LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

—Rev. A. O. Stone will preach in the M. E. Church next Sunday evening.

M. E. Sunday School at 10 o'clock a. m., and Presbyterian Sunday School at 3 o'clock p. m.

—Our jail is once more full of emptiness.

—The mud has been dried up by the frosts, as it were, but that don't improve the hauling much.

—Another breastpin was found in front of the M. E. Church, recently, and handed us. The loser will please call and "take it away."

—Frank Leslie, the publisher, died in New York, on the 10th inst. He was the publisher of six or eight periodicals, and was well known to the literary world.

—Supt. Brockway, who has lately been making a tour through the county visiting schools, reports business in the lumbering camps generally suspended on account of the absence of snow.

—On our first page will be found a very nicely prepared collection of all important events of the world during 1879. It will be a good thing to preserve for future reference.

—One day last week while engaged on a log job at Buck Mills, on Tionesta Creek, a young man named Tommy Taig, got his wrist severely out with an ax. We were unable to learn the full particulars.

—The stove mills in this section have about all shut down for want of bolts. The weather for the past two weeks has been so unfavorable for hauling that the mills could not be kept in stock.

—Our Harrisburg correspondent makes some predictions as to the future political prospects. He is in a position to know pretty nearly "how the cat jumps," and we wouldn't be surprised if he was correct.

—James Haddeson, of whose severe suffering from a cancer in the nose we made mention last week, is failing daily, and it is thought he cannot survive much longer. He is so weakened as not to be able to have an operation performed. A sad case, indeed.

—D. S. Richmond, of Meadville, has been appointed census supervisor of the tenth census district of Pennsylvania, which comprises the counties of Armstrong, Butler, Clarion, Crawford, Elk, Erie, Forest, Jefferson, Mercer, Venango and Warren.—Derriek.

—Our readers will please overlook any shortcomings that may be noticeable in this issue. A death in the family of the editor prevented the gathering of the usual amount of local happenings, and caused the suspension of work altogether for two or three days.

—It is hoped that the members of the Republican County Committee will all respond to Chairman Davis' call for a meeting next Saturday, 17th inst. Business of importance to all the Republicans of the county is to be transacted, and a full turnout is very necessary.

—Mr. Dithridge's Auction Sale in Partridge's building is still going on every afternoon and evening with good success. He is rapidly disposing of his large stock of reasonable goods, and those who wish to secure bargains that are bargains, should call before the goods are all sold.

—Mr. John Greig, of Tylersburg, Pa., informs us that one day last week, three men of that place out and ranked up twelve cords of stove bolts in nine hours. Mr. G. said if any one doubted the truth of his assertion he was ready to back it up with any amount from ten to five hundred dollars that they could do it again.

—Constable Swaggart requests us to remind those who have in contemplation the netting of pigeons in this section that a law exists compelling non-residents of the State to take out a license before proceeding to business, and that the law must be strictly complied with. Also that no shooting in the roost will be tolerated.

—Our Newtown correspondent gives the particulars of a very sad affair which took place near there last Friday. The grief-stricken parents wish us to ask the residents along the creek to keep a close watch for the child in case it should come to the surface of the water. It is one of the saddest cases which has taken place in this vicinity for many years, and we hope the body may be recovered soon and thus, in a measure, alleviate the sorrows of the parents.

—W. G. Clark has sold his interest in the Brookville Graphic Democrat to his former partner Mr. McMurray, who will hereafter conduct the paper. Mr.
Clark has made himself quite a reputation as a writer and we wish him success when he again branches out in business. Mr. McMurray will also accept best wishes for his success.

—The abundance of pigeons in this neighborhood last week, brought to town our genial friend Bacon, of Vienna, Ohio. He looks natural and is as fond of trapping pigeons as ever.
Although the present weather is not favorable for the business, we hope he and the pigeons may sojourn with us till spring.

—Several parties shouldered their "Winchesters" and hied to the woods yesterday morning. They were probably going out to see if there were any "foxes" left, and indulge in a little target practice generally. The crack of a rifle sounds so much better in the woods on a frosty morning than anywhere else.

—The Monthly Teachers' Institute will be held in this place on the last Saturday of January, which will be the 31st day. Many of the teachers throughout the county have signified their willingness to be present, and no doubt an interesting and instructive meeting will be the result. All should attend who can make it convenient to do so.

—Rev. J. B. Thompson, of the Reformed Church of Shandale, Clarion Co., preached a very able and seasonable sermon in the Presbyterian Church of this place last Sunday evening.
He was assisted in the services by Rev.
Stone, who very kindly dismissed services at the M. E. Church, in order to give his congregation an opportunity to hear Rev. Thompson.

