None of Tionesta's denizens are rusticated at Chautauqua yet.

Geo. Holeman is the new "baggage masher" at the depot. He's a good one.

Derrickson & Co's mill near the depot opposite town is nearly ready to "steam-up."

Messrs. Charles Corbett and E. H. Darrah of Brookville, were doing our town yesterday.

Don't forget the fireworks next Friday night if the weather is fair. All invited to come.

Dr. W. W. Powell, whilom a citizen of Tionesta, was among his friends here on Monday.

Charlie Bonner is taking a jaunt through Tennessee, expecting to be absent two or three weeks.

Judge Reck sold his handsome little Alderney cow this morning for $125.00 spot cash, to Mr. A. B. Root.

Dr. Blaine of Pleasantville, accompanied by his sister, Miss Ina Blaine, spent a day with Tionesta friends last week.

Woodcock, the season for which "gamey" birds opened on the 4th, are scarce yet, the wet weather keeping them on the high lands.

Quits a number of our valued subscribers took occasion to remember the poor printer while celebrating the Fourth, for which we are duly thankful.

Miss Hill of Allegheny City, is the guest of Judge Proper's family. Mrs. S. A. Varner, daughter of the Judge, is also paying the family a visit.

Miss Kate Cobb, who is teaching a successful school in Chautauqua county, N. Y., paid her home and Tionesta friends generally a visit during the past week.

Mrs. J. W. Jamieson of Bradford, Mrs. C. M. Cott, of Columbus, O., accompanied by their children, are paying their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Roberts a visit.

The Fourth for 1882 is one of the things that were. Doubtless everybody has entirely recovered and feels better for the good time spent on the ever glorious 4th.

Mr. Chas. McCray, of Scotch Hill, paid Tionesta a business visit this week. He was looking hearty as usual, but reports Mrs. McCray in rather delicate health.

Unless something unlooked for happens the potato crop will be immense this season. New "murrphies" are selling at $2.00 per bushel now, but that price won't last long.

Our local shootists enjoyed the afternoon of the 4th cracking glass balls, although the weather was rather unfavorable. Messrs. Benedict and Sawrey, two of Pleasantville's crack shots took a hand.

In a week or ten days Charley Raisig, our boss wagon maker, will have a first-class carriage painter in town and those wishing anything in that line can be accommodated by making early application.

Mr. Samuel S. Sibbs, a Philadelphia gentleman, was in town this week on business connected with the estate of William Robinson, late of Jenks township, deceased, of which estate he was appointed administrator.

Prothonotary Greenlund, of Clarion, was a guest of Tionesta on Monday. From the appearance and pleasant manners of the gentleman it is little wonder that he is filling his second term as Prothonotary of Clarion county.

Dr. T. D. Dunn of Philadelphia, paid his old friends here a visit last week. It gives us pleasure to note the rapid progress of Mr. Dunn as a physician, and we predict for him a position in the front rank of the profession before many years.

Golden Days—monthly part—for July is making happy the hearts of its many readers. It is certainly a rare magazine for young readers; in fact it has no superiors. None of our young friends should be without it. James Elverson, Publisher, Philadelphia, Pa.

The National Tribune is a large and handsome paper devoted to the interests of the soldiers, and is published at Washington, D. C. Every old soldier should be a subscriber. Daniel Black is the authorized agent in this section and will show you a sample copy on application.

About two weeks of a "dry spell" would strike the farmers in the right spot. Grass is looking handsome and is ready to harvest, while the grain crop is just beginning to assume its loveliest golden tint. Crops generally, excepting corn which has a chance yet, are in splendid condition in this section.

We are pleased to note the success of Brother Dunn, of Minnesota, who is now the owner of three papers in his section, all of which are spicy and handsomely patronized. Mr. Dunn is putting himself on solid footing out there, and none will be more pleased to hear it than his many old friends and former Forest county patrons.

The boys who built the platform for the Fourth will give a dance on Friday evening next. The bad weather on the 4th spoiled their calculations, but they rented the Lawrence Hall and a good dance was had. A general invitation is extended for next Friday evening, and if the weather is favorable those who attend may expect a royal time. The platform is a large one, with a nice even floor, and a good band of music will be in attendance. Don't miss it if you want an enjoyable time.

The Mercer Dispatch, thus speaks of one of Forest's newly acquired citizens, who recently located at Stewart's Run: Ex-Prothonotary H. M. Zahniser, of Jackson township, is home from Forest county and will move his family to the farm he has recently purchased there next week. Mercer county never had a more courteous, obliging official or better citizen than Mr. Zahniser, and while his friends regret his departure, they extend to him their most sincere wishes for his future happiness and prosperity.

