Brookston Briefs. Pigeon news, you might say, in scarce ; a week ago Sunday there were lots of them here. The boys turned out heavy with their guns, and such popping you never heard, and the poor pigeons could find no place to set their foot upon without getting into a "salt-bed." Monday, not a pigeon to be seen. The latest news is that the pigeons are at Potato Creek, northeast of Smethport. Apropos of pigeons is some of the doings of the men : "Pietro the Italian" watching daily for them, and finally started for Potato Creek. One man got short on flour and made a pot pie out of buckwheat flour ; the beys say it was nice (?). Another sent his boy of 15 to Potato Creek with $5.00 and a loaf of bread, with instructions to catch pigeons or starve. They (the men not the pigeons) at a time did not seem to know which way himsolf in the head with a pistol. The cause of this rash act is said to be mental derangement, brought on by epileptic fits, to which he is said to have been subject for several years.

A PROMINENT clothing firm of Chicago has just effected a contract with Sergeant Mason, whereby the latter binds himself to act for the firm an cierk in their store at a salary of $1,500, the service to begin at once, when Mason shall be released from the Albany prison, whether that be at the expiration of his term or earlier.

WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA will be almost unanimously for General Beaver's nomination for Governor when the ensuing State Convention convenes. The Independents asked for time that the voice of the people might be heard, which was granted. The voice as far as heard has had no uncertain sound, but proclaims the onelegged hero the man of the bour .-Brookvillle Republican.

"A CASE of importance to political journals was recently decided in the Centre county court. The suit was instituted by editor Kurtz against a man named Alexander, who had been a candidate for office and then refused to pay for complimentary notices given GROCERIES! him iu the paper during the campaign. The complimentary editorials were not ordered by Alexander, but the court held that political papers are expected to do their utmost in furthering the interests of the candidates of their party, and the candidates so served are bound to pay the editor for his labor."

This may be all right in Centre county, and no doubt it would be just in many other localities nearer home, where would-be great men monopolize the columns of the party papers, and by their actions seem to deem it a great favor to the editor to have the privilege of boosting so great a parsonage, never coming down with that which is necessary to keep the machine in motion. The Judge who made the above raling is level headed .- Brookville Republican.
