THE New York World predicts that "the Greenback party will endeavor to preserve its organization by demanding a Treasury note circulation, a destruction of all banks of issue and a general crusade against capital." Is not this expecting to much from a corpse ?

THE colapse of the Greenback party was never more plainly demonstrated than it has been within the past ten days in Brookville, one of the leaders of the party, a warm supporter of Mr. Mosgrove last year, having come out as an applicant for P. THE official vote of Massachusetts shows that the two wings of the Democracy preserved in a peculiar way the proportions of strength as exhibited in the vote last year. General Butler's vote was less than 300 votes smaller than that of last year, while the vote given to John Quincy Adams was less than 200 smaller than that received by Judge Abbott in 1878. STATE CAPITAL NEWS.

All of your readers have no doubt been placed in the unpleasant predicament of having to write a letter and not knowing what, in fact not having anything to say; well this week, this is exactly my fix, as there has been nothing of note going on. This town depends entirely on strangers to keep it alive, and were it not for these outside influences the population, which is now rated at 35,000, would speedily drop to ten. You wonder no doubt "why is this 'thusly ?" wall, "I'll tell you. In the winter months the Legislature has always assembled, and the money spent by our solous has been enough to run the place from one year to the other, until the people have come to look to this as their means of support, and have never made any exertion in other directions. When I make this assertion I don't mean to assume that the whole town has this feeling, but I do say that the hotel owners and the store keepers are suffering from apathy and hurting themselves all for the want of what is called a "little push."

The government is erecting a post office opposite the capitol grounds, which is going to cost a considerable amount of money, and will be quite a fine strcture when fivished. It is to be of granite and will be thoroughly fireproof. Putting up such an expensive building I think is a needless waste of money, as it is but a matter ticular your correspondent had to of a few years when the capitol will be suffer with the rest of his neighbors man, and we wish him a prosperous, removed to Philadelphia, which will for here, when a fire starts with the and happy future. stop any increase in population, which wind it has no respect to fields, buildseems to be expected by the size of the ings or timber. Winter is upon us again in a mild form, and as we have been blessed with splendid weather, farmers have about completed their fall work. The crops here were splendid, and we are getting good prices for every kind of produce, and the money we get is not fiat money, but good honest Republican money, and every dollar good for the face of it. Who is entitled to credit for the honest money in circulation?

The shipments of hogs and cattle from here is greater than I ever have seen during any prior season, as high as 20 car loads of hogs having been shipped from this station per day, and it has been almost impossible for the Railroad Companies in the west to supply shippers with the necessary amount of cars to transport to eastern markets the cattle, hogs and grain. I have seen our stock yards here full of cattle and hogs, which had to be kept for a week awaiting cars for shipment. By this you may judge the western boom during the past two months.

Fires have done great damage in the west the past fall, and in one pardrive the deer on the bluffs, and it will burn for several days at a time, and travel for miles, for it is impossible to

Although situated on the border we still belong to the "Great Greenback Centre," Forest County, and presume we have an interest, and a right to be heard in the same.

Business still moves on, and with an upward tendency in "Old Barnett." and the present indications are that a great deal more than the average run of timber will find its way to the banks of the Clarion during the winter.

The saw mill belonging to Judge Andrew Cook, situated on Maple Creek, has been put in operation since the late freshets, and is doing good business under the management of Jacob Cook, who proves himself master of circumstances, and who will doubtless yet prove his ability to the satisfaction of his friends, and the chagrin of his opposers.
