To the School Directors of Forest Co.: GENTLEMEN:—In pursuance of the forty third section of the act of May, 1854, you are hereby notified to meet in convention, at the Court House in Tionesta, on the first Tuesday in May, A. D., 1881, being the 3d day of the month, at one o'clock in the afternoon, and select via voce, by a majority of the whole number of directors present, one person of literary and scientific requirements, and of skill and experience in the art of teaching, as County Superintendent, for three succeeding years; and certify the result to the State Superintendent, at Harrisburg, as required by the thirty-ninth and fortieth sections of said act.

H. S. BROCKWAY, Co. Supt. of Forest County, Tionesta, Pa., March 28, 1881.

Republican County Committee.

The members of the Republican County Committee of Forest County are requested to meet at the office of Hon. E. L. Davis, Tionesta, on Tuesday evening of court week, May 17, 1881, and fix a time for holding the Republican Primary Election, and transact such other business of importance as may come before them. It is particularly desired that all be present, as the meeting will be an important one.

QUINTAIN JAMIESON, Chairman, Tionesta, Pa., April 19, 1881.

THE treason of Mahone is a prolific subject for Democratic comment now, and all because this readjuster of Virginia voted with the Republican side of the Senate. It is a historical fact that when he took up arms against the United States in 1861 the treason of Mahone found no condemnation in the Democratic press. Whence the inference, that treason to their party is rewarded by Democratic statesmen as a reater crime than treason against the country.—Meadville Republican.

THE NATIONAL CAPITOL.

pecial to the REPUBLICAN.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Apr. 14, '81. It is quite natural that there should be some objections to the plan adopted by Secretary Windom in providing for the maturing government bonds. A good deal of chagrin is manifested by those who loudly asserted that he had the power to take the step he has taken, in finding that the law offices of government advise the Secretary that he has. Now the opponents of the plan assert that it will not succeed, that the bond holders will prefer redemption of their bonds rather than have the interest rate to 3 1/2 per cent. The returns already received at the Treasury department, from some of the leading banks and bankers of the country, indicate that the method adopted by the Secretary is meeting with unexpected success, and it is probable that he will be called upon to issue any of the 104 millions to meet the requirements of those who demand the redemption of their bonds. General Wm. Mahone was elected the United States Senate by Republican votes, therefore it is untruthful and indecent to speak of him as having been unfaithful to those who elected him, he was not elected as a Democrat by Democratic votes alone, and would have been false to the confidence placed in him by the Republicans of the Virginia Legislature if he had gone to the Senate to obey the dictates of a Democratic caucus, or to help the Democrats defeat the Republicans on partisan questions. Yet to-day the Democrats are particularly anxious to make it appear that a bargain must have been made as his reason for voting against the Bourbons.

Yesterday the debate in the Senate was at fever heat again, words more forcible than polite were exchanged between Senators Mahone and Hill, and at one time it seemed as though the old method of settling personal quarrels in the South would be resorted to, to settle their difficulty, however, cooler counsels prevailed and upon the adjournment of the Senate it was thought that nothing would be done outside. The public are anxiously expecting a speech from Senator Edmunds upon the present political imbroglio, he has recently returned from Florida, where he has been sojourning a few weeks for his health. Senator Conger, we hear, is preparing a speech on this absorbing question. His maiden speech in the Senate was listened to by a large crowd of admirers. His hostility to the Bourbon Democracy, and the course they have pursued in the Senate since the commencement of the extra session is well known.

Secretary Kirkwood yesterday appointed Ex-Congressman Price, of Iowa, to the position of Chief Clerk of the Indian Office. The office being without either Commissioner or Chief Clerk this appointment virtually places Mr. Price in the position of Commissioner of Indian Affairs, the position to which he has been nominated by President Garfield, as, under existing law, the Chief Clerk is authorized to act as Commissioner when the office is vacant. Mr. Price is in Washington, and is expected to take charge of the Indian Bureau to-day. PHIL.

A Literary Revolution Challenge.

The old-line publishers have, very naturally, not been well pleased with the new famous, "The Literary Revolution"; and in depreciation of its character have laid special stress upon the claim that in cheapening books so vastly it is against the interests of American authors. The Revolution boldly meets this assertion by statements as follows; 1st. That they are already paying to American authors more money than any other publishing house that is less than twenty-five years established. 2d. That American authors rarely receive from publishers a copyright exceeding 10 per cent. upon the retail price of their books actually sold. 3d. That at least one-half and probably more nearly three-fourths, of the books published by American authors have been published at the author's expense, the publishers furnishing no money, and paying no copyright, but themselves receiving a large percentage upon sales made. 4th. That they propose hereafter to pay to American authors for acceptable manuscripts a copyright of 15 per cent. instead of 10 per cent. and they claim that their low prices, and immense sales resulting therefrom, are far more in the interest of authors than much larger copyright on the commonly limited number of sales.—"One thousand books, profit $1.00 each—$1,000. One million books, profit one cent each—$1,000."

As an example of an American copyright book, they issue, in an exceedingly handsome form, the famous poetical, historical, and satirical American classic, "M'Fingal, an Epic Poem," by John Trumbull, with very full annotations by the celebrated historian Benson J. Lossing, LL. D. This poem is almost as much a part of American history as the battle of Bunker Hill itself, and Dr. Lossing has greatly increased both its interest and its intrinsic value by his historical comments and illustrations. This book was published a few years ago by one of the old publishing houses at the price of $2.00 per copy, and had only a very limited sale. The publishers claim that the reception of their new edition guarantees a sale of at least 50,000, or even more probably 100,000 copies; and Mr. Lossing will, of course, reap a handsome reward, even from the small royalty upon the low price.