—Mr. D. W. Clark, Jr., insurance agent of Tidouze, was in town last Friday on "biz." Will has lately taken a "life policy" upon himself which he considers the best investment of his life, and which he has gone so far as to swear to love, cherish and protect above all others. May the bright sunshine of happiness and prosperity ever lighten your household, Willie.

—Quite a snow storm occurred on Monday, and for a time our citizens were jubilant over the prospect of sleighting, but at this writing the sky is bright, and the indications are that we will have another "break-up." In this connection we might state that Mr.
G. M. Kepler offers to give $20 to the first preacher he meets who we have two weeks of good sleighing.

—A couple of our ardent sportsmen planted themselves on the hill back of Mr. Jamieson's place, above here last Monday morning for the purpose of netting pigeons. Having completed all arrangements for the pigeons when they should put in an appearance, they sat down to await their coming. While thus engaged they were surprised to see a very fine deer walk into the field within easy gun shot. But, alas! they were minus a gun, and were obliged to sit and watch the deer and curse their stupidity in not bringing with them the implements of warfare. Finding they could do nothing they concluded to give it a good scare and see it "dig out." This they proceeded to do, when, lo! the gentle doe walked straight toward them, and proved to be one of Mr.
Jamieson's pets. Had they possessed a gun no doubt they would have made "deer" work for themselves.

—Mr. G. M. Kepler, the efficient Superintendent of the Millerstown Oil Co., was around on Monday morning in high spirits. Their well on the Hill farm, four miles above town, has finally been completed, after much trouble, bad luck and vexation, and bids fair to become a good paying well, at least it is up to Mr. K.'s greatest anticipations. It is down 400 feet, and pumping began on Saturday, but the salt water is giving them so much trouble that they are unable to do much until they can get a gas pump attached and exhaust it. This pump has been sent for and will probably arrive to-day or to-morrow. They found 42 feet of sand which is pronounced first-class by those who know.
This well is situated several rods farther back from the ones put down on this farm a year or two ago, and there being so much more sand, Mr.
Kepler thinks he has succeeded in defining the course of the belt. He thinks the present well will be good for 5 barrels 28 gravity oil, which is worth from $5 to $6 per barrel. We are glad to see Mr. K. so much encouraged with the prospects, and hope he and his company may realize all they expect. We will be able to report more fully the results of the test in our next.

THANKS.

We desire to extend our heartfelt thanks to our friends of TioneSta and vicinity for their assistance and kindness in our sudden and sad bereavement in the death of our little Kate.
G. G. BUTTERFIELD,
LIZZIE BUTTERFIELD.

A Sad Affair.

On Friday about 11:45 a. m., one of Mr. R. Rudolph's children aged about 19 months ran out of the house and was missed some five or six minutes and when looked for could no where be found.

As Mr. Rudolph's house is not more than 20 feet from the creek, a short distance below Newtown, it is supposed that the child fell into the creek and that he has been drowned and carried away by the stream. At the time of the accident Mr. Rudolph was on his way home from Wheeler & Co.'s mills, at Newtown, where he had been at work. Upon nearing the house he heard screams and on arriving learned of the accident. Search was immediately made but up to the present writing the body has not been found.
The creek has been dragged with "drag hooks" but as the creek is very high it was of no avail. The country about has been searched, but, likewise, no trace has been found.

The bereaved, sorrow-stricken parents have the utmost sympathy of all in the neighborhood.

Barnett Township Pickings.

Mr. M. Pierce is coming on finely with his job. He has the snug little contract of putting in a million logs, and thirty thousand cubic feet of square timber, given him by Thompson & Darrach of Brookville, Pa.

A spelling bee at Greenwood School house, on the evening of the 2d inst., was attended by a full house, and duly appreciated. General good order prevailed during the exercises. The following programme was carried out: Opening song. A Sleighting song by Miss Suffie Maze. Spelling by chosen sides. Intermission. Song, "Pretty little Miss," by Misses Suffie Maze and Mary Cussins. Spelling; general exercise. Recitation and closing exercise by the teacher. The laurels were won by Miss Lizzie Kuhns. The rounds of applause which greeted the performers showed well the success of their efforts.

