THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

The Convention of Return Judges of the Republican Primary Elections of Forest County met at the Court House, in Tionesta, yesterday, in acordance with the rules of the party, at 2 o'clock p. m., and was called toorder by Chairman Jamieson, who presided over the same. John Thomon and J. E. Wenk were elected Secetaries. The first thing in order was be canvassing of the votes. The prefinets were called in alphabetical order and the Judges handed in the eturns which were counted and the esult announced by the Secretary. The result showed that the following centlemen had duly received the nomnation for the different offices to be illed next November, and they were leclared the regular nominees of the depublican party by the Chairman: Prothonotary, Register, Recorder to .- Justis Shawkey.

THE NATIONAL CAPITOL.

Special to the REPUBLICAN. WASHINGTON, D. C., June 20, '81.

The central point of interest at Albany now appears to be more the examination of witnesses in the alleged bribery case than the election of Senators. All this week the attention of the Legislature has been divided, and it can now be considered certain that before Senators can be elected, the present investigations must be completed. Upon its result will rest the case. If it be proved that there has been bribery on the parts of the anti-Conklingites they cannot elect their men. If the whole thing proves without foundation, the Conkling men will, of course, be hopelessly defeated.

The Census office clerks will be paid off to-morrow for the last time until they get a big lump when Congress shall provide funds. The work, with members of the convention, a velunteer force, commences to-day. oly was adjourned to allow the This force will number about six hundred. It is well organized and will do | Harmony Twp. Auditors Report.

There is new interest awakened here in the Treasury investigation. Sccretary Windom has returned home, examined the report of the Investigating Committee, but refuses to make it public. Now this is very aggravating. Here are a lot of rascals found in the Treasury ; their rascalities are proven and the public must not know what they are. I think Secretary Windom, in mercy, should let us know just what kind of a jig has been danced in that department since President Hayes took his seat. It is known, however, that considerable amounts of the missing money have been returned to the Treasury by Washington merchants.

A Chicago admirer of Mr. Conkling, here from a visit to New York, insists that Conkling will be returned as Senator, whether Mr. Platt is or not, and represents the latter as entirely willing to give up all chance of his own return to secure that of his friend. Mr. Platt, it is said, makes from $25,000 to $30,000 per year in his business and is not in the least an aspirant for political honors.

The Star route prosecutions are going to be pushed. Additional counsel will be employed. The government witnesses will be asked to go before the Grand Jury by the end of next week, and it is boned that body will act finally in the matter by the middle of July. There is one great lawyer who is thoroughly familiar with every detail of the case, and who is pre-eminently fitted by reason of his correct as above stated. knowledge and ability to direct the trials. Attorney-General MacVeigh is the name, and it is reported that he | NOTICE TO BOND-HOLDERS. will conduct the prosecution in person.

Harvest has just commenced and as usual everybody is busy; wages are good, and wheat looks quite well.

We had the pleasure of attending the wedding of Mr. Samuel Norris, of this county, and Miss Lou Range of Forest county, on the 15th inst. The happy couple start out with unusually bright prospects on their voyage of life. Mr. Norris is an energetic and promising young man, and more of Forest Co.'s girls might do well to follow Miss Lou's example. The happy couple proceeded at once to his home which he had taken great care to prepare for the reception of his bride. They have the best wishes of their many friends.
