The narrow gauge railroad down the Tionesta valley is a sure go now. Surveyors are at work on the upper end of the creek and have got down as far as Balltown. It is confidently expected that in 90 days trains will be running up Tionesta Creek. The new strike at Balltown has given the project new life, and the company will push the work with all the vigor possible.

Jim. Welsh, whose interests in Balltown are destined to make him a wealthy man, came near being sent to eternity Saturday, by the accidental discharge of a Winchester rifle. The ball passed through his shirt just grazing the skin on his left side, and lodged in one of the rig timbers. We hope Jim will be more cautious in the future, and live long to enjoy his newly acquired fortune.

Messrs. Carson, Foreman, Shoemaker and Fones who built the platform will give a dance on Friday afternoon, Oct. 8th, at platform, and at the Lawrence House Hall in the evening. A general invitation is extended, and if the weather is favorable those who attend may expect a royal time. A good band of music will be in attendance. Don't miss it if you want an enjoyable time. Remember the day and date, Friday Oct. 8th.

Mr. T. D. Collins has in process of erection a splendid mansion at his Nebraska mills. We have not learned the exact dimensions, but understand it will be the largest and finest dwelling in the county. Mason Joyce has the stone work in contract, and is at present engaged thereon. No citizen of our county is better able than Mr. Collins to build such a residence, and we are glad to see him thus permanently improving the county.

Mr. Geo. Scott, of Marionville, was in town yesterday, and from him we learn the pleasing news that that town and vicinity is lively, and growing rapidly. Mr. Manderville's hub factory is about completed, much of the machinery being already in position. New dwellings are springing up rapidly, and everything indicates a lively growth for the place. We hope to hear of Marionville making application for a borough charter ere long, and we believe she will be able to do so in a short time.

The "Northern Lights" came down from Buck Mills on Saturday last and played with the Red, White and Blues of this place, but the rain stopped the game after five innings had been played, at which stage the score stood 11 to 6 in favor of the N. L.'s. There was considerable loud talk after the game was over, which finally ended in a bet of $15 to $10 that a club could be picked up in Tionesta that could get away with the Buck Mill boys, and a game was arranged for Saturday, Sept. 9, which will doubtless be a red hot one.

Let all the surviving comrades of the 83d regiment, as well as all old soldiers in this section, remember that the reunion of that famous regiment takes place at Warren next Tuesday, Sept. 5th. The fare has been greatly reduced for this occasion—only $1.40 for the round trip—and the trains run so conveniently that all should avail themselves of the opportunity of attending and having a royal time. The citizens of Warren are making extensive preparations to receive the veterans in splendid style, and all indications point to a grand, good time. Train leaves Tionesta at 7:24 a. m. and returns at 8:08 p. m.

For tremulousness, wakefulness, dizziness, and lack of energy, a most valuable remedy is Brown's Iron Bitters.

In answer to a telegram received from W. R. Dunn on Wednesday last, Mr. R. D. Hoskins departed Friday for Crookston, Minnesota, to accept a position on one of Mr. Dunn's papers in that country. While we regret to have Rob. leave us, we nevertheless can sincerely wish him the success which is sure to come to a young man of energy, ability and good morals in that bustling and rapidly growing country, which bill Mr. Hoskins admirably fills. Rob will be much missed by the young people of Tionesta, with whom he was a favorite, and of whom quite a number were at the depot to bid him good bye. The good wishes of all attend you, Rob.

Capt. Knox has in project a scheme, which, if carried out will make every man who takes an interest in it the owner of a building lot in Tionesta borough. His plan is, to buy of G. G. Sickles all the available lots owned by him—some 225 in all—and then sell tickets to that number, each ticket entitling the holder to one lot, the price of the tickets to be one hundred dollars. Of course, all the lots would not be first-class, but none of them but what would be worth nearly, if not quite that amount, and many of them would be worth double and treble that figure. On getting the choicest lots all would stand an equal chance in the lottery. Warantee deeds will be made to every purchaser of a ticket, and the one buying will be at no other expense save the recording of his deed. The Captain is working the matter up and has already a number of tickets spoken for, and as soon as the required number is disposed of the drawing will take place.

In these days of mysteries all kinds of plans are laid to get a sight into the tanks, the derrick, or even get within smelling distance of the rig, and some of the devices resorted to by the scouts are novel and cunning. One of the coolest we have yet heard of was played by Jim H. Hulings of this place, which took place at the Shannon well on Cooper tract recently. The well, as all know, has been heavily guarded, and to pass the "pickets" was next to impossible for an outsider to perform. Jim had been watching his chance for some time, until a teamster happened along with a load of lumber for the well. This was a bonanza for Jim, who offered the teamster five dollars to allow him the privilege of driving the lumber to the rig; the offer was accepted, and the two exchanged garments all round, and Jim drove in without molestation and took a good look at the well, tanks, and things in general. It seems when the public is bent on finding out a secret, that secret is bound to come out some way or other.

