

Republican State Ticket.

For Governor, General JAMES A. BEAVER, of Centre county. For Lieut.-Governor, Senator WILLIAM T. DAVIES, of Bradford county. For Judge of the Supreme Court, WILLIAM HENRY RAWLE, of Philadelphia. Republican County Ticket.

For Congress, ANDREW COOK, Subject to the District Conference. For Assembly, E. L. DAVIS. For District Attorney, T. J. VAN GIESEN. For Jury Commissioner, H. O. DAVIS.

CONGRESS has agreed to finally adjourn on the 10th of July.

Now our ticket is complete, both in county and State. And that's not all, it will be elected; and what we tell you.

THE Democrats meet in Harrisburg to-day to make the preliminary arrangements and select their victims for their annual funeral to take place in November next.

GUITEAU'S death warrant was signed by Clerk Meigs, of the Criminal Court, Monday Morning, June 26, the seal of the court attached and the document forwarded to Warden Crocker at the district jail.

SOME of the most terrible cyclones yet heard of have visited the Western States within the past few days. Many towns in the State of Iowa were totally destroyed and hundreds of lives lost. The suffering has been immense, and the terror-stricken inhabitants are in a frightful state.

ONE of the mottoes displayed at the Independent Convention at Philadelphia was "The cause that Garfield died for shall not be lost." If the Independents succeed in putting the Democrats in power this fall, they can amend their motto with "The cause the Independents promoted resulted in the defeat of the party that elected Garfield."

THE Democrats are in sackcloth and ashes. Judge Trunkey has declined and left them in a lurch. That was a hope that was born to waste its sweetness on the desert air. We sympathize with them. Let them wait. Twenty-two years, if it has taught them nothing else, should certainly have taught them patience. In 1866 the bud may become a full bloom rose.

THE Patriot is in a bad humor. We are not surprised. It has had enough disappointments this week to make the most amiable feel a little grumpy. First, the Democratic county convention. And such a convention! Even Democrats alternately shake their sides with laughter and swear when it is mentioned. Then Trunkey's declination, upon whom the hopes of the Democracy largely depended, because the Times, their leader, said he was the one man to secure Democratic success. And, yesterday, the Republican Convention—large, enthusiastic, zealous, with victory on every face. Hard names won't work a cure. The Patriot will need a very different antidote.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

GUITEAU'S last chance is gone. His counsel made an appeal to the President and he presented the matter before the Cabinet. The opinion of Attorney General Brewster was that the sanity of the assassin had been fully established by the trial, and recommended that no respite be granted. All the preparations for the hanging are being rapidly perfected. The gallows is ready, the rope is in position and the fatal knot has been tied; even the binding cords are in readiness. Guiteau's cell has been darkened, and no one is allowed to see him except his spiritual advisers, the physicians and jailors. Next Friday, June 30, will be his last on earth, and then we shall hear no more of one of the foulest murderers the world has ever produced, and the country will feel easier for the riddance.

REPUBLICAN PRIMARIES.

The Republican Primaries were held last Saturday, but owing to there being no opposition, and the extreme heat of the day the vote was very light, but 97 in all. In fact it was but a mere endorsement of the candidates announced, and a half dozen votes would really have been enough, however we should liked to have seen a larger vote polled and more of the townships represented. The Return Judges of those precincts which held elections met at the Arbitration Room yesterday and presented their reports. The voters at Braceville voted pretty solid for General White, and if the General is the nominee of the District they say they will "hooper up" more lively for him in the fall. The Convention recognizing the efficient services of Prof. Brockway in the last campaign, unanimously re-elected him to the Chairmanship of the County Committee for the ensuing year.

There being a Jury Commissioner to elect this fall H. O. Davis, of this borough was voted for and placed on the ticket as the Republican nominee. And just here let us remark that a better choice would have been hard to make. The ticket as a whole is a first-class one, of which we will take occasion to speak of more in detail as the campaign progresses; suffice to say for the present that the nominees are worthy the hearty support of all true Republicans and good citizens generally.

The chair then declared the following ticket nominated by the Republicans of Forest county: Congress, Hon. Andrew Cook; Assembly, Hon. E. L. Davis; District Attorney, T. J. Van Giesen Esq.; Jury Commissioner, Mr. H. O. Davis.

The following resolutions were then adopted unanimously: Resolved, That we fully endorse the Republican Platform adopted May 10, 1882, at Harrisburg, by the Republican State Convention.

Resolved, That in General James A. Beaver, the nominee for Governor, as well as the rest of the Republican State ticket and the ticket nominated this day by the Republicans of Forest county, are men worthy of our suffrages and we pledge them our united and enthusiastic support.

