, COOK, and HUNTER.

Boys, stick to the ticket; let us take ours straight. They did in Ohio.

REPUBLICANS, it is your duty to work like tigers from now until Tuesday night. If you do so you can go to bed and rest assured that you have accomplished the victory.

THE official vote of Ohio is as follows: Foster, Republican, 336,261; Ewing, Democrat, 319,182; Platt, Greenbacker, 9,129. Last year the greenback vote was over 38,000, showing a decrease of nearly 30,000 votes, and leaving but a mere handful in the birth-place of greenbackism.

WHEN you go to the polls on the 4th, Republicans, remember what Ohio and Iowa have done. Go to the polls, Republicans, and "vote early and often." Nelson said on the eve of battle, "England expects every man to do his duty to-day," and a glorious victory was accomplished. Let us rally around the old standard.

WHAT does Mr. E. J. Meldron, late candidate of the Greenback party, for Legislature, mean by starting up his works at Blacklick before the election? Has he, too, entered into a conspiracy with the Republicans to deceive the people by getting up a business boom? The facts are that business is improving, and Mr. Meldron, like a business man, wants to get ready for the increased demand upon his works. We hope he may continue to show his good sense by cutting loose from a party that glories in hard times, and would build up on the necessities of the people.—Indiana Progress.

VOTERS of Forest county, before depositing your ballot next Tuesday, ask yourself these questions: Who is the laboring man's candidate for Associate Judge? Who is the man who has worked hard all his life; is a hard worker to-day, and expects to be as long as health and strength permit? who is in full sympathy with the honest laborer? Who is it that is struggling hard to gain an honest livelihood for himself and family, and is most deserving of the office and help of the people? Is it Lewis Arner? Then vote for him. Greenbackers and laboring men let not politics bias or induce you to vote against the very principles you advocate—the aiding of the honest laboring man. Be consistent and vote to aid one of your own class.

A FULL Republican vote in Forest county was never more important than now. A cotemporary well says that the election of 1879 is the preliminary battle to that of 1880, and involves in itself the fate of next year's contest. Let all Republicans vote, this year, as if this were really the Presidential election; and ignoring all merely personal considerations and appeals, cast their votes in accordance with their wishes as to the political result next year. This is not a time to be indulging in personal likings or dislikings. A great national question is at issue. We are this year on the skirmish line of a great battle; and the men arrayed against us are the men to overcome, not to parley with and give advantages to. Vote the straight ticket, from State Treasurer to Coroner. There is not a man on it but that is just as good personally, and a great deal better politically, than any of the opposition candidates.

To the Voters of Forest County.

Republicans, I wish to say a few plain words to you through the medium of our county organ:

One year ago we were battling with all our strength against the soft money, greenback craze, and in favor of honest money, specie resumption, and the payment of the national obligations. We stood shoulder to shoulder, with our faces to the enemy, our trust being in the justice of our cause, and we won. We won, with all the discouraging circumstances of depression of business, unremunerative labor, shrinkage of values and the discontent of the laboring class. All these we had to contend with, and yet the victory was ours. Resumption is a fixed fact; business is booming; prices are advancing; labor is remunerative, and honest labor can find its reward. The "Ohio Idea" is laid in its new made grave never to be resurrected.

Workingmen, don't be deceived and made to believe that the resumption of specie payments is a fraud and a snare, and that the gaunt spectre, Want, has departed for a short season to return after the November election.

Fellow laborers! Will you belong misled by designing and unscrupulous men whose only aim is self-aggrandizement, power, and love of office. I believe that you will universally stand by the old Republican party which has done more for the laboring man, and for the country than all other parties and items combined since the foundation of the Government.

Why act and vote against your best interests? The Republican party has always stood by its friends, and will continue to do so under all and any circumstances. Therefore, I say to every Republican in Forest county to vote the entire Republican ticket solid. Do not be deceived by Greenbackers, Democrats, or weak-kneed Republicans into voting for any man whose name is not inscribed upon the Republican Banner.

Let every man who looks forward to a Republican Victory in 1880 come out to the polls on Tuesday next, and cast his ballot for Samuel Butler, Lewis Arner, Samuel D. Irwin, J. H. Cook and John Hunter; all good men, honest and true.

E. L. DAVIS, Chairman Rep. Co. Com.

National Conundrums.

