

SUNDAY READING.

The Pathos of Life.

The pathos of life lies but little below the surface; the loving heart feels it all.

While I was in college I was impressed very deeply by an incident illustrating the pathos of these facts, which need only to be known to be felt.

Religious News and Notes.

The Rev. Dr. Dietrich Willers, pastor of the German Reformed church in Barrytown, N. Y., has just resigned after an acceptable service of sixty years.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church, South, has now 830 auxiliaries, with 21,338 members, and rejoices in a treasury balance of $98,785.

There are nine hundred white Baptist churches in Mississippi with 56,000 members. Of these churches only ten have preaching every Sunday; and of these only six are self-sustaining.

A four weeks' series of revival meetings in the Cumberland Presbyterian church at La Plata, Missouri, recently closed with ninety conversions and eighty-five others making profession of religion.

Hon. H. R. Revels, the first colored United States Senator, has declined to serve another year as president of Alcorn university (Methodist), as he intends to give himself wholly to the ministry, and has become a presiding elder.

In a recent issue of the Pall Mall Gazette some interesting figures based on the census returns are given in regard to the religious beliefs of the Irish people. There are in Ireland 3,951,885 Catholics, 695,070 members of the Protestant Church of Ireland, 488,503 Presbyterians and 47,659 Methodists.

SCIENTIFIC NOTES.

Cod-liver oil is obtained by exposing the fish livers to the heat of the sun till putrefaction takes place. The oil collected is then drawn off and the livers boiled for more oil.

The sunbeam is composed of three distinct rays, one of heat, one of light and one called the chemical ray. The blue or chemical ray is greater in spring, the light ray in summer. The chemical ray is less in autumn.

Adipocere is an oily, waxy substance, formed from the soft parts of animal bodies buried in damp soils or under water. It is the substance that human bodies sometimes change into, giving rise to the idea that they petrify.

M. Raoul Pictet, of Geneva, whose discoveries in the liquefaction of gases have given him a world-wide reputation, announces the discovery of a process of distilling alcohol by ice! He states that the method is a very cheap one.

Arsenic is not freely soluble in any organic mixtures and may generally be found as a white sediment, which, when thrown upon red-hot coals, gives out a strong odor like onions and a thick smoke. Common arsenic cannot be detected by the taste.

The degree of heat necessary to destroy trichines in pork is a matter of importance as a safeguard against trichinosis. A German microscopist states that only the most thorough cooking of the meat will insure perfect safety, as pork cooked to the degree known as "rare" may still contain the living parasites so much dreaded.

A laborer in Russia gets eight cents a day and "finds himself." Finds himself mighty hungry, pretty often, we should think.

There are eighteen Methodist churches in Cincinnati, with a membership of about 4,000.

THE TELEGRAPH AND INDIANS.

What the Red Men Think of the "Talking Wire."

"The telegraph line to the Pacific coast must be kept up at any cost." Such was the imperative order of General Pat Conner, the noted California Indian fighter, to the veteran patrol upon the old California trail on the North Platte during the last year of the civil war.

Men were scarce and the Indians were more numerous than ever before. Conner was organizing the largest military expedition ever sent into hostile Indian country. He had determined to open a road from Fort Laramie through the Big Horn, Tongue river and upper Yellowstone country to Bannock and the Montana mining regions, and to obtain a force large enough to insure success nearly every military fort or stockade on the telegraph line was depleted of fighting men.

Unclaimed Property.

Few persons are aware of, and will scarcely credit, the enormous amount of money and other property lying unclaimed in Great Britain, India, and the British colonies and in the United States.

This amount, which, without exaggeration, may be calculated by the millions, will at first sight probably appear almost incredible, but a few facts will prove such is the case.

In England in the Court of Chancery alone the amount reaches fifty-seven millions; in fact it is a golden Charybdis.

In the treasury the money taken possession of by the government is also of a large amount, although advertisements have been inserted in the public papers for the proper claimants.

This money has been left principally by persons who have died intestate. With regard to the money in the Bank of England, the following from an exchange will speak for itself: "Unclaimed Dividends.—The unclaimed dividends handed over to the commissions for the reduction of the national debt, and by them invested in the public funds, amounted at the close of the last financial year (1862-3) to no less than £2,870,975 stock.

There is also in the hands of the commissioners more than half a million stock on which no dividend has been claimed for upward of ten years." Here alone we have nearly three millions and, a half of money unclaimed by the parties interested, many of them, probably, being unaware that they are entitled to any portion of this very large sum.

In India there is a large amount of unclaimed money, which has been left by British subjects who have died there within the last hundred years, and which is recoverable on producing proper proofs of the relationship to the various deceased parties.

In Australia, and the other colonies also, large sums of money which have been left by British subjects who have died intestate within the last thirty years remain unclaimed.

Another item of unclaimed property is the "army and navy prize-money." The forfeited and unclaimed prize-money amounted on the 31st of December, 1862, to £1,235,840, 9s. 11d; or nearly one million and a quarter.

The Times says: "One would scarcely imagine that such an enormous sum of money, belonging to our brave defenders, should thus be forfeited and unclaimed; but the wonder will partly cease when we remember the very long period that is usually allowed to elapse before the distribution of such prize-money."

