LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Condensed Time Table Tionesta Station.

Table with columns for NORTH and SOUTH, listing train numbers and times.

—M. E. Sabbath School at 10 a. m., F. M. Sabbath School at 11 a. m., Presbyterian Sabbath School at 3 p. m.

—Judge Hill is erecting a large barn on his farm in Hickory township.
—Excursion to Niagara Falls, Thursday, July 21st. Very low rates.

—Mrs. Ann Stow, of Cincinnati, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Dr. Blaine.

—J. T. Dale and Harvey Foreman, came down from Bradford to spend the Fourth.

—Miss Effie Courts, of Karns City, Pa., visited her aunt, Mrs. J. H. Derickson, during the week.

—Miss Mattie Walton, of Pittsburgh, is visiting at Nebraska, Pa., the guest of Miss Nellie Davis.

—Mr. Liv. Courson and sister Miss Lizzie, of Tidouste, paid Tionesta friends a visit during the week.

—The B. P. & W. R'y time table in this paper has been corrected and can be depended upon for accuracy.

—Our old friend Geo. Morgan will please accept thanks for a basket of most delicious radishes, which he understands raising to perfection.

—Miss Mary Rose has gone to spend the summer with Bradford friends. Her many young friends of this place will wish her a pleasant sojourn.

—Mr. Ed. Brennan has returned to Tionesta for a brief visit and recuperation, he having been considerably under the weather since leaving here.

—Miss Anna Oferls, of Geneseo, Illinois, and Etta Leonhart, of Warren, Pa., cousins of Misses Marie and Anna Jackson, are paying them a visit.

—A pleasant and interesting Colorado letter from an old friend in this issue will be relished by many of our readers. We hope "Ophelia" will favor us often.

—Mrs. J. B. Agnew, of Harrisburg, is paying her many Tionesta friends a visit. On her way here she had the misfortune to sprain her ankle, which is causing her considerable trouble.

—Rudy Struken has secured the job of plastering Holeman & Hopkins' new building, and is now putting on the lath. When this structure is completed it will be an ornament to our town. Would that Tionesta could boast of more such fine buildings.

—From the Henry Bill Publishing Co., Norwich, Conn., we have received a copy of their elegant edition of the Revised New Testament. For beauty and clearness of printing, elegant binding and workmanship, this edition excels anything that has yet come under our observation. It is decidedly par excellence.

—The sacred concert of which we made mention some time ago, will take place at the M. E. Church next Sunday evening, under the auspices of the M. E. Sunday School. The school has been training for some time and will doubtless give an excellent entertainment. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Singing to begin at 8 o'clock.

—Prof. J. U. Ogden, the well known singing teacher, was in town recently. The Professor has several classes in Tylersburg and vicinity, all of which are flourishing grandly under his skillful training. He expects in the near future to give Tionesta a call and organize a class. Should he do so he can count on many of his former pupils, and a host of new ones, as those who know his abilities will be glad to patronize him.

—Ho! for Niagara! The Buffalo, Pittsburgh & Western R. R. Co. will give the first this season of their popular excursions to Niagara Falls, on Thursday, July 21st, being one week from to-morrow. This excursion will be under the personal management of the Company's officials and no pains will be spared to make it profitable and pleasant for the patrons. Their excursions last summer were the best that ever went from this section, and were highly satisfactory to those who went from here. The same low rates as last year will be given this time, which will be within the reach of all. We will endeavor to give full particulars next week. In the meantime prepare yourself for the excursion.

—The Democratic primaries took place a week ago Saturday. There was no contest except on the Sheriff's office, and that could hardly be called a contest. J. S. Hood of this borough was nominated. T. F. Ritchey Esq., was elected Chairman of the Co. Committee. 119 votes were polled.

—No. 19 of Saalfeld's 10c. Libraries contains the following beautiful selections of music: "King's Highway;" "What Jack will Say;" "Pearly Dewdrop." This is the cheapest and best publication of the kind extant. Twelve numbers for $1.00, or 10 cents each. R. A. Saalfeld, 839 Broadway, N. Y.

