A CONTEMPORARY suggests that the report of Col. Wright's hard-times committee be put in pickle and kept until another depression comes along. The report can certainly do no good

It is evident that if Samuel J. Tilden could be prevailed upon to make his political will just now he would name Samuel J. Randall as his beir. But Mr. T. has no idea of making such a will just yet.

IT is intimated from Boston that a delegation of Mexicans bave visited General Butler and urged him to leave this ungrateful country and head a revolution in Mexico, with a view of establishing a strong government there. Butler would just fit into a situation of that kind.

HARRISBURG, Dec. 13, 1879. As I had proposed I took a trip to topic. The General will, on his trip be tendered a reception and will be entertained by Gov. Hoyt. Monday evening he will visit the fair being held by the Grand Army posts, and early for Philad's. On his arrival there will be a parade which will be so long that it is calculated, should the head of the column move at 9 a. m., the rear will not be able to leave the ground. Every day and night he is when he will leave for the South. The relief. rest of the minter he intends to spend in Mexico and Cuba. The State House is to be decorated in a handsome manner, and at night to be illuminated with calcium lights. On all the streets where the procession passes arches are to be thrown across, and stands will be erected to accommodate thousands of lookers on. The day will be a holiday in every sense of the night it is proposed to illuminate the whole city and have a grand display of fireworks. It is the intention to outdo all the other cities in the way of a demonstration, and from the preparation being made I think will be highly successful.

him an idea of what it can do in the way of a parade, and all the neighboring military and fire companies have been invited to participate. It promises to be quite an imposing affair, and will be reviewed by our guest from the Governor's mansion.

The Grand Army Posts opened their fair on Tuesday evening, and are meeting with a well deserved success. The Mathew Baird Cornet Band, of Philad'a, which is composed of boys from the Soldiers Orphan School of Philad's, furnished the music.

Saturday night last we had quite a fire, which destroyed five houses, and which might have destroyed more had it not been for the heavy rain which was falling at the time, which assisted the firemen in extinguishing it.

On Monday afternoon Judge Pearson read a decision in court quashing the indictment against Alexander W. Leisenring one of the alleged riot bribers, for the same reason as given in the Salter case in Court on November 26. He also filed a Tengthy written opinion in the Salter case, covering all the ground fully, and giving his action on each motion made by the defense to quash. Messrs. Lamberton and Herr, of counsel for the defense, and Mr. Irwin, for the prosecution, were present. The decision this afternoon virtually quashes all of the indictments, and new bills will be sent to the Grand Jury in January.

On Monday a charter was granted at the State Department to the Susquehanna and Clearfield Railroad Company, to be located in Clinton, Clearfield and Centre counties, extending from a point on the line of the Philadelphia and Erie railroad at or Backache, Liver and Kidney Cure for near Keating, Clinton county, via the sale by druggists. A charter was also granted on Wednesday to the Virginia Scapstone Co., which has been formed for the mining and transportation of soap stone, and manufacturing and selling marketable articles of "the same. The principal mining operations will be in Fairfax Co., Virginia, and the business office Goods; the sale to commence on in Philad'a.

The Penn's R. R., have begun Philad's preparatory to building their elevated road, which is to extend from their old depot at 32nd and Market Sts., across the Schuylkill river down Filbert St., to 15th St., right into the heart of the city, where they will erect a magnificent depot. Across the street from their new depot they intend public buildings.

I'm going to Philad'a to take in the festivities, and next week will try and give you an idea of what they were WARREN.

Governor-elect Foster of Ohio is here and says that General Garfield evidently has the Senatorial race all to himself.
