LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

—Rev. Elliot will occupy the pulpit of the Presbyterian Church next Sunday, morning and evening.

Free Methodist preaching in the Universalist Church next Sunday evening.

M. E. Sunday School at 10 o'clock a. m., and Presbyterian Sunday School at 3 o'clock p. m.

—Christmas four weeks from tomorrow.

—How are you fixed for a turkey to-morrow?

—Our sidewalks are in pretty fair shape for winter.

—Congress meets next Monday. Look out for hot times.

—The Whig Hill school begins to-day; F. F. Whittekin presiding.

—Teachers' Institute meets two weeks from next Monday, 15th.

—The Court Proclamation, Trial and Jury Lists are published this week.

—Mr. H. H. Keeler, who has been "on the track" for a few days, "Modoo'd" a nice deer yesterday.

—The trial of the bribery cases at Harrisburg commenced yesterday, and much excitement prevails in that city.

—To-morrow's the day everybody eats turkey—that is, nearly everybody. Those who haven't the turkey can eat crow.

—Andrew Saltgiver is still living, and his physician doesn't seem to know whether there are any hopes for him or not.

—Miss Mary Kiser and Miss Anna Ginther, who have been attending school at Edinboro, returned home last week.

—Mr. J. D. Hulings left for Virginia yesterday, to look after the interests of Marcus Hulings, the oil prince.

—We have frequently warned the turkeys of their imminent danger, and now they will have to look out for themselves.

—The coasting on Monday evening was good, and the suggestive cry for "track! track!" was heard until late in the night.

—Teachers throughout the county are requested to send in their monthly reports for publication. Make them as short as possible.

—As near as we can learn there will be no Thanksgiving services in any of our churches to-morrow. This is certainly not as it should be.

—Turkeys are said to be selling for 80 cents a pair in Brookville, but it's too late. Thanksgiving is too near at hand to send away off there for them.

—Will Wolcott has been appointed collector of the School Tax of this borough, and is around politely requesting delinquents to "square up."

—Tionesta has lost another of its favorite young men, Mr. W. A. Hildans, who departed for the Bradford district yesterday. Success, Davy.

—The shooting match on Saturday didn't amount to much, so far as shooting was concerned. No turkeys were shot for, but quite a number were raffled off.

—We understand the telegraph line from Foxburg to Kane, passing through the eastern portion of this county, has been completed, and the proposed pipe line will be put through forthwith.

—F. M. Butler Esq., of Hudson, N. Y., Attorney for the Hammond Heirs, who have a large tract of land in Tionesta township, has been here for a week past looking after their interests.

—Miss Alwilda Adams departed for Bradford on Monday morning to see her brother; Harlem, whom we reported last week as having the Bradford fever. A dispatch Monday evening conveyed the news that he is slightly better.

—Elsewhere in this issue will be found the double-column "ad" of G. W. Milford, Oil City. Whatever this establishment advertises to do can be depended upon. When in Oil City, call at Mr. Milford's and get bargains that will astonish you.

—Mrs. Chas. Albaugh, who has for several weeks been lying in a critical state with typhoid fever, was moved to the red house on Vine St., lately occupied by Chas. Resner. That being a much more comfortable place, her recovery will doubtless be more rapid.

—Mr. Shawkey, our Prothonotary, is taking in some of the western country at present. He has been somewhat indisposed for some time, and expects to recuperate in that section. His stay will be quite an extended one.

—The board of pardons having refused to commute Tracy's sentence to imprisonment for life, he will hang at Smethport, McKean Co., on the 4th of December. A great effort has been made in his behalf, by the ablest counsel in the State.

—The hunters say that until there is more snow there will be no use trying to kill a deer; the woods being so tracked up that it is impossible to follow any one of them any distance. It seems from this that there is a "boom" in the deer business, don't it?

—We understand that a marriage in high life is on the tapis in this place and that the event will "come off" some time next week. The high contracting parties are said to be A. M. Douth and Chas. Raisig, the ceremony to be performed by Carr, the butcher. A suite of rooms has been arranged over Blum's blacksmith shop, in which the happy pair are to be made one and inseparable.

—Mr. Frank Newell, who has been connected with the Central House in this place since last July, departed yesterday. He expects to embark in the mining business at Silver Cliff, Col., with a Mr. Bittenbender, who has been in that section for a little over a year, during which time he has amassed quite a fortune. Frank is a gentleman and a scholar, and while we deprecate his departure, we hope to hear of him soon as a millionaire.

