[TRADE MARK.] The Best Remedy Known to Man !

The Best Remedy Known to Man I Dr. Clark Johnson having associated himself with Mr. Edwin Eastman, an escaped captive, long a slave to Wakametkia, the medicine man of the Comanches, is now prepared to lend his aid in the introduction of the wonderful remedy of that tribe.

The experience of Mr. Eastman being similar to that of Mrs. Chas. Jones and son, of Washington Co., lows, an account of whose sufferings were thrillingly narrated in the New Fork Herald of Dec. 15th, 1878, the facts of which are so widely known, and so nearly parallel, that but little mention of Mr. Eastman's experiences will be given here. They are, however, published in a neat volume of 300 pages, entitled, "Soven and Nine Years Among the Comanches and Apaches." of which mention will be made hereafter. Suffice it to say, that for several years, Mr. Eastman, while a captive, was compelled to gather the roots, guns, barks, herbs and berries of which Wakametkia's medicine was made, and is still prepared to provide the same materials for the successful infroduction of the medicine to the world; and assures the public that the remedy is the same now as when Wakametkia compelled him to make it.

Wakametkla, the Medicine Man Nothing has been added to the medicine and nothing has been taken away. It is without doubt the BEST PURIFIER of the BLOOD and RENEWER of the System ever known to man.
This Syrup possesses varied properties.

It acts upon the Liver.
It acts upon the Kidneys.

It neutralizes the hereditary taint, or poison in the blood, which generates Scrofula, Erysipelas, and all mainer of skin diseases and internal humors. There are no spirits employed in its manufacture and it can be taken by the most delicate babe, of by the aged and feeble, care only being required for elections to directions.

Mr. Eastman, being almost constantly at the West, engaged in gathering and curing the materials of which the medicine is composed, the sole i selness management devolves upon Dr. Johnson, and the remedy has been called, and is known as SEVEN AND NINE YEARS AMONG THE COMMNCHES

TIMELY TOPICS.

A foreign lecturer on cremation assert, that the ancient Greek, Gallie, Romans Thracian, Swedish and Japanese reverence for fire indicates that the practice of bunning human bodies originated in religious movives. There is nothing in the Bible against cremation, he says, and when the practice died out in Europe, science and the arts died out, and the dark ages came, and with them burial.

The recently established bureau of labor statistics in Illinois is going to work in earnest to collect information o general interest both to employers are wage earners. No public document issued in Massachusetts is more widelread or commented upon than that which contains facts and figures on the lab question. Both Missouri and Illino have lately established bureaus for the compilation of such statistics, and their example is likely to be followed by othe.

The lord chief beyon of the British exchequer, Sir Fitzroy Kelly, attained his eighty-third year recently. He is a remarkable man, can walk twelve miles a day and sit any number of hours on the bench. Some forty years ago he was ostracised for having committed some corrupt act at an election at Ipswich and being accused of having committed per-jury to palliate it. Sir Robert Pec passed him over repeatedly, but he outlived the imputations through his great ability. Like the lord chancellor, Lord St. Leonards, he married his cook.

Louis Kossuth, the Hungarian patriot, has completed and is about to publish a history of his life, on which he has been engaged for several years. It will also embrace all of his writings of importance and fugitive essays in periodical litera-ture since 1859. The chief interest in Kossuth's career, however, will be in what he did before 1859-say from 1829, when, at the age of twenty-seven, he first took his seat in the National Diet of Presburg, his confinement for treason in 1839, his course as finance minister, his expulsion from the country, and his unique career in the United States. He is now seventy-eight years of age.

The papers in some of the large cities are publishing letters from young ladies, which show that it is impossible for a adventure. He had floated with a good-looking, well-dressed girl to pass dozen companions helpless in the Pacific quietly and modestly along the streets, in broad daylight, without being rudely staved at by crowds of men, sometimes followed and occasionally spoken to in an insulting manner. This, says the Washington Post, is a most disgraceful showing, and presents a condition of social affairs not easily remedied. have been accustomed to boast of our chivalrous regard for ladies, but if this goes on we shall have occasion for changing that strain to one of shame and regret. Perhaps a healthy arousing of public opinion may check the insolence of the male creatures who thus dograde the name of man.

Mr. Wilson, United States consul at Jerusalem, in a lengthy dispatch to the department of State, reviews at length the present condition and future prosthere, the question of questions. The lord chief-justice of Cyprus remarked recently that Constantincple must go to the Greek, or it will fall into the hands of Russia. The reason it has not been given to the Greek, he said, is because of the jealousy of the European powers. and because of the incapacity of the Greek for so great a trust, not having yet demonstrated any great administrative ability. The consul says that Jericho is dead. Tiberias might as well be. Damascus is declining. Nazareth and Bethlehem are improving. Lebanon is the summer resort of Cyprus people.

Measuring Physical Development.

Anthropometry is the science which weighs and measures men and women and endeavors to form a standard of physical development; in fact, it is one of the foundations upon which anthroness, constipution, etc., are remedied by it. of the foundations upon which anthro-pology is to be built. It is the vastness of this subject of anthropometry which renders conclusions so difficult. If conscription in Germany and France do no other good, at least it can give us the general run of the men as they stand in ranks. In England some 12,000 original observations have been made on the relations of weight and size to age. London the letter-sorters were found to be the lowest in size, as the average heights between twenty and thirty-five were sixty-four to sixty-seven and onetenth inches; at the same time they were the lightest, weighing from 122.5 to 139.9 pounds, Tie metropolitan police stood well as to size and weight, the tallest being from sixty-nine two-tenths to seventy-one five tenths, and in weight 162.5 to 182.7. Probably, taking the average of New York policemen, they would have equaled the London "peerers." In the consideration of the exact time when an Englishman arrives at his maximum of height, this distinction has been made, that at twenty-one the professional class arri e at full stature, while in the artisan class men grow until they are twenty-eight or thirty; but this is a conclusion which requires verification.