The political editor of the Greenback personal organ has delivered himself of eleven profound questions—no doubt borrowed, as usual, from some central greenback junta—for the REPUBLICAN to answer. When you become less facetious and more inclined to an honest seeker after truth, and less of the demagogue and really wish to enlighten your readers, we will gladly answer, so far as lies in our power, any and all political questions tending to that end; but out of the eleven interrogatories, commencing with the first untruthful and absurd one of "having inflated the currency during the war so that it very nearly represented the national debt in the hands of the people, without interest, what made the government change it into interest paying bonds," to the 11th, there is not one with any reason, or truth in it, and that has not been explained, or exploded, in the campaign of 1878 in every school house in the county, to the entire satisfaction of every intelligent voter, unless it be the editor of the National himself. The absurdity of now asking such questions, why bonds are taxless? Why National banks were demonetized? How many tramps and bankrupts have these crimes made? etc., etc., is manifest on the face of it. These and questions of like nature are like the greenback party, exploded; passed away like dew before the morning sun. But if the editor of the National really needs to be enlightened on these several points, (we know his readers do not) we will do so when space and time are at our command.

Two weeks ago he published an elaborate proposition showing how much the government would save by using the surplus gold in the treasury in buying up the 6 per cent. bonds. He went on to state that by so doing the premium would only be increased about one-fourth of a cent, which would be better than paying the 6 per cent. at maturity. We thought the proposition so ridiculous and foolish as not to be worthy of notice, which no doubt encouraged him to venture these last even more absurd questions. In the first place we wish to ask him if he does not know that the Secretary of the Treasury has no authority to buy bonds until Congress permits him? Second, if he will consult any of his daily exchanges he will discover that the six per cent. bonds are quoted at 51c. premium. Now let the government become the purchaser of those bonds and what will be the effect? Why to nearly double the amount of premium, as any school boy knows. Whereas, by allowing them to run another year they can be called in without any additional expense to the government.

Will the eminent financier of the National please show us where and how the government would save anything by such a transaction? Just so are all his propositions. He seems to labor under the impression that no matter how absurd or fabulous a question he may ask, the people of Forest county are such fools as to take it for granted that such a state of affairs really exists. Not so, Doctor. The people are not such hopeless imbeciles as you would like to make them out.

Our Washington Letter.

Special to the REPUBLICAN.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 23, '79.

We are now waiting confidently for N. Y., Pa., Mass, Wis, and other States to confirm the reports of the earlier State elections in favor of a solid North to withstand the encroachments of the solid Confederacy. I never knew a time when so much confidence was felt in anything future as there is touching the Republican triumph this year, to be followed by a sweeping victory next year, Presidential and Congressional. Thus confident the Republicans are harmonious and earnest, and when they return here in December the Confederate Democratic party will find that their mischievous tricks have excited an opposition in the North that is not confined to the Republican party, and that will forever sweep them from existence as a political power.

The exodus of colored people is going forward vigorously. The young colored men who went North from North Carolina to find homes for colonists, have just returned from Indiana and are full of hope for their people. No sooner had they opened their plan to the people there than they met with the heartiest welcome, and in a very few days they found openings for 200 families. In fact, as soon as it became known that they were the pioneers of the negro movement, people began to advertise in the newspapers for negro help. They say now they can find homes for all who will go, and the number is limited only by the inability of many to move. The old rebel masters, finding their help determined to go, have combined in refusing to buy whatever they may have to sell, which will temporarily render many helpless. But it is likely that many philanthropists in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, will furnish the means for the removal of many. The movement is bound to go forward, and the result will be ruinous to the bulldozers, financially and politically. They have taken the alarm, but it is too late to try to stem the current which is overwhelming them.

P. M. Gen. Key was in Richmond when the returns were received indicating a sweeping victory for the Republicans in Ohio. He was in close intercourse with the business men of Richmond and vicinity, and he says that they manifested an apathy in regard to the event which surprised him. When they did express opinions, they seemed generally to think the result was quite as well as if their party had won the fight. They were generally opposed to the Ewing financial theories, and were glad to see them finally exploded. Besides, Judge Key says, they are tired of the eternal wrangle over National politics. They have about concluded that it is time to become reconciled to the Union and the Constitution.

The democratic disasters of the year call to mind the fact that they have always suffered when they took an emphatic stand against national progress or the integrity of the Union. Thus in 1864 they resolved that the war was a failure, just on the eve of its glorious success, and they were overwhelmed in the Presidential election that ensued. In 1872 they resolved that the whole reconstruction policy was a failure, and the result was that they were swept out of existence in a way that astonished them. And this year they resolved that resumption was a failure, and the result is recorded. The ill-fated democrats will next year probably resolve that life is a failure and exemplify it in their political fate.

Senator Blaine is recovering his voice, and will be heard in New York shortly. His enthusiastic reception in N. Y., city the other night shows that he is in demand everywhere, and the people will not be "put off." His meetings this year are everywhere pronounced phenomenal for size and spirit.