—We learn with regret that Dr. Blaine has disposed of his interests in Tionesta and will shortly move to Pleasantville, there to engage in the drug business and practice his profession. Tionesta loses an excellent physician in the departure of Dr. Blaine, and the town of Pleasantville gains one of which it may well feel proud. We wish the Doctor and his family prosperity and happiness in their new field.

—The Fourth passed off very quietly in this place owing to the critical condition of the President. Several of the young people "picniced" in the grove at Tubbs Run and report a pleasant time. On Thursday another picnic was arranged and would doubtless have proved an enjoyable affair had not a heavy rain storm in the afternoon put a damper on it. Not to be baffled, however, the picnickers repaired to the Lawrence Hall and had a happy time.

—At a meeting of the borough school board last Wednesday evening the following teachers were elected for the ensuing year: First room, Miss Minnie Freeman, a former resident of this place; second, or intermediate room, Miss Sue Evans, of Tidouste; third, or primary department, Miss Aggie Kerr, of this county. These ladies are all highly recommended as teachers, and will doubtless give good satisfaction. Let the patrons give them all possible help and encouragement. The schools will begin on the first Monday in September.

—The Newtown end of the Whig Hill mail route has been cut off. The mail now runs from Whig Hill to East Hickory and return every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, thus giving the citizens of Whig Hill and vicinity three mails per week. All mail matter intended for Whig Hill should hereafter be sent by way of East Hickory. Our neighbors feel very much elated over their success in securing such favorable mail facilities, and the individuals who were instrumental in bringing them about ought to receive the thanks of the community.

—Thursday morning of last week Judge Taylor, of Franklin, arrived in Tionesta on the hunt of his favorite setter dog, "Night," whom he had lost while hunting woodcock near Trunkeyville a day or two previous. We had the pleasure of accompanying the Judge to that place in a buggy, where, after considerable inquiry and fussing around the dog was found at Russell Brown's, opposite Trunkeyville. To say that the Judge was pleased to get his dog back is putting it mild; a boy with his first pair of red-top boots, or a new pair of skates would have been away in the shade. On Friday, in company with the Judge and Mr. Jairus Reck we scoured the islands above town for woodcock, and although the birds were very scarce, enough were found and bagged to prove that the distinguished Judge can dispatch woodcock on the wing as skillfully as he does legal business.

—The first of May last Mr. Henderson, of East Hickory, one of our candidates for County Commissioner, was attacked with a severe pain in his ear, caused from taking cold on a raft. Though he was in Pittsburgh at the time he thought it would soon stop, and came home to be disappointed. For seven weeks he suffered the most terrible torture. A large tumor grew up in the ear and was removed, when another took its place. The side of his face swelled around his ear to the size of half of a good sized orange. On the 22d of last month he went to Pittsburgh again, to Dr. Sadler the Oculist and Aurist, who was so successful last month in restoring the son of Mr. John Hunter, of Tidouste, from a disease of the ear which threatened his life, few of his neighbors thinking he would never recover. Mr. Henderson says the Doctor relieved him of all pain the first day, and though there were holes in his face and behind the ear admitting the probe an inch and a half, he has improved rapidly until he feels about as well as ever and can hear a watch tick. Mr. H. will be able to make it warm for some of his opponents in the canvass this fall.

A Happy Occasion.

On Monday evening, the 11th inst., before the sun went down in the occidental sky, a party of the friends of J. L. Craig, our popular railroad agent, met under the maples in front of his residence, on the left bank of the beautiful Allegheny, where they sat waiting his arrival. Soon he hove in sight, and beheld the group, consisting of an ex-Judge, a Colonel, Cabinet man, "a grocer and baker and a candle stick maker," a member of the Legislature, Ab. Grove, and last but not least, three lawyers and three fiddlers. Perhaps it flashed through his mind just then, it was the anniversary of his birthday. We are not going to give Mr. C. away by saying just what birthday, but it was one of them. A feast of humor and a flow of soul followed, but his estimable lady wisely thinking Mr. C.'s friends could not live on fun and music alone, got up such an excellent repast that those present will not soon forget. A nicker plated lantern, a gift of railroad friends, supplemented the moon in its bright light on the auspicious occasion.

