TIMELY TOPICS.

There are growing on the estate of the late William Cullen Bryant, at Roslyn. Long Island, some wainut trees of extraordinary proportions. They are said to be the largest in the country and, what is more remarkable, they graw from seed in 1813. Some of the trees measure twenty-five teet around, three feet above the ground. One tree, at the height of thirteen feet from the ground, divides the second of the second o divides into several branches, which spread out into a large head, covering 150 feet in diameter.

Since the close of the war the contri-butions to the "conscience fund" of the United States treasury from unknown persons have aggregated some $200,000. Once $11,000 was received in one day, and several times the receipts have been $5,000 for a single day. Sometimes the person sending the money confesses he has smuggled or defrauded the internal revenue, but usually all that is said is that the inclosed amount belongs to the government. Assistant Secretary Upton evinces his faith in the power of repentance by declaring that he would like to be allowed the conscience fund in the of a secretary. in lieu of a salary.

The master of a schooner plying off the Texas coast has sailed through an immense field of green turtles. It was estimated that the water covered by these turtles formed an area of eight miles in width and ten miles in length They were of all sizes, not one being seen in a natural position. The water was literally covered with them. During the passage among the turtles, Spanish mackeral were leaping high in the air in every direction, as it determined to escape from the sea, giving evidence that either the water underneath was in a dreadful commotion, or sea monsters had come down upon them from some strange sea.

"Iced air ' sounds delightfully re-freshing when all humanity is panting with the fervid heat of summer. This term has been applied to the novel and elaborate system of ventilation which has been lately introduced into a New York theater. By means of two im-mense fanwheels in the cellar the air in the theater is changed completely in five or six minutes. This supply of air is drawn from above the building, and is purified by passing through a "dust-catcher" made of cheese-cloth. It is then cooled by passing over a huge vault filled with ice, and distributed by a complicated process to all parts of the The impure and heated air is removed by various ingenious devices. It is believed that no more effective method of cooling large buildings has ever been put into practical use.

In cambrics may be found a handsome variety of picturesque effects. Some of the bordered patterns are re-markably showy, the colors being the brightest that fashion ever massed together.

All gloves are less expensive than for many years. Cotton gloves come as elaborately made in open-work and silk stitching as the Lisle thread and are trequently imposed upon the ignorant by careless salesmen.

Lisle thread gloves are much more elastic, thinner, and when placed beside the cotton the difference is discernible.

Washing, Ironing, and Mending. Whether to soak the clothes overnight or not is a much-disputed question with housewives. Where pure cisteru water can be had, it is doubtless an advantage, but to soak clothes in hard water sets the stains rather than removes them, and river water, unless filtered when drawn off in quantities, as a rule contains so much mud that it is apt to twenty-five and thirty years was weekly wash. If possible, hang the smaller pieces in an unused room upstairs, when the rest may be usually disposed of by hanging at night on lines stretched across the kitchen, where the heat of the fire will dry them before morning. Blankets ought never to be washed in rainy weather. Select a bright summer day for the work, and let it be done and through with. Have two people to wring them, and stretch and pull them carefully when putting on the lines. Then pull and fold when dry, and put under press instead of ironing. Unless care is taken to see that the clothespins and clothesline are kept clean, ugly spots and streaks will result. The lines should never be left out over night, unless it is necessary in order to dry them after being caught in a shower. In such case they should be wiped with a cloth before the clothes are again hung on them. A hirt-board for ironing is a necessity in every well-regulated family.
