

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

FOR SUPREME JUDGE, HENRY GREEN, of Northampton County. FOR AUDITOR GENERAL, JOHN A. LEMON, of Blair County.

Announcements.

[Our terms for announcements will be: Congress, $20; President Judge, $20; Assembly, $10; Associate Judge, $10; Treasurer, $8. In no case will an announcement appear when the cash does not accompany the name. This rule will not be broken in favor of anyone.]

PRESIDENT JUDGE.

We are authorized to announce that WM. D. BROWN, of Warren, will be a candidate at the ensuing election for the office of President Judge of the judicial district composed of the counties of Elk, Forest, and Warren, subject to the decision of the Republican convention of the district. April 27, 1880.

CONGRESS.

We are authorized to announce Major HENRY WETTER, of Clarion county, as a candidate for Congress in this District, subject to the action of the Republican Convention of the district.

We are authorized to announce Gen. HARRY WHITE, of Indiana County, as a candidate for Congress in this District, subject to the action of the Republican Convention of the district.

ASSEMBLY.

We are authorized to announce E. I. DAVIS, Esq., of Tionesta borough, as a candidate for Assembly, subject to Republican usages.

We are authorized to announce GILBERT JAMIESON, of Tionesta Township, as a candidate for the nomination of Assembly, subject to Republican usages.

COUNTY TREASURER.

We are authorized to announce N. S. FOREMAN, of Tionesta borough, as a candidate for the nomination of County Treasurer, subject to Republican usages.

PRESIDENT HAYES says he would not take a second term if it was tendered him on a silver platter. He evidently does not think it would be a legal tender.

EACH of the four weeks in June will witness the holding of a National Convention. The Republicans meet at Chicago on the 24, the Greenbackers on the 9th, the Prohibitionists at Cleveland on the 17th, and the Democrats at Cincinnati on the 23d.

EX-GOVERNOR CURTIN says he is now going to roll up his sleeves and go into the Presidential campaign with all his might. He proposes to show the Democracy that he is with them heart and soul. It is to be hoped the Democrats will again nominate Mr. Curtin for Congress. The Republicans may need that district.

SECRETARY SCHURZ declares himself more intensely anti-Grant now than he was in 1872. He adds that within forty-eight hours after the nomination of General Grant he (Schurz) will hand in his resignation as Secretary of the Interior, and take the field in favor of an anti-Third Term Republican ticket. If Secretary Schurz's influence has the same effect it did in '72 his efforts in favor of an anti-third term ticket will be just the thing for the Republican party.

THE resolution adopted by the colored convention in this city, Wednesday last, illustrated the political change of feeling among the people. A year ago a similar convention was held and a resolution passed, endorsing Grant as the Republican candidate for the Presidency of 1880. The delegates last year were, with the exception of ten, the same men who passed the Blaine resolution this year, and the latter was adopted with only five dissenting votes. Out of fifty delegates this change of opinion is remarkable as showing the public feeling on the third term.—Derriek.

HON. EDWARD McPHERSON takes occasion to call the attention of Pennsylvania Republicans to the fact that in 1868 Senator J. Donald Cameron bolted the instructions of the Pennsylvania State convention. The instructions to the delegation were to vote as a unit for ex-Governor Andrew G. Curtin for Vice President. Mr. Cameron did not fancy the medicine and pre-emptorily refused to take it. There are many other precedents but none that have so forcible an application at the present time as the one noted. Pretty much every body has come to the conclusion that the unit rule has outlived the day of its usefulness.

STATE CAPITAL JOTTINGS.

HARRISBURG, PA., May 22, '80. Like South America we have wet and dry seasons. Our streets are either a foot deep with mud or, vice versa, the same depth with dust, which is mud with the water squeezed out. Just now we are having our dry "spell." Haven't had rain for a month, and from present appearances won't have any for another month. Besides being dry and dusty it is hot—yes, hot's the word. To say warm would be "drawing it too mild." The heat is having the effect of bringing on a mild species of lunacy, of which we had a specimen on Monday evening, which was as follows: One of our fire companies took a trip down the Cumberland Valley to the town of Lebanon, which is but a few miles distant from here, and on their return in the evening, were met at the depot by our department, and paraded through the town accompanied by several bands of music, and their path illuminated with torches and the glare of fireworks. Did you ever hear of anything more absurd? You might have thought from the reception given them that they had been abroad for a year, instead of which they had only been away about twelve hours and some 25 miles distant. Ce monde est plein de fous is an old French saying and seems to me to be a true one.

Gardeners are still engaged in beautifying the "hill." The fountains are being surrounded with flowers, the shrubs and grass being trimmed and roses set out in profusion.

Milton, the town above here that was burnt the other day is rising from its ashes. Philadelphia has already sent over $31,000 in cash besides boxes of clothing and groceries. Senator Cameron had a bill passed in Congress on Wednesday appropriating $25,000 for the purpose of erecting a public building, which will assist the residents considerably in their present distress. As they are a very energetic people and are receiving considerable assistance I am sure their embarrassment will only be temporary, and when they recover from it they will be better off than before.

The Grant men are jubilant over the capturing of Illinois, and now feel assured of his nomination. They may nominate him but they cannot make the people vote for him, consequently he can't be elected. But Messrs. Cameron, Conkling and Logan want to be Cabinet officers, therefore Grant must be nominated and the party must run the risk of defeat because they are willing to run that risk to make their point. The people don't want Grant; its only those seekers after place that are crying for him. Blaine is the popular cry, but I don't believe he can be elected, therefore they had better take Edmunds, as Washburne has withdrawn in favor of Grant. If Washburne is willing to see our ticket defeated he should not now, in the event of Grant's withdrawal, be allowed a place upon the ticket. My idea is that a good republican should be nominated, one who would sacrifice feeling for the good of the party, not party for personal aggrandizement.

WARREN.

Our Washington Letter.

SPECIAL TO THE REPUBLICAN. WASHINGTON, D. C., May 20, '80. All the appropriation bills but two are now in progress through the House or Senate, and all will be passed before the last of next week, so good judges say. Of course little else can be done, but if this can be done the end is near, and the country will excuse Congress for doing very little if it will adjourn to early too do any mischief. There are many who want the bill to change and establish beyond dispute the method of counting the electoral vote to be acted upon this session so as to be operative after the next election, but it is hardly probable an agreement can be arrived at. The Republicans have one plan, the correct one, and the Democrats another. The Republicans wish, in disputed cases to let the State in dispute decide for itself, which return is the valid one. This is a true States Rights bill, and if consistency was a Democratic virtue it would support this measure. But the Democratic plan is to put the whole matter of disputes into the hands of the Democratic majority for decision. There is no time for debate, and both plans may as well be abandoned for the present.

The great Hanlan-Courtney race came off on the Potomac here yesterday, and was witnessed by over one hundred thousand people. In reality it was no race. Hanlan had things all his own way. In fact, Courtney did not pull over the whole course, but turned around when half way down, pulled leisurely back to his boat house. He feigned sickness as the cause of his ignominious defeat, but the excuse is not received with favor, and has added greatly to his unenviable reputation of unreliability. Courtney was in plain words, frightened; the confidence and pluck of Hanlan unnerved him, and it is said that he was so nervous that he did not sleep a wink the night before the race. Thousands of dollars changed hands, and those who bet on Courtney are loud in their denunciation of him. The delegation from Union Springs, N. Y., who backed Courtney, go home "broke," while the Hanlan Toronto delegation go home "flush." We may have another race here next week between Hanlan and Riley. PHIL.