Judge Irwin presented us with a hunk of fine cut the other day which he informed us was raised and manufactured on the extensive farm of our old friend and subscriber, Lewis J. Kirk Esq., of Kirk's Mills, Lancaster county, Pa. It was the best we had set our jaws on for a long time, and much superior to the tobacco that is usually sold herabouts. If any of our dealers wish a good "run on fine-cut" we'd advise them to correspond with Mr. Kirk. They can always depend on getting a pure, unadulterated article.

Quite a severe accident happened at the new mill of John Cobb & Co., on Dawson Run, on Monday last, in which a man by the name of George Schrag was the victim. He was acting in the capacity of "off-bearer," that is, taking the boards away from the saw, and was rather green at this business. In reaching for a board his right hand came in contact with the saw and was badly lacerated. The fore finger was entirely cut off near the hand, and the second and the third, they were badly cut, while the tip of the little finger was taken off. The thumb was severely cut, but his physician, Dr. Morrow, thinks it can be saved. He is a German, having been in this country for two years, and was trying to get enough ahead to bring his family over.

The Fireworks.

The fireworks which were left over on account of the unfavorable night on the Fourth will be displayed to the public on next Friday night, July 14, from the head of Hunter's Island, directly opposite the town. All who wish to witness the display are therefore notified to be on hand. Should the weather be unfavorable, the display will take place on the first favorable night thereafter.

By ORDER OF COMMITTEE.

The following special dispatch from Harrisburg to the Derrick, under date of July 11, is of interest to our citizens: "Among the charters which have just been granted to the state department was one to the Tionesta & Clarion railroad company, which proposes to build a road from Eagle Rock to Fairmount, Clarion county, a distance of fifty miles. Its proposed course is through portions of Clarion, Venango and Forest counties. The capital stock is one million dollars and the principal office is to be in Philadelphia. The following is a list of directors: J. W. Jones, president; Geo. F. Tyler, E. A. Rollins, B. K. Jamieson, C. H. Clark, H. M. Sill and Joseph R. Trimble of Philadelphia; Archie N. Martin, Summit, N. J.; A. V. Post and Charles Pomeroy, New York."

Oil and Oil Developments.

Cherry Grove township, Warren county, where the big wells are being found, is still furnishing its big gushers, although within the past week a dry hole has been struck on lot 648, about one mile west of the original Mystery—646. This would indicate the extent of the belt in a westerly direction; the eastern extent, it is supposed, is already defined, and there seems to be no other outlet than a forty-five degree line through Forest county. The theory looks very plausible now from the fact that the Goldsborough well on lot 672 has come in and is doing 800 barrels. Striking a forty-five degree line from 646 to 672 it leads you directly to the Beaver Valley well, Forest county, on warrant 5211. This well is a mystery as yet. Drilling is still going on, the derrick is boarded up tight and a "No Admittance" sign tacked up. How long the company will keep us in the dark concerning their venture we know not, but if they make a good strike the public will doubtless know it before many days, we think. The present outlook for our county is most encouraging. Of course these are only theories, but theories are sometimes good, especially would it seem so when they are so readily accepted and acted upon by old and experienced operators. The Forest Oil Co., one of the most extensive in Oildom, is purchasing large tracts of land along the line extending into this county, and are paying good prices.

Mr. Cornwell is building a rig near Root & Watson's mill, Kingsley township, about 40 rods east of his former one, in which he had the bad luck to lose a bit, which has never been extracted, and the well had to be abandoned.

Hanock & Co. have the rig nearly completed for a well on George Watson's farm on Whig Hill, and it is thought drilling will commence in ten days or two weeks.

Wolcott & Co. are taking out rig timber for a well two and a half miles directly east of Tionesta, on S. N. Flowers' land. This well will "line-up" with the Beaver well, and Mr. Wolcott assures us that work on it will proceed with all due diligence.

From the Derrick of this morning we get the following report of the new gushers that came in yesterday: Clark & Goldsborough's well on division 10, lot 635, was drilled into the sand last night, and was drilled deeper to-day. This forenoon it began flowing at the rate of 100 barrels an hour. It will probably make 2,000 barrels or more the first twenty-four hours. On the next division east, No. 9, of 635, the Nickle oil company's well was drilled into the sand this forenoon. It did not indicate a large producer when drill penetrated the rock, but it improved as the well went deeper, and will make a strong 1,500 barrel well. The third gusher of to-day was C. H. Cramer's well on 635, on division 20. This is located near the north line of the lot and the south end of the division. It is a large well, showing for over 2,500 barrels the first twenty-four hours.

Local Institute.

A Local Institute will be held at East Hickory on Thursday and Friday, July 27 and 28. Arrangements have been made so that all teachers attending will be well cared for. There has been a demand for something better in the educational line in Forest county. All are interested in our schools. Come out everybody. Don't let anything keep you away. Come, let us reason together that we may know what we want, and learning what we need let us take steps toward securing the same.

