

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Times:—Congress $20; State Senator, $10; Assembly $10; District Attorney $3.

CONGRESS. Please announce the name of Hon. A. Cook, of Forest County, as a candidate for Congress in the 25th District, subject to the usages of the Republican party.

ASSEMBLY. We are authorized to announce that T. J. DAVIS will be a candidate for reelection to the office of Assembly, subject to the usages of the Republican party.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY. We are authorized to announce T. J. YANGIENEN ESQ., of Tionesta, as a candidate for District Attorney, subject to Republican usages.

This public debt statement for April shows a decrease during the month of $14,415,823. Decrease since June 30, 1881, $128,748,213.

In the estimation of the keen-sighted Scranton Republican "the step-fatherly interest manifested by the hard-shell Democrats in the fate of the Independent Republicans of Pennsylvania is truly touching."

A NEW YORK butcher says that "the tin which Great Britain sends to America for cans goes a good way towards paying for the meat." It makes no difference if our people are satisfied. This country will be glad to furnish Britain with meat so long as it has the "tin" to pay for it.

GENERAL BEAVER had 120 delegates secured for him on Tuesday last, and Forest was not then heard from. When the delegate from Forest is called Beaver may count one more.

Yes, indeed. When the delegate from Forest is called, if he carries out the wishes of ninety-nine out of a hundred of the Republicans of his county, (and we know that he will), General Beaver can rest assured that he will get "one more."

General Beaver is certainly the choice of the Republican masses of Pennsylvania, and the independents and everybody else have found it out, too.

If there was really an organized attempt made to injure the reputation of James G. Blaine by connecting him directly with the Peruvian swindle, in which one Shipperd had made himself offensively conspicuous, the scheme has disastrously failed.

Mr. Blaine's explanations before the investigating committee leave no doubt in the mind of any fair-minded man that he is not only clear of the implication of anything of a crooked nature, but that his accusers are liars and perjurers.

Belmont, who acts more in the capacity of counsel for Shipperd than as a member of the committee of inquiry, so far lost his head on Thursday as to call Mr. Blaine "a bully and a coward."

Such an allegation, from such a source, can only excite ridicule or contempt, and shows the depth of the disappointment and chagrin felt when all attempts to assail his character had ignominiously failed.

Mr. Blaine stands higher to-day in the estimation of the American people than ever before.—Bradford Sunday News, Ind.

WITH a spasmodic outburst of spleen and vulgar sarcasm that is offensive in tone and vulgar in spirit, the Democracy in Congress persistently provoke discussion on the relative attitude of their party and the Republican toward the Government during the war for the Union.

They want to have it understood, nay, declare it as a fact, that the Democratic party, as a political organization, and Democrats as such, did more to fill up the armies of the Union, and carry on the war for the suppression of the rebellion, than the Republicans did.

In face of this discussion we have the fact that at the time spoken of the strongest wing of the Democratic party, that of the South, was entirely enlisted in the rebel army, wholly composing that hoard of cut-throats while the Northern wing was divided into two distinct portions, the Copperheads, who gave aid and comfort to the armed traitors of the South, and War Democrats, who stood by the Government.

This is a fair statement of the case. If any man can make such a showing prove that the Democratic party did the fighting for the Union, he can also prove that the moon is made of green cheese.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

PEACE RESTORED.

The conference appointed by the opposing factions of the Republican party of this State, met at the Continental Hotel, Philadelphia, on Saturday last, and adjourned on Monday evening. The deliberations were entirely harmonious and ended in a most satisfactory manner to the gentlemen composing the conference. The reports say that in all quarters, there was rejoicing where Republicans were assembled, but that the Democrats are doing full credit to the graceful position they have assumed as mourners at the grave of dissension and disorder.

The plan of settlement in detail is embraced in the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted: Resolved, That we recommend the adoption of the following principles and methods by the Republican State Convention on May 10th:

- 1. That we unequivocally condemn the use of patronage to promote personal political ends, and require that all offices bestowed within the party shall be upon the sole basis of fitness. 2. That competent and faithful officers should not be removed except for cause. 3. That non-elective minor offices should be filled in accordance with the rules established by law.

4. That the ascertained popular will shall be faithfully carried out in the State and National conventions and by those holding office by favor of the party.

5. That we condemn compulsory assessments for political purposes and proscription for failure to respond either to such assessments or to requests for voluntary contributions, and that any policy of political proscription is unjust and calculated to disturb party harmony.

6. That public office constitutes a high trust, to be administered solely for the people, whose interests must be paramount to those of persons or parties, and that it should be invariably conducted with the same efficiency, economy and integrity as are expected in the execution of private trusts.

7. That the State ticket shall be such as, by the impartiality of its constitution and character and acknowledged fitness of the nominees, will justly commend itself to the support of the united Republican party.

Resolved, That we also recommend the adoption of the following permanent rules for holding State Conventions and the conduct of the party:

- 1. That delegates to the State Convention shall be chosen in the manner in which candidates for the General Assembly are nominated, except in Senatorial districts composed of more than one county, in which conference for the selection of Senatorial delegates shall be chosen in the manner aforesaid, and the representation of each county shall be based upon its Republican vote cast at the Presidential election next preceding the convention.

2. Hereafter the State Convention of the Republican party shall be held on the second of July, except in year of the Presidential election, when it shall be held not more than thirty days previous to the day fixed for the National Convention, and at least sixty days' notice shall be given of the date of the State Convention.