—We are pleased to hear that Mr. Kepler, of Butler County, has succeeded in getting lands in this county, which he, as well as other practical oil men consider on the "belt," in quantities large enough to justify him in going on with developments. Mr. K. has proved to our citizens that he means business, and is therefore entitled to what might seem a preference. If land owners want their property developed they need not be afraid to lease to this company. They will do just what they say.

—From Mr. Dunn's paper, the Crookston (Minn.) Chronicle, we clip the following: "While our neighbors one, two, three and four hundred miles south of us are having skating, sleighing, and winter generally, our farmers have their teams out, plowing the prairie soil up, preparatory to a grand wheat crop next year. If it is too cold for our southern friends to stand it, we would advise a general emigration in this direction, where "every prospect pleases, and only" a few men in our whole city could be called "vile."

—"Coon" Burben, of Dutch Hill, did an excellent stroke of business among the deer last week. On Friday he and a brother killed a very fine buck. On Saturday they were out again, starting about three o'clock. They traveled but a short distance when they came upon three deer lying down. Coon says they were standing about 175 yards off when one of the deer raised his head, affording him a long but open shot; when the gun went off the other two jumped up, and he immediately gave one of them the other barrel, dropping it instantly. The third made a circle, and came around about the time he had reloaded his gun, and he "banged away and down it come." All this was done without moving out of his tracks. When he came to gather up his game, he found he had broken two of the deer's necks, and shot the third through the lights. This we consider about the best day's hunting that has been accomplished in this county for several years. If any one beats it we'd like to hear from him.

TAKING THE CENSUS.—The State is entitled to ten Supervisors, and hence, it will be divided into ten districts. The ninth district will be composed of the following counties: Indiana, Armstrong, Butler, Venango, Clarion, Forest, Elk, McKean, Centre, Clearfield, Tenth District.—Warren, Erie, Crawford, Mercer, Lawrence, Beaver, Washington, Greene. The Supervisors are appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. The Supervisor selects enumerators. Thirty days is the longest time allowed any enumerator to do the work assigned; hence the sub-districts in each county must be very small. The work will commence next June and be completed the same month.

—Coburn is out once more with his "Weekly Dun Letter; or, Quack Medicine Advertiser," trying to abuse those who, no matter how far they could descend the scale of human depravity, would still tower so far above him as does the mighty oak above the timothy stock; and upon whom his abuse has about as much effect as the stench from a skunk upon the sweet perfumes of the Rose of Sharon at a thousand miles' distance; which comparison we consider a very fitting one in this instance. It illy becomes a "thing" of Coburn's stripe to abuse anybody; a man who pretends to advocate grand and glorious principles; who cries out against the "Shylocks that are sucking the life-blood out of the government," or big-sound words to that effect, and in the same issue folds up a "cough medicine" circular, in direct violation of the postal law, thus stealing the postage which rightly belongs to the government, besides trying to humbug the people. He would be a fine specimen to send to the legislature, indeed. He is a beautiful specimen to advocate reform, and sit at home and violate the laws of the land at every opportunity. He's the chap that charges a dollar for looking down a lady's throat while out making a friendly call of an afternoon; he is the flippant bombast who charges the small sum of two dollars for "tying a string around a wart," which justly entitles him to the name, and he shall ever be known as "the celebrated Wart-hog of Crawford county." No insult to the fair name of Crawford.

—From a rather humorous correspondence from Strattanville, Clarion county, to the New Bethlehem Vindicator, we get the following regarding one of our former townsmen: "Frank Reck he diuk he vil half a big dime. He mate a shoodin' match wid sum durkeys. He dots he vould pud dem up an' den vin dem all pack himself; bud de didn't do it, for he did nod got von; he always shod to low. Dock Stratten he shod doo hi; but Shon Stradden he shod twice in de ride blace und got two. Skod Mohney he got two-de same vey. Shos Emery he got von. Tom Shouson he got von, und some under fellers got von bird. Frank Reck doud got von. It vos a goot time. Effery potty feel goot; espesly de vous vot got durkeys."

—The Nursery for December is at hand, much improved in appearance, if such could be. The Nursery is not only printed and embellished with nice engravings, but its stories, verses and music are of a kind to please boys and girls who are too small to read the books and magazines designed for older children. The present number completes the thirteenth year, and all who wish a truly good child's magazine, at the nominal sum $1.50 a year, should subscribe now, and commence with the new volume. John L. Shorey, 36 Bromfield St., Boston, Mass.

School Report.

Barnett District, Greenwood School No. 4, for month ending Nov. 11: Whole number of pupils enrolled during month, 30; Average attendance 16; per cent. of attendance 87. The following pupils were not absent from school during the month: D. A. Black, Joseph Black, Charlie Black, Michael Black and Maggie Lackner, being enrolled for a period of 21 and 20 days respectively.