J. E. HILLARD, Co. Supt.

Another Good Citizen Gone.

It becomes our sad office to chronicle the death of another of our old and tried citizens. Peter Lovell died at his residence in Kingsley township, on Sunday afternoon, July 2d, 1882, in the 54th year of his age. He had been in rather poor health for several months past but was still able to be about and attend to his farm and such other work as he had to do, and was not taken seriously ill or thought to be in danger until a very short time before his death, consequently his demise was a sad surprise to his many friends and acquaintances. His disease was complicated, but liver trouble was the immediate cause of his death.

Mr. Lovell was born and raised in Rockland township, Venango county, and came to this section some 15 or 18 years ago, occupying a farm near Oldtown for many years. During these years he always took an active interest in the affairs of the township in which he resided, and has many times been entrusted with important township officers, which he seemed to take pride in administering carefully and faithfully. He has always borne an unsullied reputation for honesty and fair dealing with his fellow men; socially he was the pleasantest of men, hence a splendid neighbor. While almost continually in public trusts, there are few men against whom less has been said. He leaves a wife, two married daughters and a son, besides a large circle of sympathizing friends to mourn his loss. His funeral took place from his late residence, being conducted by Rev. J. P. Hicks, and his remains were laid to rest in the Evangelical cemetery on Dutch Hill, July 4th. Peace to his ashes.

The Fourth.

In spite of the wretched weather, our citizens made a determined and successful effort to have a first rate celebration. The day was ushered in with the fring of the customary national salute, followed at 10 a. m. by the parade of the "Bumsquizzlers," 25 or 30 strong, and which, for grotesque conception of costume, and ludicrous delineation of character, eclipsed any thing of the kind we have seen for years, and was a decided success.

At 12 m. the regular procession of the day, headed by 39 of our fairest young ladies, representing our patron Goddess and her 38 states, in a finely decorated car, marched toward the place designated for having the further proceedings, when the rain, which had hitherto refrained, began to descend quite heavily, and it was decided to abandon the idea and to have the speeches &c., in the Court House, whither, at 2 p. m., on the ringing of the bell, so large an audience assembled that numbers were unable to gain admission.

Organization being effected, the Declaration of Independence was read by Dr. J. W. Morrow. The orator of the day, Miles W. Tate Esq., was then introduced by T. F. Ritchey Esq., President of the meeting, and for almost three quarters of an hour held the large audience in wrapped attention with one of his most eloquent and masterly addresses. One would hardly have thought Mr. Tate spoke over twenty minutes so entertaining and interesting was his oration. Fourth of July speeches are usually tiresome and little cared for, but sunk by no means the case in this instance, and judging from the frequent interruptions of applause Mr. Tate's audience would have listened another half hour with pleasure.

Owing to the continuance of the rain, it was deemed unadvisable to have the remaining out-door festivities, for which ample provision had been made by the committee in charge, and the exhibition of fire-works was thus necessarily postponed.

The music of the day was furnished by the Rescue Cornet Band, of Tidoute, in their usual and felicitous and well-remembered style, and to whom, and the various committees are due the thanks of all who experienced their earnest effort to make the day enjoyable. Much credit is also due the citizens of the surrounding country for the interest they took in the matter and the assistance rendered in making the celebration a success as far as it went.

A medicine of real merit, prepared by many leading physicians, and universally recommended by those who have used it, as a true tonic is, Brown's Iron Bitters.

Southern Epistle.

From a private letter from an old subscriber and friend—formerly a Foresterian—we call the following interesting reading. The letter is dated Camden, Alabama, July 3, 1882:

We are having our warm weather now; my thermometer shows from 105° to 102° every day; one year ago near it showed from 110° to 114° for about six weeks. Last year the corn crop was almost an entire failure here, owing to the lack of rain, and about half a crop of cotton owing to the depredations of the cotton worm. These failures cause much hardship among the blacks, whose whole living is corn, bacon and greens. Corn is now worth $1.25 to $1.50 per bushel; we get it from the west. I expect new corn in this week to be ground. We have the prospect of an abundant crop this year; farmers have already harvested the largest oats crop ever grown in this vicinity. The corn is far enough advanced to insure a good yield, and the cotton will be ditto if the cotton worm does not destroy it.

Oats are sown here in November and December, and cut in May; then the stubble is plowed under and cotton or corn planted in the same land, making two crops in one season. The usual time for planting corn is in January and February, and then cotton directly afterwards. Planters are turning their attention more to grain and stock raising; heretofore they have depended on their cotton crop almost entirely, buying their corn, bacon, &c., but they have found that it won't do, for two failures will just about break up any planter.

Yours sincerely, J. C. J.
