

LAST year the Greenback vote in this county was 1,198; this year it "peters" down to 427.—Clearfield Republican, Dem.

Upon hearing the result of the election in this county a prominent greenbacker remarked: "Why at this rate we'll elect our President next year, sure." He hadn't heard from the "States" yet.

SPITE of all that has happened Governor Robinson, of New York, has issued a Thanksgiving proclamation. It would not be reasonable, however, to expect him to ask the people to remember Kelly on the 27th inst.

The day of financial heresies is gone by. The Greenback cause is as dead as the doctrine of secession, and in 1880 the issue will be a square stand-up fight between the Democratic and Republican parties, in whose platform there will be no differences of a financial nature.—Elk Democrat.

THE Greenback party carried one county in the State. Forest county gave Sutton 20 majority over Butler and 71 majority over Barr, and elected the entire Greenback ticket. Outside of Forest county the Greenback party has "gone where the woodbine twineeth."—Venango Citizen.

FOREST county gave a majority of twenty for Peter Sutton over Butler, and one hundred over Barr, electing the Greenback county ticket. This is the only green spot left of the party and may afford a refuge for the stragglers who still adhere to the fortunes of that defunct "what is it?"—Brookville Republican.

OUR victory last week (Tuesday), is in a great measure due to the efforts of a few good workers in the party, and to the influence of the National.

We thought Coburn could not conceal his egotism much longer, and that he would soon come out and tell the people what a h—l of a paper his is. The only thing that gets us is how he could give any one else credit but himself.

THERE were 1,835 votes polled for Peter Sutton in Crawford county at the late election. Surely the Greenbackers are not quite dead in old Crawford.—National.

No, not quite. Yet there is some sort of an epidemic raging among them that has taken off about sixteen hundred and thirty-five within a year,—the vote last year being 3528—and unless this epidemic is immediately checked will leave them without a croaker for 1880. No, not dead, but dying off like—everything.

WARREN county polled 1,285 votes for Peter Sutton, or about one third more than for Barr. Wonder which party is dead up in Warren?—National.

Well, we don't know exactly. But let's see; last year the vote stood: Rep., 2175; Dem., 1026; Gbk., 1822. This year, Rep., 2012; Dem., 967; Gbk., 1285. Rep., loss, 163; Dem., 59; Gbk., 537. This would indicate that the death-rate was much greater in the greenback camp, and that that party is the dead duck up there, from our way of calculating.

WE ask our readers to not place any reliance in any statement they see in the old party press concerning the Greenback vote in any State.—National.

That's just it. Don't believe anything except you see it in the greenback papers. We did state last week that the vote in this State was about 10,000, but that calculation was based as much on next year's vote as on this year's, and the only thing that bothers us now is the fear that we have placed it too high. Besides, we had another object in view when we made the statement, and that was to draw Coburn out, and thus make him tell what the vote was. Had it not been for this we doubt if he would ever have told what the vote was, and would probably kept on howling about the wonderful gains made in the State. Coburn never told his readers what the vote in Ohio was, and we heard of an intelligent (?) greenbacker who would not believe that they had lost a vote in that State, "because he hadn't seen it in the Forest National!"

Greenbacks and Greenbackers.

The New York Herald, that staunch and strictly independent paper, if there is one in the United States, has this bit of sauce for the greenbackers. The Herald is acknowledged authority by all parties on matters of this kind: "What has become of the Greenbackers? In the Congressional elections that occurred only a year ago in those States which have voted this week they polled not less than two hundred and forty thousand votes for their distinctive candidates, and half as many more in coalitions upon nominees of the other parties. The distinctive Greenback Congressional vote in 1878 was, for example, nearly twenty-five thousand in New Jersey, more than eighty thousand in New York and almost a hundred thousand in Pennsylvania. Suddenly this great political array has shrunk into such insignificance that it makes no show in the returns of 1879. In all the election reports this week from East, West or South, the figures of the Greenbackers' vote are omitted as too trivial to affect the result. The Greenbackers have been smothered by the successful operation of the resumption act. They have not lagged superfluous on the stage, but have made their last appearance."

It is evident from the following in the National that Coburn still thinks he is dealing with a lot of lunatics who are ready to swallow any falsehood he may choose to perpetrate:

In many places thousands of Greenback votes were polled but not counted. The Greenbackers of Philadelphia claim to have polled 4,500 votes but the ballot box stuffers and repeaters only counted 411 of them, that is one way they have of trying to kill off the people's party.