Forest Oil News.

The following notes from the Forest County field, are the latest we can obtain before going to press:

The well put down by the P. & E. company on the Cook lot stopped short of the sand for reasons best known, perhaps, to the owners themselves. We are reliably informed that it will be drilled deeper, and a good well is expected.

The well on Bush Creek, on 150 acres of tract owned by W. D. Wood & Co., was due Saturday night.

The Green and Darling well on the Cooper tract, No. 2991, is now due, and the Fox and Reed well will be due this week.

There is a rig being builded on subdivision 44 on tract No. 2995, and one almost completed on the west end of the Stewart tract, No. 2848.

Magee & Horton, No. 2, on the Donaldson farm, is at the top of the sand, awaiting the construction of suitable tankage.

The Ashley lot will be punctured shortly by D. D. Clark Esq., of this place.

Thomas Porter's lot, west half of No. 3186, controlled by Tate, Wolcott & Co., was sold out by them to Chambers and Fisher of Oil City, who intend to operate their purchase. They have leased one hundred acres in the south end of the lot.

The Balltown well, delayed some two weeks by a fishing job, was due yesterday.

Mainwarring and Vandergrift are pushing their well on the south end of C. W. Hares' tract, No. 5102. Following on down the belt we come to the last venture on this line in the county. It is located on the south end of tract No. 5134, Kingsley township, and owned by J. C. Cornwell Esq. At the present writing the drill is thumping away for success, somewhere below 150 feet.

Grove & Wolcott, on this side of the river, opposite Trunkeyville, will surely strike oil or nothing inside of thirty days.

Meanwhile the Blue Jay district keeps up to the usual production. Lands along the line are eagerly sought after, and not readily obtained. Pending operations are pushed forward vigorously and cheerfully, and we think within ninety days it will be pretty certainly determined whether or not the Blue Jay wells mark the southern portion of the pool.

Notice.

I have this day bought of Peter Knight one lot of hay and grain, and left the same with him to be removed at my pleasure; all persons are warned not to interfere.

OBITUARY.

John Root died at the residence of his son, Mr. A. B. Root, in Kingsley township, Forest Co., Pa., July 9th, 1881, in the 89th year of his age.

Bro. Root was born of respectable parentage in Madison county, New York, where he remained 44 years, an honored and respected citizen by all. He served his beloved country as a soldier during the war of 1812, faithfully and honorably. Thus these old Patriots are falling; one by one they are passing away. He moved to the State of Michigan, where he remained a much respected and useful member of society for 40 years. The last four years of his life were spent in the family of his son, Mr. A. B. Root, Forest Co., Pa., by whom he received the tenderest care that loving hearts and ready hands could confer, making his last days pleasant and happy. He gave his heart to God many years ago, and his name to the M. E. Church, in whose communion he remained a faithful and constant member until the weary wheels of life stood still. He left many loving hearts to mourn, (and yet they need not mourn, for as a shock of corn fully ripe, he doubtless has been gathered into the garner of God on high), they hope to meet again. J. F. HILL.

Hickory Buds.

Thinking that perhaps a few "locals" might be interesting to your readers, "here goes:—"

East Hickory against the World. At 2 p. m., the thermometer stood at 103° in the shade.

Farmers are busy securing their crop of hay, which, I think, generally considered an average crop.

Mr. Lewis White and family have moved to Smalleys Mills, to keep the boarding house.

Mr. N. G. Ball has so far regained his former health as to be about town once more to attend to biz.

Mr. Jessie Gorman is confined to his bed with Sciatic disease of the hip, but is doing finely under the treatment of Dr. Morrow, of Tionesta.

Messrs. Grove, Hart & Co., have got their rig up, and are about ready to commence drilling for oil.

The Fourth passed off quietly with a picnic in rear of the M. E. Church in their beautiful oak grove. The attendance was limited. No cards.

