SENATOR WALLACE says his only interest in Pennsylvania politics now is with reference to the legislature. This is precisely what everybody knew long ago.

MR. WASHBURNE expresses the opinion that dark horses are pot in it would be a square neck and neck race between Grant and Blaine.

KEARNEY has come to the conclusion that there is not enough freedom left in this country to be worth saving. His own freedom is somewhat limited just now. It is what the Democratic editors would call a 7 by 8 freedom.

He has already been selected by the Democracy as a sort of forlorn hope, and might possibly win if a half-dozen other parties could be induced to pool their issues and unite upon him solidly .- Franklin Press.

DENNIS KEARNEY languishes in the California jail, and the dispatches from San Francisco state that he is very much depressed. This ought to be the condition of a man in his situation. Law and order have been completely vindicated and San Francisco people now proudly hold up their heads and say, "our judiciary can be depended upon to protect the community against incendiaries and seditious demagogues." The law and order people of San Francisco are now inquiring into the character of the Sand-Lot utterances of Mayor Kalloch, with a view to instituting proceedings for his impeachment.

The Bribery Cases.

The bribery convicts, Kemble, Petroff, Rumberger, Salter and Crawford were up before Judge Pearson at Harrisburg, on Monday, and received their sentence, which is as follows: "One thousand dollars fine each, costs of prosecution, and imprisonment in the Eastern Panitentiary for one year at hard labor in solitary confinement." Regarding the effect of the sentence upon the prisoners we cull the following from the Pittsburgh Com. Gazette's

As the words "hard labor" came from the Judge's lips, Kimble started and turned quickly toward his counsel, Col. Mann and Judge Brewster. His eyes were glassy, with heavy dark circles about them, and his features pale and rigid. The prisoners were then removed to the county jail, where they are to-night.

Your reporter was around there to-We are authorized to announce that WM. D. Old Jesse Crawford, who will be seventy years old on the 28th of his word that they should be pardoned before they consented to plead guilty. Petroff sits in his cell tearing a newspaper into bits, and noticing no one. Over in the Lochiel Hotel sits Mrs. Kemble in her room almost a raving maniac.

LATER.—The prison physician was sent for to-night to attend Col. Rumberger, who, the doctor states, has lost his reason in consequence of the imprisonment.

Our Washington Letter.

Special to the REPUBLICAR. WASHINGTON, D. C., Apr. 22, '80. The demagoguery of the Democratic party was never better illustrated than in the case of the "Immediate Deficiency Bill." Four months ago this bill was drafted and passed the House; the Senate delayed it for a while then amended, and sent it back to the House, where it has laid in the committee for three weeks without a single | 10 W. When at last, in obedience to a public clamor, and fault finding, the Democrats bring it up, they immediately get in a great hurry and want it passed, political riders, and all without one word of debate, thus endeavoring to deprive the minority of their legal right to debate a question of importance. The Republicans, of course refused to be deprived of their rights, and are determined not 19 G. The two Democratic conventions in New York this week show that the Tilden and Kelly elements cannot be united. Of course Tilden will get the Total amount of orders outstandvote of the State in the Convention, but he also knows that if he is nominated that Tammany will belt and thus Township, find the same to be cordefeat him at the election. This prospect is encouraging to Republicans who forsee Tilden's nomination. This whole canvass so far is peculiar. The Democratic States are trying to force Grant upon the Republican party, and Tilden is trying to secure the Democratic nomination through the votes of Republican States. Democrate thinking they can beat Grant, and Republicans knowing they can beat Tilden.

The Geneva Award Bill has been indefinitely postponed. The Senators who have distinguished themselves in this debate are Blaine and Edmunds, Carpenter and Thurman, also distinguished themselves, but on the wrong aide of the argument. Senator Blaine won his point in having the Insurance Companies stricken from the list.

The Southern Democrats are going to try and have the tariff laws revised. We wish them joy. PHIL.