The labors of Americans in the direction of anthropometry have been as yet very tentative. Commenced fully thirty years ago by J. S. W. Mitchell, of Phiadelphia, the method employed has been naturally discursive. Types in the United States seem to roam about, dependent, of course, in some respect, on the origin of the family, which may be English, German, French, Dutch or Scandanavian. Though very many fine theories have been built at home as to when or how the gradual blending of all these types will take place, it is quite certain that, save in peculiar insulated areas, where the home stock is always in preponderance, height, weights, chestmeasurements and cranial developments vary so much in the United States as to make the labors of the most conscientious anthropometic committee a singu-

A Bad $50 Note.

The history of a bad $50 note, which is given below, shows how a wicked thing may be in good company by being passed about among honest folk in good faich. This particular note was lately in the possession of Mr. Young, a cotton broker, who, having not even a doubt about its genuineness, gave it to Mr. Minker, a shoemaker, for Mr. Minker to take from it the pay for a pair of short he bad made for Mr. Young. Mr. Minker being urable to coenge it, took it over the way to a resign ant kept by the Misses Cussmeiler, who accommoda ed bim with the change, but as a $50 bid was something of a rave visitor to their establishment, they took the prevantion of marking Mr. Minster's initials upon These ladies shouly after passed is to a brider who had done so be work bank the builder found it to be bad, and thereupon the bill commenced to make back-tracks from him to the ladies, who as w Mr. Minkler, who then called on Mr. Young, who in his turn remembered having given change for it to Me. E. B. Coe, of the Whitestone House, Whitestone, L. I., during his summer solourn at that hotel. Mr. Young went to Whitestone and saw Mr. Coe, who soent eight days in tracing the bill back beyond himself, and at last brought up again-t Mr. Munson, a butcher, who had paid it in good faith to the Whiles.one House for rent. Mr. Munson made the bil good, and from him the sum of $50 in good money went the rounds again to the Misses Gussmeiler, and all hands were satisfied. The transaction took place at the Yorkville police con tin the presence of Justice Merray. The bill is one of the many $50 counterfeits on the Broadway National Bank, and by Justice Murray's direction it was returned to Mr. Munson, of Whitestone.-New York Hotel Gazeite.

A Lost Sailor's Prayer.

A curious story is told of the shipwreck of a large British collier, which foundered far out at sea, off the coast of California. The sole survivor was a Portuguese sailor, by the name of Lopez, who was picked up lashed to a raft, as he drifted in the path of an inward bound vessel for Puget Sound. He was taken to the Marine Hospital at Port Townsend, and after a week of skillful nursing he so far recovered as to be able to relate his extraordinary for ten days without food or water, One after another of his shipmates died from thirst, until he was alone with the last survivor, and as he was dying Lopez said to him, "George, do you think you are going to God?" On receiving an affirmative reply, Lopez added with all the intenseness of de-spair, "When you get where God is, tell him to send us some water." The dying man promised that he would do so, and soon breathed his last. Shortly after a copious shower fell, and Lopez was enabled by its help to hold out until rescued as stated above, on the twenty-second day after the sinking of the ship.

There is ample testimony to prove that the medicine possesses blood depurating qualities of no common order, besides those of a tonic and general alterative. A new product made from petroleum is a jelly called "Vaseline," which is of the greatest utility in medicine, pharmacy and for toilet use. Physicians all over the world have discovered its great value in the treatment ot wounds, burns, skin diseases, rheumatism, catarro and every allment where a liniment is needed, and in almost every hospital in America and Europe this substance is now in constant use, and is acknowledged not only to be the best treatment, but also one of the most important recent additions to medicine. Its healing and pain allaying qualities being superior to those of any known substance, while the speedy relief it affords for piles and chilblains is almost magical. As an emollient Vaseline is way ahead of anything else, as it renders the skin smooth, soft and clear, and our lady friends will find it not only the best, but perhaps the sole substance which will really preserve and restore to the complexion the hues of youth, making the cheek like velvet and the skin like satin. There is also made a "Pomade Vaseline," which is said to be of great benefit to the hair, keeping it soft and glossy, preventing and curing dandruff, and keeping the scalp healthful and free from dis-ease, and from those objectionable creatures which sometimes find a dwelling there. Num-berless instances are cited of how by the use of this pomade thin and falling hair has re-sumed a vigorous growth. Both the pure Vaseline and the pomade are put up in twenty five cent bottles and are to be found at all first-class druggists, and we advise our readers to make a trial of this wonderful substance, and we think they will find its claims to merit not in the least exagerated.

Carefully avoid the use of rasping cathartics. They weaken the bowels and leave them worse off than before. Use instead, that salutory, non-irritating aperient and anti-bilious medicine, Dr. Mott's Vegetable Liver Pills, which will not only achieve the desired object, relaxation of the bowels, without cansing pain or weakening them, but promote digestion and assimilation and depurate the blood. The pills are sold by all druggists.