The performances not included in the programme consisted in—scene first: A trial of pugilistic skill, of the regular "she cat" style, between a couple of young "hopefuls" which ended with a half dozen huge pairs of boots kicking at one half-grown boy, and the disappearance of the boy. Scene second: The shelling off of half a dozen "dusters," and disappearance of their owners behind the curtain (school house).
When they had blown sufficient wind, they quietly returned, seemingly very much relieved. This was their best policy, for the lovers of order and justice were there in a sufficient number, and determined to administer in any sized doses necessary. JOHN.

OBITUARY.

Kate Maggie, daughter of G. G. and Lizzie Butterfield, was born in Tionesta, Pa., March 4th, 1873, and departed this life Jan. 9th, 1880, after an illness of 36 hours.

Kate in her few years enjoyed life in its full. Being of lively and buoyant feelings, combined with a tender sympathetic temper and a rarely developed mind, she entered into all the scenes of life to enjoy them fully. She loved her little companions, and won and enjoyed their confidence—always ready to make a sacrifice for their comfort or pleasure. Of a rare inventive imagination, she could utilize and adapt means for their entertainment; of pure mind, her own feelings were always ready to enjoy. She took great delight in the Sabbath School; she learned to love it in her infant years and was always anxious for the Sabbath; it was not a weary day to her.
She loved to be taught divine things, and showed remarkable conceptions of them, and to be taught the spiritual meaning of things. She was anxiously learning verses to receive the reward, "her own Bible," and was learning to read well enough to be able to use the Lesson Leaf. She imitated her Saviour in Luke 2 chap. 46 verse, in hearing and asking questions. She was led to Jesus and He is faithful to His own teaching and promise, Mark 10 chap.
13 to 16 verse: "And they brought young children to him, that he should touch them, and his own disciples rebuked these that brought them. But when Jesus saw it, he was much displeased, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not; for of such is the Kingdom of God. Verily I say unto you, whosoever shall not receive the Kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein. And he took them up in his arms, put his hands upon them, and blessed them." And, Matthew 21 chap. 15 and 16 verses:
"And when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the Son of David; they were sore displeased, and said unto him, Hearst thou what these say? And Jesus said unto them, Yea; have ye never read, Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise?"

The parents and friends will miss her bright and joyous little face, but have this consolation: Jesus loved her more and has taken her to Himself.

GRIFFIN, in Fagundas, Pa., Dec.
28, 1879, of lung fever, Matie C., youngest daughter of Charles and Ellen Griffin, aged one year and three months.

Matie was a bright, intelligent child, and endeared herself to all who knew her. She was the flower of the family, and the idol of her father's heart. She was a great sufferer during her last sickness, but bore her afflic-tion with patience. She knew her parents and kissed them both but a few hours before she slept her last sleep. She was attended by Dr.
Blaine, of TioneSta, and every thing was done for her that could be done, by kind parents and friends. But she left us for a brighter home in heaven.
The remains were taken to Hamburg, N. Y., for interment. The funeral sermon was preached by the Rev. T.
Sharpe, who made very appropriate remarks. The afflicted parents have the sympathy of the entire community in their great bereavement.

She was a little blooming rose;
A transitory flower.
She was not ours, but only lent To cherish for an hour. S.

STATE CAPITAL JOTTINGS.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 10, '80.

Everything is moving on in the even-tenor of its way and nothing is liable to rouse us from our stupor until the State Convention meets in February.
Ex-State Senator Lemon of Blair, who having the nomination of Treasurer in his hand last fall stepped down so gracefully for Mr. Butler, will no doubt be the party's nominee. He is very popular throughout the State and has added to his friends many who were opposed to him last July. Passmore will make a show and will no doubt be rewarded with a complimentary vote, but Lemou will be nominated on the first ballot. Passmore is liked but has had his day. Lemon is a strong man and has carried a Democratic district for years representing it in the Senate. Tuesday night Philadelphia elects its delegates to the State Convention and the delegation will have a strong "Lemon" flavor.

It is evident that Quay will be the next U. S. Senator, though Grow will give him a hard pull for it. Quay, no doubt, did considerable to carry the State against Dill in '78, but Grow's hard money speech at Oil City gave the party a platform to work on, and was the winning card in the campaign.

It is expected that our delegation to the National Convention will be solid for Grant, but even so Blaine will be nominated without a doubt. He is very popular in this State as well as in Ohio and New York. Cameron will try to beat him here, Conklin in New York, and Sherman in Ohio, but I am afraid their efforts will not avail and they will finally agree he is the man to carry victory with him.

Don Cameron has been mentioned but I do not think he cares for it as he would rather be the power behind the throne, than the luckless chap that sits on it. WARREN.
