LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS. -Rev. A. O. Stone will preach in the M. E. Church next Sunday evening. M. E. Sunday School at 10 o'clock a. m., and Presbyterian Sunday School at 3 o'clock p. m.

-Attention is directed to the estray notice published in this issue.

-Rev. O. B. Clark, of Jamestown, N. Y., is visiting in town, looking un usually well.

-Tracy, the murder of his cousin and sweetheart, will hang at Smethport, McKenn Co., to-morrow.

-Our venerable Postmaster is kept busy these days trying to keep even with the "wart-hog" on postage. -Mr. M. Ulrich, representing Ludwig Mayer, of Oil City, stopped in town a few hours last Wednesday. -Hunters will take notice that but a dozen days yet remain of the deer season, and govern themselves accordingly.

-The young folks, and some not so young as they used to be, had a very pleasant party at Partridge's Hall been at a good deal of expense in giv-Thanksgiving evening.

-Thanksgiving passed off in this place without a "squawk" from either chicken or turkey that we could learn. While some had fowl others were fowlless, and all gave thanks accordingly.

-Leander Berlin, a young man of Whig Hill, cut his left foot quite severely one day last week, while scoring timber. Our informant states that all of the toes were nearly severed from the foot.

-Mr. Einstein returned last Saturday, having gathered together nearly all of his "stove-up" lumber and run it to Pittsburgh. His loss was not as great as at first reported. Go and ask Morris "vat he tinks of the lumber bissness."

-Mrs. W. A. Greaves, and Mrs. Anna Leeper, sister of Mr. Greaves, of Warren, Pa., who have been visiting with the family of E. L. Davis, Esq., returned home on Saturday. Foreman was brought home on Satur-Miss Maude Davis accompanies them for a few weeks' visit.

-Mr. Dingman received his new 3-barrel breech-loading Baker gan yesterday. It has two shot barrels, with rifle barrel underneath, the latter of which shoots the ordinary Winchester cartridge; has a very handsome walnut pistol grip stock, and altogether is the finest gun in town, and Mr. D. feels as happy over it as a boy with a pair of new red-top boots. Hope he'll initiate it on a venison and not forget the printers. -Mrs. White, well known to our older class of citizens as the widow of the late Judge Wm. White, a former citizen of this county, who removed to Kansas several years ago, is at present visiting her relatives and old acquaintances in this neighborhood. She is said to be still hale and hearty, with very little change in her appearance. Mrs. White is a sister of Mrs. C. F. Gillespie and Mrs. A. B. Root, and of Adam and Henry Zuendel, all old residents of our county.

-President Hayes' third annual message to Congress, which met on Monday, will be found in Supplement form in to-days paper. We have ing this interesting document to our readers in this form, both as to printing and additional postage, and we hope they will appreciate our efforts in this particular. It is an instrument which every voter and tax payer should read, as therein are laid down the views of the President regarding the administration of National affairs, and there is no point of general or particular interest to the government but what is touched upon. It might be well to further remark that it is no quack medicine circular.

-Mr. N. S. Foreman met with quite a severe and painful accident on Friday last. He, in company with Mr. J. S. Henderson, of East Hickory, has a job of putting in logs near that place, and while he was engaged arranging some on the "skidway," his leg was caught, and the outside bone of his left leg was broken about three inches above the ankle. The fracture was reduced by Dr. Blaine, and Mr. day evening. He received a wound in the same leg in the army, since which time it has been stiff; Lad it not been for this he would probably have been able to escape this injury. He is doing well, and will be able to

-The "Wart-Hog" insists that because we have heretofore folded up supplements in our paper, we shouldn't find fault at him for doing likewise. We wish to remark that there is a vast difference in these cases : We have frequently folded supplements in our paper, but they were made up of choice reading matter, and went in as "Supplements," which every publisher has a right to do, provided he pays the postage, and the postmasters books will show that we have complied with the law in every instance. We got no return from them, but did it wholly for the benefit of our readers. We pever enclosed a quack medicine cir- place. cular in our paper for any purpose ; not even to defraud the government out of postage, and until we do, we shall continue to find fault with others for doing so. In order to get the benefit of this law, a supplement must be part and parcel of the paper, and contain a certain amount of general reading matter. But the bitterest and most heart-rending wail is where he says we "try to injure his professional reputation." Su-f-f-e-r-i-n-g Invalids ! Think of it ! Trying to injure . oburn's professional reputation! Why you nearly take our breath away! Now, we have frequently heard of persons trying to spoil rotten eggs, but this is the first instance, to our knowledge, of anybody trying to injure Coburn's professional reputation. Really didn't you intend that for a joke ?

ADAMS .- In Bradford, Pa., Dos. 1st, 1879, at 10 o'clock, P. M. of typhoid fever, Harlem D. Adams, aged 19 years and 11

The above news will be sadly received by the many friends of the young man, particular among his younger associates, with whom he has always been a great favorite. Something over a year ago he accepted a position as book keeper in the establishment of Boyard & Sefang, prominent dealers in oil well supplies, of Bradford, since which time he had been stopping there. About six weeks ago he came home with what he supposed to be no more than a severe bilious attack, and remained a few days, but being anxious to return to his post he returned not yet fully recovered. He was taken worse and obliged to take his bed, from which time on he continued to fail, although at times he seemed to improve. Harlem was a bright young man of more than ordinary promise, and would up doubt have made his mark in the world had be been spared. His taking of just at TRIAL LIST.