The patrons of this school are earnestly requested to unite with the teacher in making the present term a success. Fraternaly, the Teacher, L. W. SHAWKEY.

Whig Hill Gleanings.

Hunting seems to be the most important business of the season. I hear of several hunters laying the noble game low, and some that have not laid any low nor likely to.

Sunday School at this place will close next Sunday. This has been a very flourishing school, and bids fair to open in the spring with a better attendance than ever.

Mr. R. Z. Gillespie has commenced his school at Dutch Hill. The Dutch Hillers show their appreciation of a good teacher when they can get one. Rob. is teaching his "third term" at that place.

The church at this place is rapidly approaching completion, and when finished will be a very fine little church.

Mr. Warren Barnes went out hunting last Thursday, and it being very cold, the old gentleman became very cold, and when he came to Mr. Adam Emert's, in Hickory Twp., he was so nearly finished that he was unable to sit on a chair, and fell to the floor. Mr. Emert informed me that he thought the days of Mr. Barnes were over when he was so nearly gone as stated. Mr. Barnes is a very old man and quite feeble, and ought not to be left to go hunting without some one keeping near him.

A friend of mine writes to me from Norristown, Pa. He says: "I'm ashamed to think that it has fallen to the lot of Pennsylvania to give the Greenbackers the only county they can boast of in the United States." * * * Yea, verily, says every honest man. PANITATUS.

Star Post-Office.

It has been some time since this place has had a hearing in your columns; nevertheless we are all alive yet and able to talk to our greenback friends when they get boistrous.

Mr. Conrad Zuendel of Erie Co., is still around among his old friends, and is making many new ones.

Our school is now in progress, and is more largely attended than it has been for some time.

Henry Ahlers has built a substantial stone bridge across the small stream which runs through his place.

Some of our lumbermen must have taken too much of "somebody's best," as they have not returned at this writing. L. L. D.

FROM ANOTHER CORRESPONDENT.

Our people are enjoying good health; and while some are making improvements on their farms, others are chasing the deer. Mr. Jake Bush killed a fine large deer on Wednesday last, which makes him feel first class. As he has been seven years a hunter in the wilds of Forest, and this being his first deer, we all congratulate him.

Several of our young folks went to Church Hill to attend a party at Mr. Cooper's, and all appear well satisfied with the hospitality they received.

John Heath Esq., the popular book agent, is distributing the books he has sold. We bespeak him success throughout the county.

Mr. Henry Zuendel jr., is making preparations for building a new barn. Mr. Peter Lovell has been improving his residence considerably.

Mr. Wm. Heath returned from Pittsburgh an Saturday last. HAWKEYE.

Life and Travels of General Grant.

The present volume presents a complete and vivid picture, with pen and pencil of this journey; an accurate record of the many important and suggestive addresses made by rulers, distinguished statesmen and ambassadors, and the responses made to the same; pen portraits of emperors, kings and princes; brilliant descriptions of their palaces, with their costly adornments and imposing ceremonies; a description of all the lands and peoples visited, the wonderful sights beheld, and every incident, by land and sea, of this famous "Tour Around the World." But another result of this journey has been to bring into review the entire career of this remarkable character, this man of cool head and iron nerve, who through all the pomp and pageantry of these royal surroundings, and in the midst of all these magnificent honors, has remained simply and sturdily an American. Time has sifted the facts, and the hour has come when there is a demand for a History of the Military and Civil career of General Grant which shall be at once critical and historically correct. Such a history is incorporated in this volume; especial prominence being given to his military campaigns and the chief battles of the war, which are here recounted with an accuracy which earlier historians could not attain, and in the vigorous and brilliant style for which the author is distinguished. A history of the events of his successful administration is also given. An illustrated book of travels it is believed that it will be found to be more deeply interesting and instructive than any similar volume that has ever been published; both from the fact that no American was ever before so welcomed to royal courts, or the choicest views of the ancient world, and also from the fact that few men living wield so graphic a pen to set forth these things to the mind's eye as our Author, Hon. J. T. Headley, formerly Secretary of the great State of New York. His superior descriptive abilities as an author, and his personal acquaintance with the Old World, are guarantees of an intensely interesting book. It contains over 200 illustrations. In order that readers may enjoy as near as possible the pleasure of seeing what General Grant saw and our author describes; of Palaces, Parks, Royal Treasures, Ancient Cities, Curiosities, Ruins, costumes, &c., &c., great pains have been taken and a very large expense incurred to make this work specially attractive and instructive in this respect. It is unquestionably the most richly illustrated volume that has been offered at any such price for years past.

John Heath of Star P. O., Forest Co., Pa., has the agency of this section.