Such precisely is the condition of our brave defenders in America. Here are millions of dollars of unclaimed army arrears and bounty and navy prize-money, land patents and millions of other moneys in the U. S. departments waiting for the creditors of the government and owners to apply therefor.

In the old time banks in New York, Philadelphia, Boston and other aged cities of America there are large amounts of deposits unclaimed.

In Good Hands. He was a young country fellow, a little awkward and bashful, but of sterling worth of character. She was a Cincinnati belle, and had sense enough to appreciate his worth despite his awkwardness and bashfulness, and was his fiancée.

On a gloomy Sunday evening last winter they were standing in front of the window in the parlor of her home on East Walnut Hills, watching the snowflakes rapidly falling outside. He was not up in society small talk, and being hard up for something to say, remarked as he watched the snow falling: "This will be hard on the old man's sheep."

"Never mind, dear," said she, slipping her arm around him. "I will take care of one of them."—Cincinnati Commercial.

The Work of the Elevators. A curious calculation, and one quite interesting withal, was recently made by one who had occasion to use the elevators in some of the lofty buildings on Broadway quite frequently. For eleven of the twelve calls he had to enter an elevator, but twice he retraced his steps. Adding up the number of stories, he went up sixty-two stories or a total height of 806 feet, allowing an average of thirteen feet to each story—a very small average. This is nearly twice the height of the great pyramid of Egypt, and any traveler who goes to the top of the great pyramid in less than half an hour on a hot day will be able to estimate the saving in strength effected by the New York elevators.

An old man-of-war sailor, who had lost a leg in the service of his country, became a retailer of peanuts. He said he was obliged to be a retailer because, having lost a leg, he could not be a whole sailor.—Somerville Journal.

acted not far away from them; and many brave men were lying by bullet, arrow, tomahawk and Indian torture.—San Francisco Examiner.

Philadelphia Police Department. The Philadelphia Ledger of December 29, 1880, mentions among many others, the case of Chief of Police of that city, Samuel H. Given, Esq., who says he used St. Jacobs Oil in his family, for various painful ailments, with excellent results.

"Do you love me?" "Yes," she answered, "better than anything else in the world. It's a beautiful night for a moonlight drive." A moonlight drive would cost at least three dollars, and he agitated seventeen cents in his right trousers pocket he surveyed the lunar orb with a knowing gaze, and remarked: "I should be so happy to take you, but it's a wet moon, and you know you are so liable to catch cold, dear." The next morning the disappointed maiden observed to her mother: "Charley and I have quit. He knows a heap about the weather, but he's a perfect ignoramus about me."—Burlington Hawkeye.

Can't French Good. No man can do a good job of work, preach a good sermon, try a law suit well, doctor a patient or write a good article when he feels miserable and dull, with sluggish brain and unsteady nerves, and none should make the attempt in such a condition. When it can be so easily and cheaply removed by a little Hop Bitters. See "Truths" and "Prayers," other column.

Vegetine. Gives a Good, Clear Complexion. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 8, 1877.

Mr. H. R. STEVENS, Boston: The greatest benefit I have received from the use of VEGETINE induces me to give my testimony in its favor. For several years my face has been covered with pimples, which caused me much annoyance, and, knowing it to be a blood disease, I consulted a number of doctors, who recommended the use of various medicines, but without obtaining any benefit, until I commenced taking VEGETINE, and before I had used the first bottle I had had the greatest improvement, and my humor entirely gone. Yours respectfully, MISS S. KEEFE, 1100 Resper Street.

OTTAWA, Canada, December 31, 1878. Mr. H. R. STEVENS, Boston, Mass.: Sir—I have used your VEGETINE in my family for several years, and consider it an invaluable medicine. I have had it used by me for several years, and it has effected a cure of the stomach and impurities of the blood. I may add that I have had the greatest benefit from its use. My acquaintance with the most gratifying and satisfactory results. Very respectfully, yours, MISS S. KEEFE, 1100 Resper Street.

Disorder of the Blood. BALTIMORE, Md., April 28, 1879. Mr. H. R. STEVENS: Dear Sir—I have suffered for about two years with a disease of the blood, and after using different remedies, but finding no relief, I was induced to try VEGETINE. After taking two bottles I was entirely cured. I have recommended it to my friends, and believe it to be the best medicine of the kind in use. Yours truly, LEANDER LUSBY.

Through the Waxy Ears. Of many a night, made doubly long by the protracted agony, the rheumatic sufferer tosses to and fro in his sleepless couch, vainly praying for that rest which only comes by fits and starts. His malady is one which ordinary medicine too often fails to relieve, but there is simple evidence to prove that the efficient blood purifier, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, affords the rheumatic a reliable means of relief. Check the malady in its incipient stages, when the first premonitory twinges come on, with this agreeable medicine, and avoid years of torture. Whatever be the rationale of the active influence of the Bitters upon this malady, certain it is that no evidence relating to its effects is more direct and positive than that which relates to its action in case of rheumatism. Like all sterling remedies, however, it deserves a protracted, systematic trial, and should not be abandoned because not at once remedial. It is equally efficacious in dyspepsia, indigestion and kindred diseases.
