CONGRESS. D. REFUBLICAN :-

Please announce the name of Hon. A. Cook, of Forest County, as a candidate for Congress in the 25th District, ambiect to the usages of the Re-sublican party. MANY FRIENDS.

ASSEMBLY. We are authorized to announce that E. L. DAVIS will be a candidate for reelection to the office of Assembly, subject to the usages of the Republican party. DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

We are authorized to announce T. J. VANGIESEN ESQ., of Tionesta, as a can-didate for District Attorney, subject to

Some parents apof the whole district, has drawn upon his head a storm of opposition. It is a curious fact that this opposition I disagree. Teachers should give a sufficomes from the "independent Republicans" who have been clamoring loudly for the right of the people to be heard .- Meadville Republican.

Hon. S. B. Dick, of Crawford county, having been very prominently mentioned in connection with the Republican nomination for Congressmanat-large, it seems he is to have considerable opposition in his own county, James E. McFarland, Henry Johnson and W. B. Roberts being named as probable candidates. To an outsider it looks as though the latter gentlemen were on the track for the purpose much as possible, Humanity has proof spoiling Col. Dick's chauces.

THE new Chinese bill differs from that vetoed by the President in that it fixes the suspension for immigration at ten years, and the passport provision objected to by the President is retained in the new bill. It remains to be seen whether this bill can be passed. As the question now stands the Democracy will make every effort May itself. #### EDUCATIONAL.

The rich man asked Chsist what he should do to be saved; the answer was: "Take up thy cross and follow me." If the teacher will faithfully and resignedly take up his or her cross and follow me through the few lines which I write, I will be as brief as possible.

Teachers, ours is a work of great importance; so let us throw our influence in the right direction, and perform every known duty. It is these duties I refer to In order to deepen, if possible, the sense of them in the minds of those who are engaged in the work. Time is precious, so let us find employment for each moment as it passes. In glancing at the subject of time, one is almost forced to believe that time was unequally distributed. No gift bestowed upon us by God was more may account for the prospective equally distributed. We have just as much time as the queen in the palace, or the tired mother in the kitchen. The question now is: what is the reason some of us can accomplish more than others? There can be various answers given the question, but the one most appropriate, in my opinion, is, many of us lack system. When I mention the word system I think I can hear you respond, "Oh, do away with that old story. We have been taught ren, and there is nothing we are so weary of hearing." Patient, dear teachers ; how can you teach pupils to be systematic if we are not? Block out your time; be sure you have a period for study, for reading educational journals and books of good authors, and for recreation. Keep and work by a regular program. Much time is wasted by doing everything hastily and sketchingly, but it behooves us as teachers to be the patterns of perfection. When we teach a subject, teach it throughly and systematically, and in such a manner as to leave a pupil hungry; then he will study to satisfy himself. If you do not it is a waste of time both to us and our pupils. As Smiles says: "Most of the Governor, because the people know work done by teachers is wasted or worse his services to his country, and also than wasted, for it is of such an imperfect which to their offices appertain to be done, ime to complete it."

Another important duty of teachers, is things attended to will work together for a great good; if not, to a great evil. The fact to which I wish to call attention is: doing the pupils' thinking for them. Now comes the question: "is it necessary for parently seem to believe that the more thinking the teacher does and the less they leave for the pupils to do, the better. cient amount of assistance, but they must, in order to teach successfully, present the subject in such a manner as to cause the pupil to think for himself. Teachers and parents seem to forget that all education is self-education. It must be confessed that the main object in teaching is to produce thought, and if this point is missed the pupil has sadly wasted his time. Let us in the future, when we are engaged in teaching, meditate on each day's work, to see if we have made any impression on the minds of the pupils which would cause them to think. Noted men have said much on this subject. Spencer says: "Children should be led to make their own investigations and draw their own inferences. They should be told as little as possible and induced to discover as gressed solely by self-instruction, and that to achieve the best results, each mind must progress somewhat after the same fashion is continually proved by marked success of self-made men." Hope the kind friends who read the above, will kindly sift out the wheat; they may find a few grains to pay for their trouble.