Resolved, That we fully endorse Hon. E. L. Davis, our representative in the Legislature, for his faithfulness and fearlessness in the performance of his duty during the sessions of the Assembly of 1881, and it is due him that all true Republicans of Forest county, give him their suffrages and hearty support at the ensuing election.

Before adjournment it was suggested that the Chairman call a meeting of the County Committee as early as practicable and perfect all arrangements for a vigorous campaign. The convention then adjourned.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

The Republican State Convention which re-convened at Harrisburg on Wednesday last was largely attended; out of 251 delegates 227 were present and the meeting was very harmonious and enthusiastic. The Convention was called for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congressman-at-Large, vice Tom. Marshall, resigned. Hon. Mariott Brosius, of Lancaster county was nominated by a large majority. The convention passed a resolution authorizing the State Committee to use every honorable means towards harmonizing the party.

SHORT SKETCH OF MR. BROSIUS.

Mariott Brosius, the Republican nominee for Congressman-at-Large, was born in Lancaster county in 1843. He received an education of high character which was just about finished when the war broke out. On November 7, 1861, he enlisted in the Ninety-seventh Regiment of Pennsylvania volunteers and served as a private and non-commissioned officer in the campaigns of that regiment on the South Carolina coast, in Florida, and on the James river, in 1864, when as a part of the Tenth Corps it went up that river to Bermuda Hundreds. In the hard fighting of May 20th he received a severe wound which disabled him from further service. He was made a corporal June 27, 1862, a sergeant May 6, 1863, and was commissioned lieutenant after his wound, but was not mustered into that rank, being discharged on surgeon's certificate January 2, 1865. After the war he studied law with Thomas E. Franklin, of Lancaster, Pa., where he now has a large practice. He is one of the most eloquent talkers in the State, and will make a splendid canvasser through the State in the opening canvass. At his nomination the convention repeated much the same scene as when Marshall was nominated, all the enthusiasm being due to the effect of Brosius' personal character and influence.

New Post G. A. R.

There was a meeting of the soldiers of the late war at the Lawrence House on Saturday, 24th inst., to organize a post of the Grand Army of the Republic. Comrade Daniel Black was elected President; T. J. Van Giesen, Sec'y, and S. D. Irwin, Ass't Sec'y. T. J. Van Giesen was called upon to state the object of the meeting which he did in a clear manner, after which as preliminary they proceeded to elect a Treasurer. S. D. Irwin was elected Treasurer. A committee of three was then appointed to make arrangements for the mustering in of the Post in the near future. The President appointed the following committee: Wm. Lawrence, James Swales, S. C. Johnson.

The following soldiers united with the Post as charter members in addition to those heretofore on the list: J. J. Greenawalt, of Co. E., 10th Pa. Vols.

J. W. Greenawalt, Co. E., 67th Pa. Vols.

S. J. Setley.

J. C. Pettegrew, Co. G., 83d Pa. Vols.

S. N. Flowers, Co. M., 12th Pa. Cav'y.

Adjourned to meet at the call of the President, and that proceedings be published in the FOREST REPUBLICAN, National Democrat and the Commonwealth.

S. D. IRWIN, Assistant Sec'y.

Judge Agnew on the Independents.

The venerable Judge Agnew, named before the Independent convention, both for Governor and the Supreme Judgeship, last Saturday published a letter in the Philadelphia Evening Telegraph, in which he said:

"The power of the Independent ticket can be felt in the defeat only of the Republican party in the State. In the language of my letter to Mr. Mapes, 'This is inevitable, for the Democracy, who are wise as serpents, will take advantage of division.' Democratic success gives that party four years' lease of power in the State. This includes the Presidential election of 1884. Now, who taught you that the defeat of bossism, by a deep seated schism in the party, is not fatal disruption, or that the death of Republicanism in 1882 will be followed by a happy resurrection in 1883? You are not the first one whose foresight is not equal to his hindsight. You will find that many beside myself will regard your tragic heroism, simple suicide, to be punished by a stake through the body at the cross-roads.

Could you not tell us something of the other side—the humiliation of Republican defeat, the heart-burnings of clashing leaders, the bickerings and animosities of factions, the rejoicing of the victors, the transfer of the "spoils," the advantage of the possession of the arsenals, and armaments of war, and the strongholds of power, and the control which possession of the State gives over the election of 1884. Your quackery would use the knife, though you endangered the Union by the loss of Pennsylvania. It reminds me of a case of malpractice tried before us when a heroic surgeon extirpated the liver as a huge tumor. Did he kill the patient? Certainly. A Democratic victory in 1884 is a reversal of the Republican policy of twenty years—a danger to the doctrine of protection—to the system of national currency, the revival of free-trade notions, the resumption of Bourbonism, the renewal of Bossism in the South, and of many dangers which, when you were a common-sense Republican you once saw.