3. That every person who voted the Republican electoral ticket at the last Presidential election next preceding any State Convention shall be permitted to participate in the election of delegates to the State and National Conventions, and that we recommend to county organizations that in their rules they allow the largest freedom in general participation in the primaries consistent with the preservation of the party organization.

CHARLES S. WOLFE, J. D. MCKEE, FRANCIS B. REEVES, WHARTON BAKER, J. W. LEE,

On the part of Senator Mitchell's Independent Republican Committee. The following resolution was adopted by the joint conference.

Resolved, That we disclaim any authority to speak or act for other persons than ourselves, and simply make suggestions, as in our opinion essential to the promotion of harmony and unity.

The first seven resolutions were proposed by the Independents and accepted by the Regulars, and the last three were accepted by the Independents, although not in the original form as presented.

No polygamist will ever again occupy a seat in Congress.

The vote of the House on Wednesday unseating Delegate Cannon entered that decree. The Edmunds bill, which has just become a law, has decreed that henceforth no polygamist shall hold office in Utah Territory. These two acts, both passed by a Republican Congress and both opposed by an almost solid Democratic vote, will stand out in political history as the crowning works of this session.

They mark the beginning of the end of the foul institution of Mormonism in the United States, and they present the Republican party as the persistent and distinctive enemy of that institution, even as they present the Democratic party as its consistent defender and ally.

When the Edmunds bill was before the Senate, the Democratic Senators spoke against it and exhausted their ingenuity in attempting its defeat. When the final vote was taken they were too shrewd to go on the record and allowed it to be passed by a viva voce vote.

The Democratic members of the House were more reckless. They opposed the bill, and on its final passage ninety-five of them voted against it. Nearly all the votes in its favor were Republican, and in neither the Senate nor the House was there a Republican vote against it.

When the vote to unseat Mr. Cannon was taken in the House, all but eight of the Democrats present voted to retain him, while all the Republicans present voted for removal.—Venango Citizen.

MONDAY, MAY 15, A. D. 1882, at 10 o'clock, a. m., the following described real estate, to-wit:

Elizabeth Winegard vs. August Winegard, F. Fa., No. 1 May Term, 1882.—T. J. Yangiensen, Atty.

All that certain piece or parcel of land situated in the township of Harmony, County of Forest, and State of Pennsylvania, located in the northwest corner of tract numbered two hundred and sixteen (216), bounded and described as follows, to-wit: Beginning at a yellow pine tree on original corner of said tract; thence running south, eighty-eight degrees east, one hundred and twenty-three rods to post and stones; thence south two degrees west, one hundred and fifty rods to a post and stones; thence north, eighty-eight (88°) degrees west one hundred and twenty-three (23) rods to a post; thence north, two (2) degrees east one hundred and fifty rods to place of beginning. Containing one hundred and fifteen acres, be the same more or less. Thirty or forty acres cleared and under fence; one large frame bank barn and one frame dwelling house thereon erected.

Taken in execution and to be sold as the property of August Winegard, at the suit of Elizabeth Winegard.

ALSO, Butler Savings Bank vs. Eugene Ferrero and J. N. Purviance, F. Fa., No. 3 May Term, 1882. Miller & Irwin, Atty's.

All of that tract of land situated in the Township of Tionesta, Forest county, Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows, viz: Beginning at a hickory corner adjoining lands of Richard Irwin, now Curtin; thence north 160 perches to a white oak bush; thence east 100 perches to a post and stone corner; thence west 100 perches to the place of beginning. Containing 100 acres more or less.

Taken in execution and to be sold as the property of Eugene Ferrero and J. N. Purviance, at the suit of Butler Savings Bank.

ALSO, Martin Smith vs. H. H. Keeler and James L. Downing, Vend. Ex., No. 2 May Term, 1882.—Miles W. Tate, Atty.

All that certain tract of land situated in the Township of Hickory, County of Forest, and State of Pennsylvania, beginning at a post and stones; thence by land of McFee and others, south forty-four (44) degrees east seventy (70) perches to stones; thence by land of E. Walker north forty six (46) degrees east eighty-four (84) perches to stones; thence by tract No. 5190 north forty four (44) degrees west seventy (70) perches, and thence by the Fleming strip south forty-six (46) degrees west eighty-four (84) perches to the place of beginning. Containing thirty-four (34) acres and one hundred and seven (107) perches and allowances with the appurtenances, &c. Being the same tract of land granted to said Herman H. Keeler by Patent dated Sept. 4, 1878, and recorded in Forest Co., Pa., in deed book No. 11, page 274, as by reference thereto will more fully appear.

Taken in execution and to be sold as the property of H. H. Keeler and James L. Downing, at the suit of Martin Smith.

TERMS OF SALE.—The following must be strictly complied with when the property is stricken down: 1. When the plaintiff or other lien creditors become the purchaser, the costs on the writs must be paid, and a list of liens including mortgage searches on the property sold, together with such lien creditor's receipts for the amount of the proceeds of the sale or such portion thereof as he may claim, must be furnished the Sheriff.

2. All bids must be paid in full. 3. All sales not settled immediately will be continued until 2 o'clock p. m., of the day of sale, at which time all property not settled for will again be put up and sold at the expense and risk of the person to whom first sold.
