Bank of England Notes.

The London City Press, remarking upon the amount of labor and ingenuity expended upon the production of Bank of England notes, states that they are still made, as for generations past, from pure white linen cuttings only-never from rags that have been worn-and, so carefully is the paper prepared, that even the number of dips into the pulp made by each workman is registered on a dial by machinery, and the sheets are carefully counted, and booked to each person through whose hands they pass. The printing is done by a most curious process-secret, of course-within the bank building; there is also an elaborate arrangement for providing that no note shall be exactly like any other in existence, consequently there never was a duplicate of any of the bank's notes, except by forgery. It has been stated that should bear in mind that it is propathe stock of paid notes for seven years is gated by seed and not by the root, and about 94,000,000 in number, and that to rid themselves of it they have only placed in a pile, the mass would be eight to mow before the seed is ripe. If planters are thoroughly satisfied with the result, the movement will quickly assume large proportions, one planter alone contemplating bringing over 500 Spaniards for his own estates.

Farm Notes.

Keep all implements under cover when not in use. Have you killed all the bushes, thistles, etc., or prevented their going to seed? Make farm work attractive to the young and they will not seek other occupations.

Of all the cultivated varieties of grapes the Delaware is said to contain the most sugar and the Concord the Clover that sends its roots deep into the earth is considered the best sub-soiling agent to be had.

Farmers who keep sheep should not forget to dip the lambs in tobacco water about three weeks after shearing to kill the ticks.

A farmer recommends raw polatoes and meal as a feed for cows It yields a large quantity of milk and a good quality of beet.

Stop scattering your empty half-shells among your fowls. If you feed them at all, pound them up and mix them with the meal dough or your grain feed.

A steam digging machine has been invented and successfully used in England in breaking ground for grain. It digs up the earth at the rate of ten acres per day. It has been found that potatoes, turnips, rape and mangels grown on well-limed land are of a better quality than the same produce from a similar soil to which no lime has been applied. To grow raspberries without stakes cut the canes back to thirty inches when growing, and hill up the bushes with earth, and no stakes or wires will be required. A mixture of sulphur and finely ground tobacco, two parts of the for-mer to one of the latter, has been found an excellent preventive of the rayages of insects on squash and other vines, as well as for keeping lice from cattle, dogs and poultry. It is also recommended for sprinkling trees and bushes that are eaten by canker worms or current worms. Water heated to about 160° is reported to be a very effective remedy for the cabbage worm. It should be applied to the plants as soon as the worms appear. The cabbage worms are hatched from eggs deposited by a medium-sized butterfly, which is white with a few black spots. These appear early in the season and should be destroyed whenever posaible.

The ox-eyed daisy has become a great pest in some sections of the country. Those who are troubled with this weed

The English Journal of Horticulture speaks of "a splendid crop of apples," largely the result of the shelter from a belt of trees on the north side of the orchard. The trees are stated to be crowded with fruit, in striking contrast to thousands of trees in other places nearly barren. The trees have been spacingly pruned, and are handsome in form and fruitful in character.

Household Hints, Black cotton gloves will not crack the hands if scalded in salt and water before wearing. The sait prevents fading. When almost dry one should put them on in order to stretch them and keep them in good shape.

When putting up curtains which are to be draped, in a low room, put the cornice, to which the curtains are to be fastened, close to the ceiling, even if the window is put in lower down, as it gives the effect of greater height to the room. The curtains meeting at the top will conceal the wall.

Tokkeep bread moist have the dough stiff when it is set for the last rising. The larger the proportion of flour to that of moisture in the dough the longer it will keep moist. After the bread is baked and cold, put it in a tin box or an earthen jar with close cover, and keep it covered tightly. Bread thus made and kept cool and always from the air will last and be moist for a week.

Moths will work in carpets in rooms that are kept warm in the winter as well as in the summer. A sure method of removing the pests is to pour strong alum water on the floor to the distance of a half yard around the edges before laying the carpets. Then, once or twice during the season, sprinkle dry salt over the carpet before sweeping. Insects do not like salt, and sufficient adheres to the carpet to prevent their aughting upon it.

A Tramp's Narrow Escape.

A tramp gave a woman living in the suburbs of Galveston some impudence. So she rushed in, and came out again with a shotgun. She did not see the tramp at first, but he rushed out into the street in plain view, and told her to shoot, which she did, and missed him, of course. He went up the street, smiling, and remarked to his confederate: That was a close call. If she had fired without seeing where I was, she would have plugged me certain, but as soon as she drawed down on me I felt that my time hadn't come yet. I've been there five times before."

man named Marti, and for his person. dead or alive, the governor-general offered a large reward.

One dark night a man was watching the sentinels pacing in front of the gov-ernor-general's palace, Havana. As they turned their backs and separated for a moment, the man sprang unobserved through the entrance. He passed up the broad stairs, saluted in an imperious style the guard there stationed, and passed into the governor-general's room. The governor, engaged in writng, looked up as the man coolly cast aside his cloak, exclaiming:

"Who enters unannounced?" "One who has intermation of the pitrates."