That the greenbackers polled 299 votes instead of 411 out of about 118,000 is true enough, but is there such a consummate ass (aside from Coburn) in Forest county as to believe that they polled some 4,000 votes which were not counted? We hope, for the good name of the county, there is not.

A PRIVATE letter received at Washington from a member of Hendrick B. Wright's itinerary depression of labor committee indicates that they have been having decidedly cool receptions at the different points visited by them. Their search for material upon which to base a report has been utterly fruitless. With the exception of those men who are not willing to work on any terms, they have been unable to procure witnesses, and in a number of cases they have been politely informed by the laboring men that work is abundant, and their time is too much occupied to be wasted in attempting to testify to a condition of industries which does not exist. The irrepressible Hendrick B., from this unpromising outlook, will find it difficult to make a report which will in the least degree justify the expenditure of from five to ten thousand dollars in junketing about the country.

STATE CAPITAL NEWS.

How the Election was Received and Matters in General in Harrisburg.

Since the tidal wave that swept over the State on election day, things have been rather quiet here and business, owing to the great Republican successes, has received a fresh "boom." The result had been anticipated, consequently there was but little enthusiasm; Philadelphia, however, "whooped em up," causing all the "unterrified" to go home early in disgust. The stalwarts had a grand torchlight procession, which marched through the principal streets and filled the air with their shouts of victory, which were accompanied with the discharge of cannon and fireworks. By twelve o'clock everything was quiet, everybody having gone home—the Republicans satisfied, the Democrats disgusted.

For the past few days all interest has been centered on New York, and as it is now conceded that we elect the whole ticket with the exception of State Engineer, we feel content, knowing we can hold it in the Presidential contest, which will give us the next President. Cornell having gone through handsomely he will no doubt be the chairman of the National Committee, as the following will show: "A meeting of the Republican National Committee has been called for December 17, at the Arlington Hotel, in the city of Washington. It is signed by Governor-elect Cornell, of New York, and Mr. Thomas M. Keogh, chairman of the Republican Committee of North Carolina. Owing to the death recently of Senator Chandler, of Michigan, the committee is without a chairman and it is also without a secretary. Mr. B. C. McCormick, who held that position, having resigned the place when he was appointed Assistant Secretary of the Treasury. The object of the committee is to take action in regard to the death of the late chairman and to select a place for the holding of the next Republican National Convention to nominate a candidate for the Presidency."

It will also become the duty of the committee to elect a chairman and secretary. Mr. Cornell, it is understood, is now a candidate, and, of course, will have the support of Senator Conkling. Mr. R. C. McCormick is also in the field. Mr. Keogh, it is said, is anxious to get the secretaryship, and being a Southern man, it is not improbable that he will be successful. The National Convention, will, it is believed, be held in the West.

The Board of Pardons meets here on the 18th to take final action on the case of Tracy, the McKean county murderer, and from what we know of the board, I am afraid he will hang, as the feeling East is against him, and this board is not much on the pardon. It is the best we have ever had, and is very careful as to who they let out or commute.

We have had several railroad accidents lately; one being an oil train which ran into a freight and then ignited and went up in smoke.

All our iron foundries are working day and night, and are then unable to fill orders. The Harrisburg car manufacturing company have commenced work on a new contract for 500 house or box cars, ordered by the "Merchant's Dispatch Transportation Company of New York." The company has also a contract for 350 cars for the Lake Shore Railroad. The works at present turn out eight cars daily.

On Wednesday last the Governor issued a charter to the Manchester Iron and Steel Company, of Pittsburgh, with a capital stock of $500,000, divided into five hundred shares. The new company will proceed immediately to manufacture iron and steel at the furnace and rolling mill of D. J. Morrill, in Pittsburgh. The incorporators are: John Scott, Alexander Nimick, and James J. Bennett, of Pittsburgh; Daniel J. Morrell, of Johnstown; John N. Hutchinson, of Easton; John M. Kennedy, Philadelphia Cambria Iron Company, Pennsylvania. This adds another to our large list of mills, all of which are busy. About a week ago the last idle mill started and is now busy. It had not been running for seven years, which shows what the Republican party bringing about specie payment has done, and warns the Greenbackers that their day is over.

Your townsman J. B. Agnew is back, and is at his desk in the Dept. of Internal Affairs.

The legislature does not meet this winter, consequently it will be very dull. The weather at present is very warm, and has been for several days. Winter is close upon us, though it doesn't look much like it as the trees still hold their leaves.