Perry Hill continues to pound on the anvil for a livelihood, and we are certain that he receives his share of the public patronage. Perry is a clever fellow, if he is a Greenbacker. However, all political issues are laid aside for the present, and Greenbackers, Republicans and Democrats are all highly indignant at the foul assassin who did his best to deprive our Nation of its Chief Magistrate. Expressions of sorrow and sympathy for our beloved President are heard on every side.

Notwithstanding the excessive hot weather, our neighbor Mr. Geo. Siggins has got—O, well; it's a boy and weighs about seven pounds. It is needless to say that George is "happy as a clam in the mud."

Our enterprising merchant, Mr. T. J. Bowman, is doing a big business this season in dry goods and groceries. He has secured the efficient services of Samuel G. Williams, and defies competition.

The East Hickory school is in a flourishing condition, and numbers about 62 scholars, with Miss Jennie Everhart as teacher. More anon, HICKORY BARK, East Hickory, Pa., July 9, '81.

Colorado Letter.

SILVER CLIFF, COLO., July 2, '81. MY DEAR MR. WENK:—

I told you when I left dear old Forest that if there was anything worth recording that I would indite you a short epistle. I cannot say that I admire this country very much, the days are warm, with cool nights, many high winds carrying clouds upon clouds of dust; one's dresses get spoilt entirely, and it tans complexions to the color of Mexican's. Oh, for the dear grateful shade, and purling streams of charming Tionesta; no such delightful walks here, nothing but the bare "messa;" a few, very few scattering, stunted pines, not shade enough to give one's bean a chance to hug you. I should enjoy the drives around here, if it were not ver present dust; it enters cupboards, barrels, trunks, fills your eyes, ears and at times it is almost stifling. We have no rain here except in the "rainy season," which will commence about the 15th inst.

In driving over the "messa" you see lots of the cunning little prairie dogs, and gophers, a few blue birds, and chattering magpies. I have one a gentleman friend caught for me; it is real tame, and I am teaching it to say "Jake;" ain't that thoughtful of me? I would teach it to say "Davy" and "Billy," but then you would be so jealous. Oh! I had almost forgotten: we had a real, live circus a few days since; Mr. Colaga. It was rather tame; the performers said the air was so light at this altitude that they had no energy. (I think that's what ails the men here.) They charged $1.50 admission, "altee samee;" I guess the altitude affected that, too.

This city has seven or eight thousand inhabitants but business is quite dull. Houses very poor; rents high; so are provisions and dry goods. There are lots of nice mines here but they have very few Mills, or Smelters, I think they call them. There are several strangers here to spend the summer, as it is considered very healthy. "Tenderfeet," as they call newcomers, are liable to pneumonia, also mountain fever; for the fever, mountain sage tea, or "Burro punch" is a specific.

The majestic Langre de Christo is on our west a few miles off; on the East almost in the city limits is Round Mountain, from whose apex can be seen the Spanish Peaks on the South; Pikea Peak on the East, and the Continental Divide on the northwest. Grape creek runs along our pretty valley, but the trout are getting scarce; I went fishing one day, and my beau put a nasty hopper on; I believe it frightened the trout; at least I did not catch any. The banks were so rotten he had to hold me to keep me on terra firma. We enjoyed ourselves hugely, even if we caught no fish.

I went on an excursion to the Lake of the Clouds,—a four horse team, and lots of gentlemen; 'twas an awful job getting there, the snow in some places was 15 feet deep; we had to walk and scramble for two miles up the mountain.

There are several gentlemen from Pennsylvania, and some few ladies here. Rich miners are scarce and not much on the marry, so I advise my dear sisters to be content with a Buckwheat if they cannot catch an Oil Prince.

With kindest regards to D. W. C., Davy and Billy, Your Friend, OPHELIA COX.

—It is but a simple statement of a fact when I say that Dr. E. K. Thompson's Sweet Worm Powder has saved, humanly speaking, several lives, one of which was that of a valuable preacher. Rev. J. E. Clough, Mission House, Ongola, Hindoostan.

Dr. Whittier, of Pittsburgh, Pa. It is well known, has for many years stood at the head of the profession in his specialty, all chronic and blood diseases, nervous prostration and all distressing consequences. See his card in another column. Read his works and judge for yourself.