Brookston Brevities. Please allow us, through your columns, to congratulate Curtis on his entree into married life. Curt, I guess you were out "girling" that night as the boys accused you. How was it? Willie Smith, (the deaf and dumb boy of C. C. Smith's) the other day jumped on a broken bottle and cut one of his feet quite badly. He is doing well. His father had quite a serious attack the other night. Lewis Beebe is down sick. Another postoffice in Howe township. Name, "Pigeon." W. H. Frost, Postmaster. Conductor J. H. VanOrden, of the T. V. R. R., is to leave this section Sept. 1st, for his home at Liberty, N. Y. He will be succeeded by a Mr. Hardenburg. Have had a couple of picture men here the past week, and we have all had our "picters took." ANESHAM. Aug. 28, '82.

BALLTOWN'S BIG WELL.

No little excitement was created in oil circles last Friday by the report that the Grandin, Berry & Kelly well at Balltown had struck it big. Of course reports were exaggerated, but when "things kind 'o quieted down," as it were, the true state of affairs was soon ascertained. The very lowest estimate that has been placed on the well, is 60 barrels, and it ranges from that figure to 100 and 200. The well at present is thought to be plugged, and still the output of oil is large, and it would not be surprising to learn that the production would reach 500 barrels when let loose. But the owners can be satisfied if it reaches the lowest estimate, as they own nearly all the territory for miles around. The well is located about 200 rods up a small stream called Brush Camp, which empties into Tionesta creek a short distance below Balltown proper, and is considerably west of any other well put down on that property. The stream is so full of oil that one would hardly know whether it was an oil or water stream. The lumbermen at Buck Mills, three or four miles down the creek, are obliged to run out booms to keep the oil from mixing with the logs in the pond, which would indicate that there is no small quantity going to waste. That the well is a big one and that a new and, doubtless, prolific territory has been found there is no room to doubt. Those of the owners whom we have seen wear very pleasant countenances, and seem happy in the thought that at last they have struck the jugular vein.

Jas. Welsh, the contractor who put down the well was fortunate enough to secure a lease of 200 acres, which is close to the new gusher. Since the strike we understand he has been offered $50,000 for his interests.

AT BEAVER VALLEY, Grove, Hart & Co., expect to finish the well at which they are drilling some day this week. Of course no one knows what the prospects for oil are.

TIONESTA. The rig for the well above the creek bridge at this place is up and drilling is expected to commence this week. Two weeks will probably be occupied in finishing the well.

The Derrick this morning says that it was reported by several persons on the street last night that the wildcat well on the Payne farm, a mile and a half north of Tylersburg, Clarion county, would be opened to-day. Two of the owners came down to Tionesta, from Warren, last night, and it is presumed they were on their way to that point. The well is located near the north line of Clarion county, and about ten miles southeast of Tionesta.

Walt Whitman's Leaves of Grass.

The edition of Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass," about which so much has been written on account of the abandonment of its publication by a Boston firm in consequence of Mr. Anthony Comstock's allegations that it contained objectionable passages, has been issued by Rees, Welsh & Co., Philadelphia. The book contains so much true poetry, so many passages which stamp their author as a true poet of a high, though certainly not of the highest order, that it is a pity that Mr. Whitman's own good sense has not moved him long ago to cut out the "Children of Adam" words and lines, which add nothing at all to the beauty of his work and which certainly are not structural and vital to it. The author of such a poem as "O Captain, My Captain," sees himself unjustly and puts himself at a disadvantage most unnecessarily and most cruelly by flying in the face of decent public opinion. Walt Whitman's personality is too sweet and too sound and clear to be put by a mere piece of injudiciousness at so great a disadvantage as that under which a few expressions in his poems—wantonly and willfully kept there against the advice of his best friends—cause him to labor. He will not expunge them himself, and therefore he must pay the penalty; but after he is dead they will be blotted out of editions, for lovers of the good man will be sure to do for his fame that which he himself has—we are sure, foolishly refused to do for it.—Daily Graphic.

It will immediately free the head from all dandruff, restore gray hair to its natural color, and produce a new growth where it has fallen off. It does not in any manner affect the health, which Sulphur, Sugar of Lead, and Nitrate of Silver preparations have done. It will change light or faded hair in a few days to a beautiful glossy brown.
