WE may publish a poem on coffeepots and sich, before long.

Good strong coffee will find ready sale at the Democrat office during the campaign. Also a few old peachcans.

THE bellowing of the calf in the vicinity of the Democrat office sufficiently indicates whose bull got hit in the eye.

THE Democrat says it is proposed to send the Republicans up Salt River in a balloon. It will take more than Democratic gas to do that job,

GENERAL WEAVER says, speaking of his late experience in Alabama : "I used to think Tilden was fairly elected, but am now theroughly convinced that he was not."

THE Democrat says some of the Republican candidates will need considerable coloring in order to make their election sure. We don't think it will need any coloring or naturalization papers.

4-532-0----THE Democrat complains that Garfield voted against putting coffee on the free list. The fact is that coffee has been slung around entirely too free by Coffee-pot Wallace and other Clearfield county chaps.

its party "have candidates that need no coloring." The trouble is they have too much coloring. It is not coloring matter, it is rivers of loyal stain that is on them.

Tun papers in the 25th Congressional District, now represented by Gen. Harry White, are asking some pertinent questions of the Greenback-Democratic candidate for Congress, Mosgrove. That gentleman is unable to answer them, however, and this inability on his part will add several hundred to Gen. White's majority in November. - Clearfield Times.

Yo've said it now.

KEPLER-that is the "Captain" (?) voted to retain the duty on coffee. That must have been about the time that Wallace and his "right-bowers" that Wallace and his "right-bowers" business down in Philipsburg, Centre county. MASON AND BLAKELEY.

licans of Allegheny county held a rat- ocratic party do not even claim their ification meeting on Saturday evening, August 7th. Addresses were made by Hon. S. R. Mason, Hon. Galusha Grew, Gen. Wm. Blakeley, and others. our readers will remember that the Hon. S. R. Mason was a candidate for Governor on the Greenback ticket in 1878, be should vote and labor for the succandidate for Judge of Allegheny election. county on the Greenback ticket the same year. The following is a brief sketch of the speeches of Mason and Blakely, as reported in the Pittsburgh Commercial Gazette, which we recomin Forest county:

SKETCH OF S. R. MASON'S SPEECH. The speaker said this might seem to to his eloquent address upon the pres-

many to be a new departure for him ent occasion. politically, but he had considered the matter carefully and had arrived at the conclusion after mature deliberation. Two years ago he was, without solicitation on his part, nominated by the National party for Governor, the first office in the gift of the people of the State. In that large convention, assembled in Philadelphia, he pledged himself after his nomination to go before the people of the State and fairly discuss the great issue before them, the question of the currency and the effect he believed resumption would have on the industries of the country. That pledge he has faithfully kept. He addressed eighty-five mass meetings, in all of which he had given his views fully and fearlessly in the prescuce of all other political parties. The verdict of the people at the polls was against the issue then made by the National party, although about one hundred thousand voters of the State believed and acted withit. So far as the speaker was personally concerned, he was nothing more or less than the representative of the principles of the party. For the support he had received against the well organized efforts of the two other great parties he would ever feel gratified. Of one thing he felt well assured, that both the Republican and Democratic parties would accord to him and his supporters an honest conviction of right in the effort which they had made. In a republican form of government, such as ours, the majority must, and of right ought to rule, and hence the National party submitted to the will of the people as expressed at the ballot box. The violated and trampled under foot in great issues then before the country an effort to carry out the damnable are now settled. The question of the policy of Andy Johnson. General currency, like the old question of Hancock represents the same cause for United States banks, has been put to which Lee fought and Jackson died. rest by the noisless but supreme agency, the ballot. Life is too short for us to attempt to revive dead issuey. We must meet the realities of the present of rebellion still within them, and their and deal with them as we find them. The people of these United States are again called upon to choose the Chief Magistrate of the nation. In exercising this high duty too much caution in the coming election. In conclusion cannot be observed. Passion and sectional prejudice should not have a place in the desire for the best interests of the public good. The triumph of one party or the other will settle the policy for at least the next four years. As there is no distinctive issue upon which the National party can stand, the contest will be between the Republican and Democratic parties, and between these the people must make a choice. The history of the Republican party and its record are before the Country. There is nothing uncertain friend, D. W. Clark, did on the 1st day of the country. country. There is nothing uncertain or equivocal about it. Its lines and policies are distinctly marked. Even on the question of currency they gave forth no uncertain sound. Their de. forth no oncertain sound. Their deliverances were unbesitatingly made. They went before the people on their ulterances, and the result of the election showed where the popular heart beat. That there has been at times much unwise and even bad legislation no honest man will doubt. That dishonest and corrupt men have sometimes held place is equally true. That such has been the fact as to all political parties, not only the history of our and provided. Herein full not. They went before the people on their THE Democrat need not tell as that times held place is equally true. That cal parties, not only the history of our own, but of all other countries, abundantly proves. To discern the evil and provide the remedy rests with the peocal parties, not only the history of our provide the remedy rests with the peosoap and water they need to cleanse ple through the agency of the ballot, them from the Democratic dirt and where every citizen, from the highest official to the lowest cottager in the land, has the same voice. What the policy of the Democratic party has been for the past twenty years would be difficult to determine. Looking at their atterances as expressed by the party assembled in conventions the casual reader would be at a less to discover whether they had either principle or policy. In different States, and even in different sections of the same State, the same policy, even on the questi n of the currency, aid not prevail. One State declared for hard money, while another was in favor of the legal tender money issued by the -is opposed to Carfield on account of Government alone as the money for his tariff record, claiming that Garfield | the people. By this vacillating course they lost not only the confidence of the people, but their own self-respect THE BUCKEYE BLACKSMITH, as a party. In his public utterances he had always discussed principles, not men. That is where he stood to-day. Blakeley was a cess of its candidates at the coming

> SPEECH OF GEN, WM. BLAKELY. Gen. Wm. Blakely, the late Greenback candidate for Judge in this county, was next called on, and responded with a pointed speech. He said :

Friends and Brother Republicans; mend to the careful perusal and con-sideration of our Greenback brethren ing to my friend Mr. Mason, and not to make a speech myself, but as I was in the same box with Brother Mason in 1878, I feel like adding a few words

all over this broad land that the money by which the United States Government had been enabled to equip its armies and navies, pay its soldiers and HOWE SEWING MACHINE withstand the numberless other drains upon its resources produced by a devastating civil war, should not be destroyed, but should remain as a pracious memento of unsuccessful treason and as a guarantee of an aid to the future prosperity of the country. This ery was heard by Congress and through their action $346,000,000 was saved to the people. This was the work of the Greenback party. I ran on the Greenback ticket once and am not ashamed of the vote which I received nor of the people who voted for me. Many of them are here to night [Cries of yes! yes!], bat I must say that this is not the time to falter or question what is your duty. You must choose between the two powerful political parties, and with me the choice has been an easy oue. I was at the first Republican Convention held in this country and there met the founders and leading lights of the then small, but fast growing party. I was a Fremont Republican in those days and I am one now. I call upon you fellow Greenbackers not to be misled by this attractive figure head which now decorates the Desaocratic balls. Against the military record of General Hapcock I bave nothing to say. As a soldier he was a success, as a statesman he was not. His administration in Louisiana, of which the Democrats make such boast, was one in which law was continually The same rebels are continually coming to the front like Bunquo's ghost; they will not down, but with the spirit | ranted. eyes fixed like those of hungry welves upon the spoils of office, and with burnished shotguns and tissue paper they are preparing to take an active part I would say that I consider General Hancock about as competer t to fill the Presidential chair as General Pearson was to command the militia during the Pittsburgh riots.
